Schwenk's Goal: Cut Spending

LowerTaxBurden, Bring In Industry

John J. Schwenk last night said that his primary goals in seeking the office of mayor are to halt the city's rising budget, reduce its bonded indebtedness, and restore the various municipal departments to optimum efficiency.

The results of these three primary goals, the Republican mayorality candidate declared, will be lower taxes, improved communnity service, and the creation of an atmosphere which will permit Kingston to claim its rightful place as the leading market center of the Mid-Hudson Valley, and as a highly attractive location for new industrial expansion.

Speaking to a group of Young Republican Club members at the Downtown Campaign Headquarters, Schwenk pointed out that the city's annual budget has increased $381,-579 in the past four years, and that its bonded indebtedness has climbed $204,000 in the same period.

Signs of Financial Ills

"The simultaneous rise in both budget and borrowing," Schwenk warned, "is symptomatic of serious financial ills in city government. Another indication of serious fiscal troubles is the fact that our budget has soared 15.5 per cent in four years, while the cost of living index has moved only six per cent higher.

"These are signposts of a bankrupt city, oppressive taxation, and a future devoid of municipal growth and opportunity," Schwenk declared.

Outlines Steps

If successful in his campaign for mayor, Schwenk said he will take the following steps to bring the city back to a healthy financial state, give the overburdened taxpayer relief, improve community services, and create an atmosphere favorable to industrial expansion:

1. Reduce the city's indebtedness by as much as $150,000 annually through road rebuilding

'horter Week nd $1.50-Hour linimum Urged

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The State AFL-CIO convention has urged the adoption of a shorter work-week, a higher minimum hourly wage and the repeal of two acts — one federal and one state—that regulate union activities.

At the closing session Wednesday the convention's 2,000 delegates passed resolutions favoring a 30-hour week with a $1.50 statewide hourly wage minimum. They also adopted a resolution calling for the repeal of the federal Landrum-Griffin Act of 1959 and the state's Condon-Wadlin Act of 1957.

Planes Get Microscopic Samples

To Make Detailed Test Of Big Bomb Features

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the next day or two, U.S. military physicists will begin plucking out of the thin air some highly tangible information about the composition and efficiency of the big nuclear bomb the Soviet Union exploded Monday.

The prediction of Weather Bureau experts that the edge of the contaminated mass of air from Monday's explosion should arrive over the Aleutian Islands and Alaska by tonight is of prime interest to weaponeers.

Entirely aside from the overriding question of radioactive contamination this will bring the first opportunity for detailed laboratory analysis of the various features of the explosion.

Picked Up by Planes

Microscopic samples of the debris from the detonation, captured by high flying planes, can be used to provide details not possible in the initial, quickly procured reports.

These first bits of information came from seismographic stations from highly sensitive microbraograph instruments which detect abrupt changes in air pressure, even at ranges of hundreds of miles — and possibly from such sources as submarine detection and observation.

For obvious security reasons, the military never discusses the location of particular ships at particular times. However, U.S. Navy atomic submarines roam to far distant places.

More Likely 30 Megatons

Soviet Premier Khrushchev had included the approximate date—the end of this month—in proclaiming last week his intention to test a 50-megaton bomb. The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported Monday's Soviet blast possibly was in the 50-megaton range but more likely was about 30 megatons.

Diem Asks More Sacrifices to Press Rebel War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —President Ngo Dinh Diem told his people today they have not done enough to press the war against the Communist rebels.

Calling for more sacrifices, he also told the armed forces in an order of the day they must "give greater consideration to social and psychological factors" in the campaign against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Diem's special messages were issued on the sixth anniversary of South Viet Nam becoming a republic and his election as the nation's first and only president.

He spoke out a day after the departure of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who after a survey for President Kennedy implied the South Vietnamese themselves should make a greater effort to combat the Communist menace.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor conferred for another hour today with Premier Sarit Thanarat, and U.S. Ambassador Kenneth T. Young reported they saw "many things the same way."

Taylor also got a secret briefing on the Southeast Asia Treaty Or at the war room of the U.S. Mili ganization's military capabilities at the war room of the U.S. Military Advisory Group's headquarters.

Troopers Crack Down on Cheats at Thruway Stations

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—State Police are arresting slug-slinging motorists who cheat mechanical toll-takers on the Thruway.

About 300 motorists have been arrested to date for throwing slugs, washers, foreign coins, buttons and incorrect change into machines at New Rochelle and Buffalo. The machines light up "thank You" in green, regardless of the donation.

Those arrested—"a cross section of America. We've caught doctors, lawyers, plumbers and housewives," said Lt. James H.

Could Use Caves Now If Fallout Hit Here

Government Not Paying Anything Yet for Equipment

Preliminary cost estimates for such improvements as would equip downtown limestone caves for use as fallout shelters can be made by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, but they are not expected to go beyond that form of assistance, it was learned today.

Third Ward Alderman Donald M. Hastings, chairman of a special Common Council committee named to deal with the shelter problem, said he learned the above in a letter from Col. George E. Pickett, a deputy division engineer of the corps, and was also informed that the caves, as described, could provide protection for 18,000 people.

It was also noted that planning for the Ulster County area could come under contract in six months, and it is expected that definite action in Kingston toward obtaining required equipment will be taken at the Nov. 13 Common Council meeting.

Could Use If Necessary

Under minimum conditions, the engineer reported, the caves, as described, could be used immediately as shelters.

"Our current mission," said the letter, "includes the location of all potential fallout shelters, the evaluation of the protection they afford against fallout, and preliminary cost estimates as to minimum necessary work to increase their habitability and capacity."

The division which he represents, he noted, "is responsible for executing the missions assigned to the corps of engineers in the Central Atlantic States." Kingston, he said, "is within the area of immediate responsibility of the New York District of the corps," with headquarters at 111 East 16th Street, New York.

Must Rely on Firms

Because of the large number of facilities to be investigated, he said, "approximately a quarter of a million in our area of responsibility, we must rely on architect-engineering firms for the actual surveys. The present planning would put the Ulster County area under contract within the next six months."

I do not think our architect-engineer will provide the detail information that you are seeking," Col. Pickett wrote, "although we will make the preliminary cost estimates for improvements. From the information you have provided, it is obvious that you already have a fallout shelter which could be used tonight if necessary, under minimum conditions, by up to 18,000 people. As you know, a facility which has normal structural integrity, and the desired protection factor against radiation, is a fallout shelter."

Proposes Equipment

"In studying the information provided by you," he said, "the priority improvement would ap-

Communist Crisis Builds

Showdown With China May Come Over Albania

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rumors are circulating in Western diplomatic quarters that the Soviet Union may force Albania out of the Communist bloc's Warsaw Pact.

These rumors are being carefully studied by U.S. and other Allied officials and suggest the possibility that the Communist camp is grappling with its worst internal crisis since 1948.

Could Be Vital Pawn

In its quarrel with Moscow, which broke wide open at the current Communist party meeting in the Soviet capital, Albania has the support of Red China. The struggle between the Soviet Union and Red China presumably has been intensified by the Soviet-Albanian dispute.

Albania, in itself, is relatively insignificant. But as a pawn in the struggle between Moscow and Peiping it could be critically important.

Authorities here are uncertain what the Chinese Communist leaders will do if Soviet Premier Khrushchev decides to expel Albania from the Warsaw Pact. But they think it possible that Khrushchev feels the time has come for a showdown with the Red Chinese.

May Slow Down K

Washington authorities doubt that the intensified strain between Moscow and Peiping will have any decisive influence on Khrushchev's strategy in dealing with the Western powers over the Berlin crisis. But they do not rule out the theoretical possibility that the dissension within Communist ranks might cause Khrushchev to go more slowly toward a showdown with the West.

The Soviet premier told the Moscow party congress last week that he would not insist on signing

Road Deaths Are 161 in State for September Month

New York State's traffic fatality record for last month was the lowest for September since 1948.

A total of 161 persons lost their lives on the state's highways last month, a reduction of 22 per cent from the 206 deaths in September 1960, according to the Department of Motor Vehicles, Albany.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults indicated several possible reasons for the reduction:

Dry weather may have helped, since deaths on wet roads were down 68 per cent from last year.

The Labor Day death record was 17, which is 35 per cent be-

U.S. Tanks Pull Back From Line

Crossing Viewed New Rights Test

BERLIN (AP)—U.S troops today moved across the border into East Berlin for the second straight day to reassert the right of Americans to move unimpeded.

The East German police closed the Friedrichstrasse crossing, but reopened it when calm was restored. U.S. tanks provided a backdrop for the convoy across the dividing line but were withdrawn later.

All Over In Hour

The situation flared up and died down in less than an hour.

The Friedrichstrasse crossing, known as "Checkpoint Charlies" to GIs, went back to normal and was again open to traffic by non-Germans. It is the only crossing between East and West Berlin that is left for the use of Americans and other foreigners.

The day's main incident at the checkpoint began when an American, driving a blue sedan with U.S. Army license plates, drove up unescorted seeking admittance to East Berlin. The East German police refused to admit him unless he identified himself, and he declined to do that.

Police Stand Aside

It was plain the unidentified American had been sent up to the border as a further test of the rights American authorities claim for movement about the city.

When the driver came back, three U.S. Army jeeps, carrying bayonet-armed American Military Policemen joined him for another try.

The East German police stood aisde to let this military group and the sedan go by.

After convoying the sedan into East Berlin the military policeman withdrew, and the sedan cruised around alone in the Communist-controlled sector. East German police stopped the car when alongside again and brought the car safely back.

American tanks at the border were revving up their motors, meanwhile.

Readied Heavy Chain

Then the East Germans, backed up by a show of 50 or more of their Vopos (people's police) prepared to erect a heavy chain across the frontier.

"We are closing the border until this nonsense stops," an officer of the East German police said.

The sedan placed itself between the returning jeeps and the convoy came back into West Berlin.

After the incident, the border

Will Call Hearings About Controlling Automobile Speed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The head of the legislative committee on highway safety says he will call public hearings on the suggested use of mechanical governors to control automobile speeds and reduce highway deaths.

Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau, committee chairman, did not take a position on the issue, however. Legislation on the governors is not expected in the 1962 session.

Red China in UN by '62, Paltz Professor Predicts

"Communist China will be admitted to the United Nations by the end of 1962," according to Dr. Willard Hogan, professor of Political Science at the State University of New York, New Paltz College. Dr. Hogan made this statement at this week's luncheon meeting of the Kingston Lions Club.

Prof. Hogan said that the United States faces a stormy future as far as keeping nations on our side in the cold war, from a public opinion standpoint.

"There will be influential people in the United States who will say, if Red China is admitted to the UN, then the United States will drop out," according to Prof. Hogan. However, "If the United States walks out, this in a sense will be turning the UN over to the Communists and would in turn expose smaller nations to Communist influence," he said.

Dr. Hogan said that the UN is in a serious crisis and the next few years will determine whether the UN is weakened or strengthened. "The success of the UN is important to the United States in regards to its national welfare and security," he said.

"There are many problems facing the UN today. The absence of a secretary-general and struggle over the question of independence for the secretariat is but one. The membership of the UN has doubled its original size over the years," he said, and further pointed out the question of responsibility among the newer and smaller nations, and whether or not they are in a position to carry out problems that they are voting on each day. Hogan said that it is quite natural for the newer nations to be suspicious of the west, as they have lived for years under colonialism. Thus, "they also regard the United States as they do western European nations."

However, while these countries do not like great power conflicts, it is Dr. Hogan's belief that if these smaller nations are exposed to Soviet principles through the UN, and if the United States can defend its principles, "then the United States will find the fight going our way."

Dr. Hogan is a foremost authority on the UN, and is a co-author of a book on UN affairs.

Governor Tells Farmers That Surplus Food Could Be Factor in Beating Reds

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, urging farmers to participate in his fallout-shelter program, says the nation's food surplus "could well be the determining factor in deterring Communist aggression."

Rockefeller said farmers had "an important role to play," and that "post-attack recovery of farm production is by no means a helpless proposition."

He told the 89th annual convention of the New York State Grange:

"You owe it to yourselves and to the future of America to inform yourselves about these problems and preparations."

He said in the speech Wednesday night that the state college of agriculture at Cornell and other agencies were conducting research on means of protecting farm animals and products from radioactivity.

Stockpiling of seed, preparations for artificial insemination of cows and protection of water supplies were included in the program for farm recovery in case of enemy attack, he said.

The Republican governor, who has been advocating construction of family fallout-shelters, told the farmers that "protection against radioactive fallout for you and your family is essential, regardless of how remote from population centers or military targets your home may be."

In the event of nuclear attack, Rockefeller said, "prevailing winds would be almost certain to blanket the entire state with radioactive fallout."

He said one of the nation's greatest assets "in preventing war is the fact that we have a two-year food supply and the Russians do not.

"Since a nuclear war would stop agricultural production on both sides for a significant period, our food reserve could well be the determining factor in deterring Communist aggression."

Rockefeller's civil defense program includes construction of shelters in state buildings and urging a voluntary home-shelter construction.

He will ask a special session of the Legislature Nov. 9 to authorize state aid for school districts that plan to build shelters in schools.

'59 Crash-Program Atmosphere Missing

Rockefeller is Employing Soft-Sell Approach, No Overt Campaigning

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —Several thoroughly frightened deer bounded off the runway into thick brush when Gov. Rockefeller's plane touched down at a northern Vermont airport this week.

Friday, the governor will give a talk in one of the most plush hotels on Miami Beach.

Get-Acquainted Trips

The Republican governor, a potential candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1964, is using a soft-sell approach in a growing number of states.

He is doing no overt campaigning. The governor has said he will make no political plans beyond November 1962, when he will be up for re-election. He is expected to win handily.

His out-of-state visits appear to be preliminary, get-acquainted trips.

The governor is meeting political leaders in each area, greeting individual voters wherever he spots them, addressing Republican gatherings and garnering a good measure of local newspaper, radio and television coverage.

He has evolved a basic, political speech in which he tells of inheriting from Democrats a red ink budget, high unemployment and a poor business climate. These, he relates, have been transformed under his administration to pay-as-you-go financing, decreasing unemployment and an improving economy.

Personal Touches Used

The governor continues to use to great advantage the personal touches that proved so effective in his 1958 election campaign.

Arriving at an airport, a hotel or meeting hall, he invariably stops to shake hands with the clusters of people who have been waiting to see him.

"I want to go over here and say hello to these people," Rockefeller said as he spotted three adults and a small boy waiting to see his plane off from Vermont.

He agrees readily to radio and television interviews during his travels and often will adjust his schedule to fit in a studio appearance.

In some ways, the trips are similar to the visits he made throughout the country in 1959. Then, he was trying to decide whether to bid for the GOP presidential nomination the following year. He eventually announced he would not contest Richard M. Nixon, then vice president, for the nomination.

Activities More Relaxed

But there are differences between the 1959 and 1961 visits. With the next nominating convention nearly three years off, the Rockefeller activities are more relaxed, lower-keyed and have the appearances of long-range, preliminary efforts rather than the crash-program atmosphere of 1959.

Rockefeller's current message is that the Republicans can win in 1964 through a fiscal and economic program that, as he describes it, sounds very much like his own.

He frequently is told by people he greets on the street that they would like to see him run for president.

"It's very nice of you to say that," is the enigmatic answer.

matter of Fact

In the springtime, birds fill the air with their mating calls. Fish have mating calls too, some of them not very different from bird calls. One of the most surprising sounds made by courting fish can best be described as a "wolf whistle." In competition, the fish who whistles loudest usually wins the lady.

Steak House Owner Pleads Innocent to Income Tax Charge

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph J. Talerico, 57, of Utica, has pleaded innocent to a charge of failing to file federal income-tax returns on more than $500,000.

Talerico, owner of the Talerico Steak House, was released in the custody of his attorney after his arraignment yesterday before Federal Judge Stephen Brennan.

Talerico was indicted on 22 counts by a federal grand jury. He was charged with failure to file returns on gross income of $513,000 between 1956 and 1959 and with filing fraudulent returns for cabaret excise taxes totaling $67,095.

In another action, Taddeus Mahonik of Oswego was indicted on a charge of concealing assets during bankruptcy.

Mahonik, who formerly operated a coin-machine business, allegedly concealed a car, a pickup truck and $2,750.

Widows Advised to Work, Not Hide in Their Sorrow

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"A woman behind closed doors is one of the most tragic things in the world," said Olive Clapper.

"I know widows who have lived for years behind locked doors.

"Their trouble is that they refuse to give to life. They just sit and nurse their sorrow. It's the easiest thing in the world to do. But it is destructive to a woman in every way—it can destroy her health, her personality, her very life."

"Mrs. Clapper's own world fell apart Feb. 3, 1944, when her husband, Raymond Clapper, the political columnist, was killed in a plane crash while on a wartime mission in the Pacific theater.

She tells the story of her happy marriage—and how she built a new life of service after her husband's death—in a warm-hearted and inspiring book, "One Lucky Woman."

Should Be Realistic

Since most wives today outlive their husbands, Mrs. Clapper believes they should face up realistically to the prospect of widowhood.

Here are some of her suggestions:

"1. Keep up any skills you have—just in case. A woman who was a secretary should keep a typewriter around—and use it. If she was a nurse before marriage, she should continue doing voluntary nursing.

"2. Even if a widow has no occupational skills , I'd advise her to find some kind of work outside the home—even if she doesn't need the money.

"Work is the great consoler. Get out among people and don't hide yourself in sorrow.

"3. Many women, after a period of widowhood, hope to remarry. But since men are dying faster than women, the chances of a woman finding a second helpmate are meager. It is better for her to face up to this—and adjust to the prospect of a single life.

"4. Don't impose yourself on your children, or try to run their lives—or the lives of your grandchildren."

Mrs. Clapper, attractive and happy at 65, has lived up to her own creed.

"I never had any resentment or bitterness over Ray's death," she recalled. "He died as he would have wanted to—and I feel he went out in glory."

His editors suggested that she carry on his column. Mrs. Clapper felt this task was beyond her powers, but she had had experience speaking before women's clubs and she filled her late husband's lecture engagements.

In the years since then she has busied herself writing and speaking and serving as an executive of CARE. Last spring, President Kennedy appointed her cochairman of the American Food for Peace Council.

A career of service has widened her horizons, left her no time for useless mourning.

Looking back across a crowded lifetime, Mrs. Clapper repeated the lines with which she closed her book:

"I'm convinced that love, real love, never dies. It follows the beloved forever."

She feels she has, indeed, been one lucky woman.

Onondaga Urges Troopers Probe Falling Lumber

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) —The Onondaga County District Attorney has asked State Police to investigate what he termed an "almost too accidental" accident at a construction site.

A key witness in a conspiracy case involving an alleged brothel operator was struck on the head Tuesday by a falling piece of lumber at the site of a 14-story apartment building under construction.

Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Ryan called in State Police to determine whether what appeared to be an accident actually was an attempt to kill Wheeler Freeman, 46.

Ryan said Freeman, who was fired from his job with the Onondaga County Maintenance Department shortly before he testified before a grand jury, had taken the construction job against the advice of his attorney.

The grand jury, which probed vice and gambling in the Syracuse area, last May indicted Nicholas Rowe, 54, a former hotel owner, on charges of conspiracy and contriving a lottery.

The indictment charged that Rowe conspired with Freeman and Levotion Bell, 28, and that Rowe received $5,000 from them and others to protect Bell from arrest while he operated a brothel.

Rowe has not been tried.

Bell was convicted last March on a charge of living off the proceeds of prostitution. He was sentenced to serve two years in jail.

Ryan said Freeman told him he saw a shadow as the board fell. The blow made him unconscious.

Police said no one at the site knew how the board fell.

Thinks Reds Will Institute New U2 Charge—in Space

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A leading missile scientist forsees what he termed a "hide-and-seek" space war unless there is a stepped up program in U.S. military space weapons.

Dr. Walter R. Dornberger, vice president and chief scientist of Textron's Bell Aerosystems Co., in Buffalo, said Wednesday night that the program should include the development of a nuclear bombardment system from space vehicles.

Dornberger, who headed Germany's V-rocket projects during World War II, predicted that the Russians would institute another U-2 incident: "'when they ready... this time in space."

The target, he said, might be one of our operating satellites, including the reconnaissance, weather communication, detection or interception phases. With the present American weapons system, there would not be much the U.S. could do about it, he said.

"Let nuclear bombs in satellites circle the globe in all directions, escaping detection by varied altitudes and positions," he told a dinner - meeting of the Empire Post of the American Ordnance Association.

IBM Speeding Up Way to Load Tape Into Computers

NEW YORK (AP) — International Business Machines Corp. has developed a system of loading magnetic tape that speeds the flow of informations from electronic computers.

IBM said Wednesday the system, called hypertape, uses tape reels packaged in cartridges. The operator places the sealed cartridge in a unit and pushes a button.

Magnetic tape is the most common form of getting information into and out of computers.

Warren C. Hume, president of IBM's data processing division, said the progression from standard tape to hypertape was comparable to the transition from vacuum tube to transistor computers.

IBM said the Hypertape system enabled the IBM 7074 and 7080 data processing system to read or write up to 340,000 numbers of 170,000 letters in one second.

Art Week Proclaimed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —Gov. Rockefeller, a noted collector of modern art and sculpture, has proclaimed Nov. 1-7 American Art Week in New York State.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 26, 1961

TOLL ROADS' PLUS VALUE

As the United States interstate highway system gets more and more finished mileage into operation, motorists may be struck increasingly by the fact some super roads are free and some charge tolls.

Already, some organizations serving motorists are declaring that toll roads should be free, that drivers should not be fed into "toll traps" by the free system.

Some 2,270 miles of toll roads, bridges and tunnels have been drawn into the federal network. Together they represent a bit more than five per cent of the total 41,000 miles planned.

What can be said about this toll road web?

The big thing is that it is a remarkably safe, superbly engineered system of roads in being, which can take the motorist much of the way from Maine to Washington, D.C., from New York to Chicago, and across substantial sections of Florida, West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Most of these roads have been in service for at least four to six years, and some longer. That means they were already carrying traffic when the federal system was set up in 1956. No other roads have been in existence to do the heavy duty they have done.

In the interstate system, though 60 per cent of it is in some stage of development from planning to pavement, few usable long stretches exist to drive on. A notable exception is the piece running westward from Detroit to within 90 miles of Chicago.

Contrast this with the roughly 500 toll road miles in New York, 240 in Ohio, 200 in Kansas, 155 in Indiana, 118 in New Jersey. If the Pennsylvania turnpike's slightly more limited engineering standards had met federal system requirements, another massive 470 miles would be incorporated. Despite its exclusion, this turnpike is a thoroughly modern highway, one of the most heavily traveled in the nation, with some parts having served mre than 20 years.

Federal authorities consider it a foolish waste of money to parallel major toll roads with free routes. The 5 per cent of the interstate system which the turnpikes represent is 5 per cent that will not cost U.S. taxpayers.

Admittedly, the user-drivers pay tolls, but obviously they have generally been more than willing to cough up the money to gain time, safety and peace of mind on superior roadways.

Naturally it would be nice if the whole system were equally free, but U.S. road officials estimate it would cost between $5 billion and $6 billion to pay off revenue bonds which financed nearly all toll road costs.

Fair amounts of state funds were used in a few instances, and these sums also would have to be reimbursed.

The prospect of federal purchase does not seem strong now, though the issue stays alive and may get hotter. Whatever the ultimate action, the motorist can be grateful the toll roads are here.

Let him direct any anger he might feel about their charges toward those in government who took so long to see the need for a vast national network.

The toll road sponsors merely moved in to fill part of that need.

The Berlin issues should be settled in court like any other legal matter, says Arthur Larson, a presidential advisor in the Eisenhower administration. We can just see Khrushchev agreeing with this.

Even the brightest children have difficulty learning, says a psychologist and child analyst. This should comfort a lot of parents at report card time.

Teamster President James Hoffa denies any association with Communists. Much of his association has been with courts and Senate investigating committee.

THE OBLIGATION TO INTERVENE

The great Spanish historian, Salvador De Madariaga has written an article for the Mexican newspaper, "Excelsior," on the theme, "not to intervene against Castro is to intervene in his favor." This is undoubtedly a correct historical postulate. Quite apart from the fact that it was an American policy to assist Castro before he seized power, this country has failed to do a single thing to protect its interests or its dignity vis-a-vis Cuba since Castro has come to power.

The defense of the policy of inaction can be that the United States will not permit Khrushchev to select the theatre of the opening of the next war. Certainly we should prefer not to have that war start within 100 miles of American territory. If this is our strategy, then it is not unsound, but if our policy is based upon the assumption that we intervene against capitalist dictators but not against socialists of any kind, then we have erred.

The question arises as to how extensive a program should intervention be. Madariaga says:

"The rule that states must not interfere in the internal affairs of other states has always been tacitly accepted as a matter of common sense. But how far was it respected in actual fact?"

Intervention has been usual throughout history, the United States justifying its interference in Latin America by the moralistic Monroe Doctrine. Madariaga cites as an example of automatic intervention this example:

"Now-a-days, even those events that seem most strictly national may reveal themselves world-wide in their import. The general election that brought Hitler to power was a German internal enough (sic) event: it cost millions of dead to half the world outside of Germany.'

Madariaga goes further to say:

"The principle of non-intervention therefore, has collapsed under the mere pressure of the new solidarity which has made all of the nations one single world community. For this reason, intervention is inevitable — at any rate in fact, even when such a fact is not officially recognized. For instance, France, Britain and the U. S. A., having decided not to intervene in the Spanish civil war in favour of the Spanish Republic, and by the mere fact that they didn't, did actually intervene in favor of the rebels. Or again, if the U. S. A. does not intervene in Cuba against Castro, it will in fact intervene passively in his favour and therefore, alongside China and the Soviet Union, which are intervening there actively."

There can be no question as to the logic of Madariaga's conclusions. Whereas Soviet Russia has developed a technique for intervening in the internal affairs of every nation by means of an indigenous political party, the Communist Party, which publicly establishes its loyalty to the Kremlin, the democratic countries have developed no technique save war. In a word, the West has created no new method, no new concept, no new technique to meet the absolutely new and different method of the Soviet countries.

Most of the Soviet's success, particularly in a country like Cuba, may be attributed to the development of a new method of intervention through an indigenous political instrument. Neither Napoleon nor Hitler was able to develop what is tantamount to a permanent Fifth Column. Tallyrand was successful in corrupting governments in the interest of Napoleon, but Lenin and Stalin did not bother to corrupt govenments. They intervened by penetrating governments; by succeeding in putting native Communists and fellow-travellers in advantageous positions.

The technique of penetration by the Communists is brilliant and has best exhibited its power in Cuba, although Red China and East Germany are splendid examples of what can be done by fanatical native sons. Hitler attempted to establish a Bund in this country for purposes of intervention but he failed to recruit more than a small corps.

Soviet Russia now has as a base a country, a government, with a seat in the United Nations and with historic and traditional influence throughout Latin America. Soviet Russia at first attempted to establish such a base in the internal affairs of the United States in Mexico.

It does not matter, even slightly, whether Fidel Castro is an idealist or a scoundrel. What does matter is that the Soviet Union has established a base for intervention in the United States and that this country has adopted a policy of non-intervention at the wrong time and concerning the wrong place. The excuse is that we shall choose our own time and place. This is problematical because Soviet Russia is intervening everywhere, all the time, as a usual technique of the permanent revolution. Thus far, we have found no answer to the Russian method.

Couple Takes Issue With Medical View of Allergies

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Bouquets and Brickbats: From a husband and wife who "have been working with the local mental health clinic for 10 years." Without editing or correction, this is what they write:

"We would like to take issue with you with regard to your recent article on Children's Allergies. . . . Too often these allergies get labels like asthma, broncities etc. and are never explored on a psycosomatic basis. You will find an ever increasing number of people dealing with children who feel these children are almost without exception rejected by the mother, mother substitute and, many times, the father also.

"With parents made aware the child very often gets well after a session of therapy at which time the child is allowed to talk out his hostilities, express them through play materials and given strength to compete in his environment."

I hope this doesn't arouse the "hostilities" of the allergists. Or cause them to shut up shop and refer their practices to the "psycosomaticists."

From a "professional in the field of beauty culture for the past 22 years":

"You seem to dislike the beautician and blame her for all the falling hair, bad scalp conditions or anything that is wrong with the hair or the outer-top of the head. . . .

"I feel that I, and anyone in my profession, can say the doctor is wrong and is not truthfully answering the questions asked of him. . . .

"Any doctor knows the hair has to be nourished by the blood to be healthy and your blood is within the body and can reach your hair strand only by way of the hair follicle. The blood will feed or starve your hair and it lives or dies or falls out from a condition within the body. . . .

"Old age and falling hair, or loss of hair, go together, it is the natural way of nature the same as the leaves falling from the trees in the fall. . . .

"The chemicals used in permanent waving and hair coloring today are being tested constantly and have been improved 100 per cent in the past few years. . . . The beautician today knows her product. There is no room for the beautician who guesses any more than for the old quack who lost many a life."

Deap lady, this "old quack" never blamed all disorders of the hair and scalp on permanents, hair dyes, etc. He merely called attention to the increasing incidence of falling hair and even baldness in women who use these products whether on their own or in beauty parlors.

As a matter of fact, I am delighted with your recognition of the important role of the blood in the nourishment and maintenance of the hair follicle.

But won't your expression of this importance make it difficult for you to use or recommend hair tonics? At least until you can rub something on the tree to prevent leaves from tumbling down in the fall?

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The United States has only itself to blame for the nakedness of American defenses against missile-carrying enemy nuclear subs.

FIRST OF ALL: Basic research on the sea has been neglected for two decades. Now, U. S. scientists trying to solve antisubmarine warfare problems don't know the fundamentals.

They aren't sure just how sound acts in the ocean. They don't know the sea currents precisely. They don't know the exact characteristics of plant and fish life. They don't know the different thermal layers of the ocean or the precise effects these layers have on electromagnetic waves.

This is knowledge that should have been built up over 20 years. Without it, U. S. experimenters have to work almost by trial and error. They try one thing. If it doesn't work, they try another.

An excellent program of basic research has been down on paper for two years. If it's actually carried out, it should bear real fruit in 12 to 16 years. It will be a big help in six to eight years.

MOST OF THE HEAVY SPENDING for antisubmarine warfare research and development the past few years has not gone into basic research. The real money has gone for the cut-and-try tinkering. Tinkering is costly.

It leads into a lot of blind alleys. It is slow. It leads to half answers.

Tinkering doesn't point to the real breakthroughs that will make the U. S. safe against atom-powered subs armed with ballistic missiles fired underwater.

But having started too late, the U. S. is now trying to make up the lag with huge expenditures. This leads to waste in buying equipment. It leads to buying systems that are quickly obsolescent.

SECOND: THE U. S. ANTI-SUBMARINE defense program is hit-and-miss and disorganized.

Part of the program is under one department, part in another; some pieces are in one section, some in another; part in this industrial firm and part in that, in dozens of little bits, pieces and boxes, with little co-ordination and no overall leadership.

The program therefore limps and shuffles along aimlessly. Good work done in one laboratory isn't tied in with work done in another.

When a promising lead does come to light there's no ASW czar to jump in and overthrow routine, transfer a shock force to take advantage of a possible breakthrough.

The Navy learned the value of a ramrod task force when Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover took over its nuclear sub program. The Navy learned it again when Rear Adm. William Frances Raborn Jr. successfully pushed through Polaris ahead of schedule. These men made sure nothing stood in their way. The Army learned the same lesson in the Manhattan project which developed the atom bomb.

These lessons so far have not carried over into the antisubmarine warfare program.

THE SOVIET UNION hasn't made the same mistakes. For more than a decade, Soviet ships have been roaming the seas in numbers gathering basic knowledge. They've been studying the ocean bottoms, currents, the propagation of sound. The Reds have been stressing basic science.

Whether or not the Soviet Union is now ahead of the U. S. in ASW, the Reds have for this long period been building up the basic knowledge they require for a breakthrough.

Indications are that the Reds have this research assigned to a task group. They've set up a system by which all work in this field is quickly correlated for possible breakthroughs.

There is a danger the Reds will find this breakthrough first and be able to detect and effectively defend against Polaris type subs before the U. S. can do the job.

Think for a while of what that will mean.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 — Somebody has taken away this month at least $143 million of prospective tax receipts from Uncle Sam—maybe more—and the public doesn't know anything about it.

All that the American people know is that there has been some kind of wage increase in the steel industry which took effect on October 1. They haven't been told that this means additional wage costs of somewhere between $100 and $150 million on an annual basis—and some estimates run as high as $200 million.

Likewise, in the auto industry, about $125 million now have been added to costs by the new wage contracts.

Taken together, this is an increase in expenses in these two industries of about $275 million. Hence, the Federal government, which might have gotten 52 per cent in the form of taxes on profits from the corporations—or about $143 million—now loses that sum.

Where does it go? Most of it goes to individuals who pay a relatively low income tax, and they spend it in large part for consumer goods and pay higher prices for many of their necessities.

Another $132 million that could have been utilized by the companies to build plant and equipment—projects that would have really stimulated employment—is not going to be available to the private companies that earned it. This trend is what is worrying businessmen these days.

But sooner or later, the American people will have to begin worrying, too, because Uncle Sam's tax receipts are going to be steadily diminished if such costs are regularly added in industry and there is no corresponding "benefit" obtained. "Productivity" is the word often used to describe such a "benefit." But "productivity" doesn't come primarily out of harder work or longer hours. It comes out of new machinery and more "automation," and this takes money to purchase. It is precisely the additions to this reservoir of funds in American industrial companies that are being steadily prevented.

Follow Pattern

Some economists have worked out estimates of what would happen to government tax receipts and to funds available to private companies for expansion if the wage rates and benefits secured this very month in the steel and auto industries were extended throughout the industrial system. For, in the past, the unions in the steel and auto industries have furnished a pattern for other unions to follow.

If, in all corporate industry, the same scale of wage increases is applied as the average of those emerging from the October 1 pay raise in steel and and the 1961 wage contracts in autos, it is estimated that $2.9 billion would be added annually to corporate wages and salaries. Indeed, approximately $4.5 billion would be the total increase in corporate employment-costs if "fringe benefits" are included.

Here is a $4.5-billion item which must come out of profits. Hence, Federal taxes would drop $1.8 billion. This takes into account an offset of about a half-billion dollars in income tax receipts from individuals, so the net loss to the Treasury would be at least $1.8 billion.

What could Uncle Sam do with $1.8 billion? All expenses could be paid for the operations of Congress, the executive offices, the Commerce Department, the Interior Department, the Justice Department, and the whole judiciary system.

Sees Investment Drop

But worse than all this loss in Federal taxes is the impact which the new wage costs would have upon the future of American business expansion. Internal corporate funds for investment would drop from $30.3 billion in 1960 to $28.1 billion unless stockholders were to accept a cut in the wages of their money, usually called "dividends." If anything like that happened, it would mean that companies would have a hard time raising money for expansion except at very high interest rates, and this in turn would cost Uncle Sam more in tax receipts because interest payments are a deductible item on taxes.

If investment funds are to be diminished, the chances of increasing employment in America wil be reduced considerably. "Growth" and steadily increasing national output would become a myth. Meanwhile, Western Europe's rate of growth far exceeds the American rate of the last ten years.

The truth is that the economic system of this country cannot absorb these extensive increases in wage costs and still accumulate enough profits to buy the desired amount of new plant and equipment. That's why the heavy-goods industries, which are today the source of so much unemployment, have been hurt in recent months. That's why business is worried. For labor-union leaders show no signs of learning that they are killing the goose that lays the golden eggs.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

James Belefas, who owns one of the fine old stone houses, corner John and Crown Street, spoke to me several times about the preservation of these homes. If you will notice that on the four corners of John and Crown Streets, are four well preserved stone houses, all having historic importance to Kingston, Ulster County and New York State history.

If some sort of ordinance could be written which would preserve these old stone houses, Belefas feels it would prevent someone in the future from ever tearing or taking them down for some business enterprise.

As a rule people who buy and live in these historic homes, cherish them, beautify them, and try to carry along the historic pattern as close as possible. I am sure many visitors to Kingston who go through the uptown section, and see these stone buildings on each corner, admire them and ask about them.

With more cars on the road, there are bound to be more gas stations, and some day in some way, an organization may seek the site from future owners. I understand they already approached Mrs. Belefas. The proposition was so good it was difficult to refuse, but Mrs. Belefas held on to her home because she cherishes it.

I do not know how city ordinances of this type are made, but anyway while we are still sentimental about these historic homes, lets encourage the owners to keep them, and prevent them from being torn down, lets put it on paper.

A number of interesting houses, perhaps not as old as these, have been demolished, and black top covers the spot. In some cases owners have been actually forced into selling by sweet tak about improving the location.

The little red school house is gone, with it the books, bells, desk-seats etc., James Belefas who bought the old Port Ewen School house at 13 Broadway, gave the new Port Ewen school on Moutain View Road, the old bell.

It is now displayed in the foyer of the new school, with a metal plaque reading: "For over 60 years, this bell summoned pupils to school No. 13, Broadway, Port Ewen.

It was thoughtfully presented to the Port Ewen school, by Mr. James Belefas of Kingston, N. Y."

Belefas had a chance to sell that bell, immediately after he bought the old structure, but did not. I repeat this story again because Belefas did not go to that school, but he saved the bell for generations who are in no way connected with Mr. and Mrs. Belefas.

I feel local history is very important, and especially if it can be weaved in with state, national and perhaps world history. I would like to see a good copy or print of "The Landing of Columbus" by John Vanderlyn, (1775-1852) Kingston born artist, in every one of our most modern million dollars schools.

A really good copy appeared, right in our Kingston Daily Freeman, of Saturday, October 7, 1961, on page 6. Let it hang on the wall. It can be used when studying Columbus.

Visits to the Senate House Museum, can be encouraged to study our Kngston-born historic portrait artist. It will encourage interest in art and in local and world history.

Someday the students who sit in Kingston class rooms, will visit Washington, D. C., and go to the entrance of the capitol, and in the rotunda, see the life-size figures, of this "Landing of Columbus" which took four years to paint by John Vanderlyn. He later died broke in Kingston.

Conferences Are To Be Proposed On U. S. Economy

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regular conferences of top civilian and government leaders to chart annual goals for the entire American economy soon will be proposed to President Kennedy by his labor-management advisers.

The idea is to suggest limits and guidelines in such sectors as government spending, business investment and profits and wages and prices, in the hope the recommendations will be followed to insure stability and steady growth.

The plan is to put more persuasiveness behind the "hold the line" appeals voiced by Kennedy and his recent presidential predecessors while still avoiding a controlled economy.

While everyone would remain free to make his own economic decisions, it is felt that all would be somewhat more morally bound to act responsibly within the publicly stated economic goals.

The proposal for such annual goal-setting conferences is understood to be contained in a draft report of the wage-price subcommittee of Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

It is one of several sets of recommendations due to be submitted to Kennedy when the 21-man advisory group, made up of public, business and labor representatives, meets here again late next month.

The advisory panel, headed by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, has four other subcommittees readying reports for the White House on such subjects as "free and responsible collective bargaining and industrial peace," "economic growth and unemployment," "productivity and higher standards of living" and "policies to insure American products are competitive in world markets."

$540 Billion National Gross Is Predicted

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—United States Treasurer Elizabeth Rudell Smith has predicted a $540 billion gross national product for the fourth quarter of this year.

The figure represents an increase of $39 billion over the first quarter, she told a women's club luncheon yesterday. The figure was 516 billion in the second quarter and $526 in the third quarter.

Measures of the Kennedy administration, she said, pulled the country out of last year's recession. The measures "gave added strength to the natural recovery forces in our economy."

"Our recovery still is moving strongly ahead," she said, "and is expected to make further gains next year."

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John Boles, who can smile when he is called "the Elvis Presley of the stone age," was back in Hollywood this week for a sentimental visit.

The tag was hung on him recently by a Houston newspaperman. Boles takes it in good humor. In fact, he smiles all the way to his oil wells.

Stranger to Filmland

Hollywood hasn't seen much of John Boles in recent years. He is remembered as a robust, devilishly handsome leading man who could lead desert wars with his baritone ("The Desert Song), act fatherly to Shirley Temple ("Curly Top," "The Littlest Rebel") or husbandly to a host of anguished actresses (Rosalind Russell in "Craig's Wife," Barbara Stanwyck in "Stella Dallas," etc., etc.)

He returned here to help celebrate another of his old tearjerkers, "Back Street."

Boles was the apex of the triangle that included Irene Dunne and Doris Lloyd in the 1931 version. Charles Boyer, Margaret Sullavan and Nella Walker played the same game in the 1941 remake.

Now Ross Hunter, the noted exhumer of tried-and-true movie plots, has devised a 1961 version with John Gavin, Susan Hayward and Vera Miles. Boles was invited to help beat the drums and to attend tonight's premiere.

"The picture business has changed," said the former actor, now silver-haired but still strikingly handsome.

Says Enjoyment Gone

"Everyone seems to be frantic these days. All the fun appears to have gone out of making movies. In the old days, we used to enjoy ourselves."

Boles has carved himself a new career in the oil business and operates from San Angelo, Tex. He keeps a Beverly Hills apartment, but spends most of his time amid the oil fields of Texas and Louisiana.

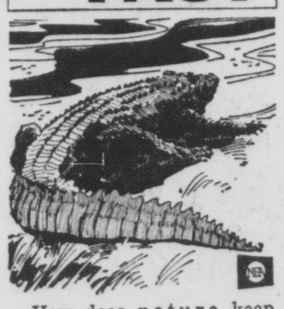
"Yes, I saved my money," he remarked. "At least they won't have to be giving any benefits for me. When my career started to slow down, I didn't want to sit around. So when the opportunity came to get into the oil business, I jumped at it."

Gloria Swanson brought Boles to films in 1927 for the silent 'Loves of Sunya." His booming oice made him ideal for a leading man when sound came in.

Arsenal Jobs to Open

Watervleit Arsenal has announced a job vacancy for the position of training instructor to instruct apprentices in academic and vocational subjects related to the machinist trade. Subjects to be taught include English, social sciences, mathematics, drafting and shop theory. Salary range for the position is $5,355 to $6,345 annually. Applicants must have completed a four-college course and have a degree with a major in physical sciences, mathematics or education. Applicants are requested to contact Civilian Personnel Office, Watervleit Arsenal, Watervliet.

matter of FACT



How does nature keep down the numbers of an animal species that few dare to attack? She always manages. Take the crocodile. About the only creatures that attack adult crocodiles are man and the hippopotamus. But the crocodile is his own enemy. When fish are scarce, the male crocodile dines on the younger generation.

Result of Syrian Revolt

See Nasser Shorn Of Some Strength

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Syrian revolt has touched off a wave of arrests and reorgarization in Egypt that diplomatic sources say is more widespread than President Nasser has admitted publicly.

Nasser even may have been forced to share some of his power with two long-time associates.

The arrests extend into the army and air force.

Nasser's government has admitted the arrest of 40 civilians and confiscation of property of 167 more. The government said they were reactionary obstacles to Nasser's goal of Arab socialism.

Damascus newspapers reported property was seized from more than 1,000 persons, most of them Syrians and Lebanese. And qualified informants say that at least 16 air force officers have been confined and possibly 100 army officers have been arrested or dismissed.

The army officers are mainly relatives or close allies of the wealthy civilians picked up on Oct. 17.

Censorship of outgoing dispatches has prevented Cairo correspondents reporting these additional arrests or other evidences of unsettled conditions in Egypt.

Some informed observers in Cairo believe that in moving to squelch any potential challenge to his regime, Nasser has been forced to surrender some of his power. These sources see a triumvirate emerging, with Nasser still very much on top but forced to trim his sails as he did in the first years after the revolution, when he had to work through a revolutionary officers' council.

The other two members of the triumvirate are both veterans of that council: the minister of treasury and planning, Abdel Latif Boghdady, and Interior Minister Zakaria Mohieddin.

Teller Takes Walk As Robber Shows WithDemandNote

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Bank robbers here customarily present the teller with a note demanding money.

Wednesday teller Margy Prepoutse beat the system. She simply walked away from her window at a Bank of America branch when a bandit flashed a pistol and shoved his note at her.

"Come back, come back," whispered the holdup man hoarsely.

Miss Prepoutse kept on walking.

Age No Drawback As Roomies Scuff Over Floor Duty

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — Catalino Sile and Emiliano Bibiline, both Filipino nationals, had been roommates at Hilo Hospital for 10 years.

They shared the chores of keeping their quarters.

Early this week, Sile asked Bibiline to mop. Bibiline said it was not his turn. They had words.

Bibiline bopped his roommate with his cane. Sile retaliated. Nurses pulled them apart and moved them into separate quarters.

Sile is 91. Bibiline is only 89.

Norman Rockwell Weds

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Norman Rockwell, noted magazine cover artist and illustrator, and Miss Mary L. Punderson, a retired teacher, were married Wednesday in St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

It was the third marriage for Rockwell, 67. His first marriage ended in divorce in 1930. His second wife died two years ago.

The bride, 65, retired in 1959 after teaching English at Milton Academy for 37 years.

BIRDMAN—John Davies, 28-year-old schoolmaster, pedals furiously to get his "helipede" airborne at Hastings, England, but it wouldn't fly. Best Davies could do was to get that 20-foot rotor over his head spinning furiously.

GO, EAST, YOUNG RUSSIAN—In the 19th century, Americans were advised to seek their fortunes in the lands of the west. Today, the citizen of Russia is encouraged to populate the vast expanses to the east. Map above shows that the most significant increases in Russian population since 1939 (now at 209 million) have been in the far east, Siberia and south of the Urals. The increases took place in urban areas while the rural population remained nearly constant. In the west (European Russia), the total population stayed fairly stable, with rural losses offsetting urban gains. Data from Population Reference Bureau, based on figures from the 1959 U.S.S.R. census.

Woman Tells Troopers She Jumped Into Lake

A 39-year-old Cresskill, N. J. woman, discovered Wednesday night, soaking wet and lying on Route 28, was taken to Kingston Hospital where she told state troopers that she must have emerged from a lake at Pine Hill following a suicide attempt.

Mrs. Erna Bryant, taken to the hospital by a motorist, was described in good condition today. She was treated for exposure.

According to Trooper John Salters, Mrs. Bryant told him she had been despondent due to family difficulties and decided to jump into a lake she remembered in the Catskills. She took a bus from New York City to Fleischmanns but found the lake dry, Mrs. Bryant told troopers.

Continuing her search for another lake, she took a taxi to Pine Hill where she walked into a lake near Route 28, Mrs. Bryant said.

Mrs. Bryant told Trooper Salters she did not remember how she got to the hospital or how she emerged from the lake. Her pocketbook was found in the lake early today, troopers said.

General Who Put Menderes Out Is Elected in Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Gen. Cemal Gursel, chief of the military junta that overthrew ex-Premier Adnan Menderes, was elected president of Turkey today.

A 101-gun salute greeted news that the 67-year-old general had been elected to a seven-year term as president by the new national parliament, which convened for the first time Wednesday.

Gursel, the only candidate for the post, got 434 votes of a possible 607. His winning margin was 30 votes higher than the required two-thirds majority.

The other ballots: 156 blank, 13 for three unavowed candidates and 4 invalid.

Gursel took the oath as president immediately after the vote was announced.

The army general staff intervened Monday in the critical situation produced by the indecisive national election of Oct. 15 and ordered the four contending parties to accept Gursel as president, and to agree to form a national front government.

Gursel is regarded as a pro-Western moderate who has not hesitated to purge fellow members of the ruling military junta when they tried to adopt extremist methods.

Raymond R. Gross Dies at York, Former Hotelman

Raymond R. Gross, 72, former manager of the Governor Clinton Hotel here, died Wednesday night at York, Pa., after having been hospitalized for several days.

Mr. Gross, a native of York, came here in 1928 to succeed Alfred B. Siegrist as manager of the Governor Clinton. Previously he managed a hotel at Norristown, Pa. His retirement here in 1957 finished more than 34 years in the hotel business. He was in ill health at the time.

For his retirement, he and Mrs. Gross, the former Carolyn Peeling, went back to York and resided at 3200 East Market Street. Mrs. Gross died last July 29.

The Grosses, active in civic affairs while they were at the Governor Clinton, were considered genial hosts and popularized the hostelry throughout the east.

Mrs. Gross will be remembered for her beautiful flower gardens at the hotel and the landscaping which she supervised. The garden settings, especially the grounds in the rear of the hotel, were among reasons why many travelers preferred to stay at the hotel on Albany Avenue.

Interested in the stage, Mrs. Gross was one of the founders of the Coach House Players in 1950.

Prior to retirement, Mr. Gross suffered from a respiratory ailment and was a patient at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital for a long period.

Surviving are a son, Thompson P. Gross of 304 Maywood Road, York, Pa., two grandchildren and a sister also of York.

Funeral will be Saturday at 10 a. m. with services at the William E. Small Funeral Home, Roosevelt and Madison Avenues, York. Burial will be in Prospect Hill Cemetery there. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening.

Not Serious Yet, But

State Health Officers To Confer on Fallout

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Health officers from every state meet here today in an extraordinary session designed largely to consider protective measures that might be taken if nuclear fallout reached acute proportions.

The two-day meeting, called by the Public Health Service, brings together about 100 federal, state and local health officers. The sessions are closed to newsmen.

Dr. Francis Weber, chief of the service's radiological health division, said there was no cause now for serious concern. He added that while information still was lacking about fallout effects of the Soviet Union's big nuclear blast of last Monday, any significant hazard springing from the current Soviet test series probably would not arise until next spring.

Not Sure Yet

Then, most of the fallout from all the Soviet tests, now lodged in the stratosphere, will begin to drop toward the earth.

It cannot be stated as yet, Weber said in an interview, that there would be a serious hazard even in the spring.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has announced 24 Soviet nuclear blasts—23 in the atmosphere and one under water—since Moscow resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1. The AEC reported Monday's Soviet blast possibly had the punch of a 50-megaton explosion, but more likely was in the 30-megaton range.

Concerned About Food

Today's session is aimed at drafting possible protective "countermeasures," ranging even to possible condemnation of certain food supplies if that should become necessary.

"There's certainly no need to introduce any such stringent measure now," Weber said. And, he added: "I can't say whether any would ever be needed."

And he stressed that, in considering measures to protect the public from taking in with food potentially dangerous quantities of radioactive materials, every possible alternative—short of actual condemnation of food—would be studied and evaluated.

For example, he said, fresh milk unduly contaminated with radioactive iodine might be stored at low temperatures — without freezing it — until the iodine, which has a comparatively short radioactive life, lost its radiation.

Or, he said, consideration might be given to converting fresh milk to powdered form, or converting it to cheese and other dairy products so that children would still get their nutritionally valuable intake of calcium.

Escape Capsule Rocketed From B58 for Testing

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A new escape capsule was rocketed from a B58 Hustler bomber Wednesday.

The ejection was the first aerial test in a series using life-size dummies. The goal is protection for fliers who bail out at supersonic speeds.

The Air Force Flight Test Center said the steel cocoon was shot, with two rockets, from a B58 flying 431 miles per hour at 20,000 feet. It landed eight minutes later by parachute.

Examination showed a crewman would have survived without injury, officials said.

Reactor Tests Completed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Tests of the Tory II A-1 reactor, designed to prove nuclear ramjet propulsion is possible for missiles, have been completed, an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said Wednesday.

The next step in Project Pluto is development of the larger Tory II C reactor for tests under full power. Bids already have been asked for expanding the facility at the Nevada test site 65 miles north of here.

Garden Club Will Hear Discussion On Roses, Lawns

Miss Sue Adams, a representative of O. M. Scott and Sons, will be the guest speaker of the Garden Club to be held in the Social Room of the Reformed Church Thursday at 8 p. m.

Miss Adams' topic will be "A New Look at Lawns and Roses."

She resides in Ohio, but spends much of her time traveling about the country lecturing on her favorite subject, lawns and roses She has made many radio and television appearances. At one time she had her own radio show in Pheonix, Ariz.

Miss Adams' lecture, which she illustrates with colored slides, explains the Scott concept of easy lawn and rose care. Since a good lawn and healthy roses are the backbone of most landscaping effects, her subject will be of utmost interest to all gardeners.

School Aptitude Test Is Conducted

The preliminary scholastic aptitude test was administered at New Paltz Central School recently according to Thomas P. Benenati, guidance director.

The purpose of the test was to evaluate the aptitude of students who are going to institutions of higher learning.

One of the most valuable aspects to be gained will be the comparison of individual students with the entire population of students in the same year of school who will be competing for places in the various colleges at the same time.

Seniors in the National Honor Society also took the examination in order to compete for the national scholarship for the National Honor Society.

Local Jayncees View Film; List Story Hour Plans

A film on child development provided by the Mental Health Association was shown at the Monday night meeting of Saugerties Jayncees at the home of Mrs. Andrew Chesnick, Cherry Lane.

Mrs. Chesnick was appointed as chairman of the annual Christmas toy project for this year and Mrs. Karl Gerhard was appointed chairman of the annual fashion show and sewing contest for 1962.

Mrs. Gail Abbott, program chairman for the Jayncee sponsored Story Hour held each Saturday morning at Saugerties Public Library, announced that this coming Saturday's program will be planned by Mrs. Warren Knaust, representing the Kingston Junior League. They have agreed to sponsor the Story Hour the fourth Saturday of every month, and will feature Origimi, Japanese paper folding.

The Jayncees again stress that these programs are planned for children between the ages of five and seven, and children younger or older will not be admitted. The hour is from 10:30 a. m. to 11:30. Parents are requested to be considerate of those in charge of the program and see that the children are brought on time and called for at the close of the program.

Program Safety Talk Presented To Monday Club

A program on safety was presented by Mrs. George Sawutz to members of Saugerties Monday Club when it met this week at the home of Mrs. George Hildebrandt, 10 Meadow Street.

Her discussion dealt primarily with safety in the home and the importance of being alert to dangers of the every day routine of housekeeping. She stressed the point of keeping poisonous cleaning fluids, adult medicines and guns and sharp objects out of the reach of children, showing them the correct way of crossing streets; the threat of fire from playing with matches or playing near a stove when food is cooking.

Adults also, she reminded, take foolish chances when they use makeshift ladders to reach high storage spots, or put a too high polish on floors.

The importance of using seat belts when driving was one of the important issues of her presentation and resulted in the members taking a stand on backing the world wide program of making it a law for everyone to use this safety measure.

Milton Armstrong of the New York Telephone Company, whose wife, Alice, is president of the Monday Club, showed a safety film in conjunction with the day's program.

The membership voted 100 per cent to have cancer check-ups by next March.

Next week's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Smith, with Mrs. Warren Myer in charge of the program.

Lutheran Church Sets Fall Concert

NELSON G. BURHANS

The annual fall concert of sacred music will be presented by the Senior Choir of Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties, Sunday evening, Nov. 12 at 7:30 o'clock. Guest soloist will be Nelson G. Burhans, baritone, of West Camp. The program will include anthems by the augmented choir of 55 voices, a male chorus and Girls Sextette, concluding with the traditional hymn sing in which the congregation will participate.

The choir will be under the direction of Donald S. Fellows with Mrs. Fellows at the organ.

Golden Age Club Attends Bavarian Night Vols Dance

Members of Saugerties Golden Age Club were among a capacity audience who attended the performance of Willy Wittstadt's Happy Bavarians Saturday night at the annual Bavarian Night at West Camp firehouse.

President, Mrs. Eva Watts, voiced the opinion of the group saying, "we haven't had such a marvelous evening in a long time!"

Among the senior citizens attending were the president, Otto Schmilax, Thomas Thornton, Mrs. May Trimmer, Mrs. Violet Rocklein, Mrs. Florence Tallman and Kal Machonis. Transportation was arranged by members of the committee formed to help provide recreational opportunities for the club.

These same Golden Agers were among the 12 who feted Mr. and Mrs. William Van Tassell of Ulster Avenue on their 54th wedding anniversary Thursday. The monthly meeting of the club was held at the Van Tassell residence. The couple received a card from each member and an autumn floral arrangement from the club.

The hostess explained that the fruit cake served as part of the refreshments was her annual bake fest done each year on their anniversary since it was first served after their wedding.

Discussions that evening included the seeking of a permanent meeting place, and future events of the club which include the turkey Christmas dinner meeting in December and planning of a small appliance demonstration by Central Hudson in January.

Members were happy to learn that Mrs. Anna Kimble was much improved after her recent illness.

In addition to those who attended the Bavarian Night, other members attending the regular session were the Van Tassells, Mrs. Kimble, Mrs. Liza Burnett, Mrs. Carrie Diederick, Mrs. Leola Whitaker and Miss Isabel Myer.

The next meeting of the club will be on November 16 at the home of Mrs. Watts, 8 Jane Street. It will be the third anniversary celebration of the founding of the Golden Age Club in Saugerties.

German Reds

crossing point was closed by the East Berlin police.

The East Berlin police brought up to the crossing point two armored personnel carriers with helmeted East German police.

A company of police also was marched up to the frontier and took up positions on the eastern side of the frontier.

Three Tanks on Line

Behind them came 10 American tanks and 4 armored personnel carriers. Three of the tanks moved right up to the crossing point. Seven stood back.

A representative of the U.S. commandant in Berlin was turned back earlier in the day when he tried to enter the Eastern sector on official business. He made it on the second try, after changing from civilian clothes to uniform.

The American, Irwin Firestone, was in civilian clothes the first time. He refused to show identification papers to East German police. A spokesman said he was en route to deliver a message to the Soviet commandant in Berlin, Col. Andrei I. Solovyev.

Contacts Washington

The attempt by the East Germans to tighten controls over Allied traffic is considered so serious that the U.S. commandant, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, asked Washington for instructions.

On his first trip, Firestone was accompanied in a U.S. Army sedan by an officer and soldier in uniform. In the past, cars with uniformed drivers have been waved through by East Berlin police.

Firestone went back to West Berlin, put on his uniform. He was allowed then to proceed.

During the morning several other official U.S. Army staff sedans had passed in and out of the East sector without a hitch.

But a French car bearing official number plates turned back rather than submit to an identity check. In it were a driver in civilian clothes and a man in a blue French army uniform.

A British military car with civilian and military occupants passed through whout trouble.

The Allies appeared to be trying out various combinations of passengers to test out East Berlin police reactions. Why the British car carrying civilians was waved through without a challenge while the Americans and French ran into difficulties was not clear.

Force Is Doubled

Each jeep carried a driver and three men with automatic rifles and wearing bulletproof vests. This was double the size of the force which thrust 400 yards into East Berlin Wednesday to escort two American civilians through Red controls.

Two jeeps were followed to the border by 10 American tanks and four armored personnel carriers. Three of the tanks moved directly to the crossing point, with seven lining up behind.

A U.S. Army helicopter hovered on the Communist side of the border as the six jeeps lined up.

There was an air of tension as German police moved spectators off the sidewalks and into neighboring side streets.

Wednesday the Army had sent three jeeps with armed soldiers into East Berlin as escort for a car containing two American civilians.

Delivers Protest

The Army also brought up 10 tanks.

The Army refused to say what message Firestone took to Solovyev. It seemed unlikely it was reaction from Washington, since Watson himself would be more likely to deliver that.

Watson handed Solovyev a personal protest Wednesday against the East German police order demanding identity papers of allied civilian personnel entering East Berlin. The Russian rejected it.

Solovyev insisted that the East German regime is in control of access to East Berlin and its regulations are binding. Watson replied that the consequences of this position "were potentially so serious" that he was putting the issue up to Washington "on a most urgent basis."

Serious Development

In Washington, Joseph Reap, State Department spokesman, said the U.S. government regarded Solovyev's rejection of Watson's protest "as a serious development." Reap said the United States is taking up the matter urgently with the governments involved—Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

In an attempt to avoid further incidents as the issue approached a showdown on upper diplomatic levels, the U.S. mission announced that "American officials not in uniform and their dependents are being asked for the time being not to enter the Soviet sector."

American Army sightseeing buses into East Berlin—a regular diversion for soldiers, their families and civilians attached to the U.S. mission here — were suspended.

Two Army buses with sightseers on one of the regular tours of East Berlin were turned back by East German guards Wednesday. An Army spokesman said the buses made no move to keep going to spare women passengers "undue harassment."

Earlier Wednesday three jeeploads of armed American Military Police defied the East German border guards and escorted two civilians attached to the U.S. mission 300 yards into Communist territory and out again.

Garrison on Alert

Ten American Patton tanks and two armored personnel carriers moved up to the border crossing point, and the 6,500-man U.S. Garrison was put on the alert. After six tense hours the alert was canceled and the tanks and personnel carriers were withdrawn. Three British Centurion tanks that had been rushed to the border near the Brandenburg Gate also pulled back.

Only the usual U.S. Military Police detachment remained on guard at checkpoint "Charlie," on the Western side of Friedrichstrasse. All was quiet during the rainy night with little traffic either way.

The East German regime has said it will not interfere with uniformed personnel entering East Berlin as long as a peace treaty has not been signed. Foreign civilians—newsmen, tourists and businessmen—entering East Berlin submit to the identification check and show their passports to the East German police.

A well-informed East German source said the Communists want to avoid a real border flare-up for the moment as long as they do not lose face.

matter of FACT

Bees often have a hard time pulling their barbed stingers out. If the stinger breaks off, they are so injured they die within a short time. On the other hand, a bee sting does little harm to people unless they have an allergy. It would take the poison in about 500 honey bee stings to kill a person.

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors advanced as the stock market continued a recovery in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .70 at 258.30 with industrials up 1.00, rails up .10 and utilities up .40.

Gains of most key stocks were narrow. A few of the higher-priced issues which have been making strides recently were down on profit taking.

Gains in retail auto sales accompanied the rise of motor stocks.

Aircraft-missile stocks and machine tools improved. A slightly higher trend prevailed among chemicals, drugs, rails and airlines.

Ford and General Motors, the latter reporting third quarter earnings steady despite a drop in sales, climbed early a point each.

Union Carbide and DuPont were up about a point. Amerada rose around 2 and Texaco a point or so.

Boating Toll 54 Thus Far, Last Year 70 Killed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state's boating toll thus far this year stands at 54, a decline from the 70 killed last year.

The State Conservation Department said an enforcement program, in full operation for the first time this year, was responsible for the decline.

The program includes registration of boats, mandatory training for youthful operators and county-sponsored patrols on lakes and rivers.

Delegates Push For Quick Vote On Bomb Appeal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Bolstered by a thumping 75-10 vote of approval from the U.N. political committee, delegates pressed today for quick General Assembly action on an appeal to the Soviet Union to refrain from exploding a 50-megaton hydrogen bomb.

Denmark, one of the eight sponsors of the appeal, asked that the General Assembly give top priority to the resolution which cleared the committee after a stormy day of Soviet opposition.

Bloc, Cuba Opposed

Only the nine-nation Soviet bloc and Cuba voted against the appeal. Mali abstained and 15 nations—10 of them from Africa—were absent when the balloting took place.

As support for the resolution mounted, the Soviet Union and its allies finally abandoned attempts to stall off the committee vote. But Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin indicated the Kremlin would reject the appeal, asserting maneuvers by the NATO nations would not deter the Soviet Union from perfecting its defenses.

Tsarapkin charged that in the past the United States had conducted tests of 15, 20 "and perhaps even 30-megaton bombs." He asserted that the nations who backed the resolution calling on the Soviet Union not to drop the monster bomb had kept silent during U.S. tests in the atmosphere.

The resolution was sponsored by Canada, Denmark, Iceland, Iran, Japan, Norway, Pakistan and Sweden.

During the debate, delegates appealed to Moscow not to touch off the giant bomb Soviet Premier Khrushchev said last week probably would be exploded by Oct. 31.

Both Lift Threats

The Security Council meanwhile finally approved U.N. membership for Communist Outer Mongolia and Mauritania, breaking a deadlock that had imperiled Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

The Nationalists had threatened to veto Outer Mongolia and the Soviet Union to veto Mauritania, but both lifted their threats. The applications of the two countries were sent on to the General Assembly, which is certain to admit them as the 102nd and 103rd members of the world body.

The deal admitting the two small nations was concluded after weeks of maneuvering, during which the Kennedy administration advised Chiang Kai-shek's regime that a repetition of its 1953 veto against Outer Mongolia might cause a number of U.N. members to favor Nationalist China's replacement in the U.N. by the Chinese Communists.

Will Call Hearings

arose at a committee hearing Wednesday on safety devices for motor vehicles.

They included warning lights for disabled vehicles, devices to halt automobiles in the event of the failure of the regular braking system and equipment to prevent trailer trucks from jackknifing.

The committee also is studying the possibility of asking the Legislature to create in the state health department a research unit to analyze the causes of highway deaths and injuries and recommend remedies.

William S. Hults, motor vehicle commissioner, said his department now had research agencies and could carry out the functions mentioned "if the legislature will entrust us with this assignment and grant us appropriate funds."

Teacher's Salary To Be Topic at School Institute

How Should We Pay Our Teachers, will be the subject of discussion for the second school board institute session at the State University College, New Paltz, Wednesday, Nov. 8, in the new college dining hall at 7:30 p. m.

Management consultants who will discuss the topic are Dr. H. Lawrence Wilsey, a partner in the firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton of New York and Chicago, and Theodore G. Tulin of Barrington and Company, New York City.

Moderator for the discussion will be Mrs. Marie Kleine, a member of the Onteora School Board of Education and of the Mid-Hudson School Board Institute Planning Committee.

Among the questions to be discussed are: Does a merit salary schedule for teachers really work? What can public schools learn from the experience of industry in the field of employe compensation? What methods employed in industry in job evaluation can be used in public school systems?

Sponsored by the Mid-Hudson School Study Council, representing some 45 school systems in the area, the institute sessions are designed to provide information on topics which are of interest to school board members and administrators. Dr. William J. Hageny, professor of education at the college, is executive secretary of the MHSSC.

Other topics of institute sessions scheduled in the spring include Building Schools for the New Teaching Techniques, March 14, and The Central Purpose of American Education, April 11.

Could Use Caves

pear to be standby power generating capacity sufficient to operate your ventilation system and a minimum of lighting load for a two-week period. Addional improvement could be baffle walls at the entrance to increase shielding at these potential hot spots. These are expected to be considered soon by the aldermen.

The letter noted that the city was already investigating water facilities in the caves and Hastings revealed today that further tests are to be made by skin divers Nov. 5. Present knowledge of the water supply indicates it would be more than adequate.

Guidance Available

Col. Pickett said he was forwarding the Hastings letter to the New York District of the Army Corps of Engineers, so that it will be "made available to the engineering firm as soon as it is contracted in your area. However, since this probably does not satisfy your immediate desire for further advice, we could suggest your city engineer contact the Office of Emergency Planning, Region 1, Harvard, Mass, which can provide operational as well as engineering guidance.

Hastings is expected to propose soon that the city's public work forces be employed during the cold-weather months in assisting to equip the caves for shelter use.

Showdown With

a separate peace treaty with East Germany before the end of the year. He linked this to a statement that the Western powers had displayed a "certain understanding" of the Berlin problem, indicating that it might be possible to arrive at a negotiated settlement.

Khrushchev's speech in this respect, and, indeed, its dominant tone, is regarded by officials here as having been reasonably restrained. The restraint on Berlin, however, was offset to some degree by his announcement of plans to explode a 50-megaton nuclear bomb and by the emphasis placed by other speakers at the congress on Soviet military prowess.

Row Is Old Story

Among all the developments at the Communist session, U.S. officials are obviously most deeply intrigued by the extent and future implications of trouble within the Communist bloc. The row between the Soviet Union and Red China is an old story going back several years. But the rumor of an outright break between Moscow and a European Communist country, even small Albania, is a new element in the feud.

The last time there was such a break was in 1948 when Yugoslavia fell into disagreement with Stalinist leadership in the Kremlin and was kicked out of the international Communist organization, the Comintern.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

It's Better to Keep Good List of Stocks

Q) "I will be seventy years old my next birthday. Last year I invested $5,000 of my $10,000 savings in stocks. My purchases were International Harvester at $45, Madison Fund at $17, and Stokely-Van Camp at $16. This year I put another $1,000 into Canada Dry at $25. What do you think of my holdings? Should I sell any?" — E. P.

A) You have a good list of stocks and I see no reason to sell any of them. In fact, I should like to compliment you on your choices. Of your four stocks, two are selling considerably above cost and two are just about even. Stokely-Van Camp came through with vastly improved earnings for the fiscal year ended May 31, and your shares are now selling for nearly twice what you paid for them. If earnings projections for fiscal 1962 materialize, further gains may easily occur. Your second stock, Madison Fund, has also done well for you. As a closed end investment company, its shares will continue to reflect the trend of the market, which, I believe, is basically up. The remaining two issues, International Harvester and Canada Dry, are also worthwhile stocks to own. Harvester is a big maker of farm machinery and trucks and, in a strong economy, should show some decent gains. Canada Dry has had a rather unpretentious record, but I think the stock has merit as an income holding. Over-all your portfolio pays a satisfactory return and has pretty good prospects for further appreciation. In your position, I would not disturb it.

Q) "I bought a block of Cenco Instruments when it was selling very low. Shall I hold or would it be better to buy some other stock?" — C. L.

A) Cenco Instruments (ASE) has had an outstanding record of earnings growth, which is expected to continue. As a manufacturer of laboratory equipment used in schools, the firm should benefit greatly from the increased emphasis being given to education. Cenco shares are not cheap, but I feel they still have plenty of upside promise left. My advice is to hold.

Road Deaths Are

low last year's count of 26 deaths.

Significant Drop

Pedestrian deaths were down by 23 per cent from the figure from the corresponding month last year, and pedestrians in the older age group showed a decrease from 34 to 26.

Of the 161 deaths, some violation of the law was involved in all but nine cases, with excessive speed a factor in 54 cases. Most frequent pedestrian action leading to fatality was crossing between intersections, with 18 of 38 pedestrians dying in that manner.

Previous Low 151

The previous low for September, in 1948, was 151 deaths. The highest September on record was in 1959, when 225 were killed.

The September figure brings this year's total number killed in traffic accidents to 1,462, the second-lowest nine-month total in at least nine years. The figure remained 12 above last year's record-breaking nine-month total of 1,450.

To Make Detailed

notice that a big explosion was planned, and with the knowledge that Novaya Zemlya had been the location of several earlier tests in the Soviet series, it is likely the United States made arrangements to procure all possible information on the blast.

Could Use Submarines

Some of the Navy's atomic submarines, including the huge Triton, could be especially useful on a mission to obtain data on such an explosion.

The Triton carries elaborate radar equipment as well as ultra modern underwater listening gear. The super-sensitive ears of a submarine's sonar system can detect shock waves as well as normal sounds. And radar can pick up a cloud formation at distances upward of 200 miles.

Chance for Exact Time

Even without radar, a submarine could make valuable contribution to data-gathering. One would be data on shock wave transmitted through the water, another on the exact time of detonation.

The precise time of detonation is of major importance in analysis. Certain elements produced in or released by the fusion and fission processes delay over periods ranging from split-seconds to hours, days and weeks.

The microscopic particles taken by high flying planes undergo minute studies in laboratories. The U.S. Air Force has used U2 jets in various parts of the world to take air samples up to as much as 80,000 feet altitude.

Troopers Crack

Smith. Some are short of change while others "just figure they can get away with it."

Troopers, he continued, had been lenient with first offenders when the crackdown began. But stiff fines—$10 to $100—now are meted out to anyone found guilty of cheating the toll hoppers.

The crackdown works this way. Troopers stationed inside the automatic toll booths count the money as it is dropped into the hopper.

When slugs, washers, or the incorrect amount lands in the hopper, the trooper radios or signals a trooper stationed down the highway.

One arrest, that of a Canadian newsman, Colin Murray, caused an international stir and wound up with Murray as guest of a Syracuse newspaper for a weekend.

Murray was fined $25 for allegedly short-changing an automatic toll collector near Buffalo. He protested to the U.S. State Department and Gov. Rockefeller. The Syracuse Herald - Journal played host to Murray and his wife last weekend in a show of hospitality.

The six lanes of toll hoppers at New Rochelle collect about $3,500 a day at 25 cents per car. The six near Buffalo charge 15 cents and average a total of $1,500 daily.

A thruway spokesman said there was no estimate of losses incurred because of toll cheats.

Smith said the losses probably were balanced by impatient motorists who overpayed rather than wait for change at manned toll booths.

"That's no violation. That's a gratuity," he said.

Schwenk's Goal

reforms alone, by saving the city $200,000 a year by proper street maintenance and repair.

2. Fully utilize the trained and competent people in the various city departments, and eliminate needless expenditures such as the hiring of outside engineering consultants at $10,000 to conduct an off-street parking survey that could have been capably handled by experts in the city's engineering department.

3. Eliminate political payoff jobs that make no contribution to improved city services, but place undue strain on an already excessive budget.

4. Institute a program of merit advancement and executive selection based on ability, experience, and competence, and thus restore maximum efficiency and high morale to the various city departments.

5. Seek revisions in the city charter which will eliminate unfair tax loopholes and provide additional revenue on a more equitable basis.

6. Utilize the latest methods of management, and up-to-date technical and material advances to provide more efficient services at lower cost to the taxpayer.

His Pledge to Public

"By adhering to these principles," Schwenk pledged, "I will bring to Kingston: better and safer streets; adequate off-street parking facilities; a revitalized recreation program and park system; improved municipal services across the board."

Schwenk also promised, "I will halt the upward tax spiral of the past four years, and reduce the city's bonded indebtedness substantially, so that future generations will not be faced with impossibly high taxes.

"These are the things that must be accomplished now, if Kingston is to grow," he declared. "City services and tax rates must be restored to favorable levels, so that Kingston may attract new industry, so that new job opportunities will develop with our expanding population," he added.

"City government must create an atmosphere to encourage our merchants, and help Kingston take it's rightful place as the leading retail center of the Mid-Hudson Valley," he concluded elections and fiscal policies, while the state act prohibits strikes by public employes in the state.

The body also gave its approval to four proposed amendments to the State Constitution and opposed two. The amendments will be voted on by the people Nov. 7.

Approval was given to amendments that would create a unified court system; permit the state to guarantee authority bonds up to $100 million for the purchase of commuter cars; set up a state job development authority, and allow the state to guarantee dormitory authority bonds up to $500 million.

Opposed were amendments that would limit to 20 the number of state government departments but permit the Legislature to change their powers and functions, and another that would allow state debt for two or more purposes in a recession period.

The AFL-CIO, which represents some two million workers in the state, said the shorter work-week was necessary to counter unemployment resulting from increased productivity, technological advances and automation, and a deficit rate of industrial expansion.

The group will hold its 1962 convention, Sept. 10-12 in New York

Scout Troop 10 Holds Overnight Camp Activity

Twenty-one Boy Scouts of Troop 10, sponsored by Ulster Hose No. 5, Town of Ulster, conducted an overnight camp recently at the troop campsite off Route 28 near Galis Hill.

The unit assembled at the foot of the trail leading to the site and advanced by patrol formation to the camping area.

Each patrol set up its own encampment, prepared and cooked meals from menus that were planned at a prior troop meeting.

During the day's activities, several requirements of the second and first class ranks were passed.

The troop leaders conducted several patrol site inspections for good scoutlike camping. The Flying Eagle and Flaming Arrow patrols had the best results.

A combined compass course and scavanger hunt which covered an extensive area was enjoyed by all participating groups.

Each boy tested his speed and durability on the obstacle course which is in accordance with the unit's physical fitness program.

During the evening the whole troop engaged in a game of commandos.

The program was concluded with a troop-wide campfire with songs and stories.

The body disembarked Sunday morning in order for everyone to attend services in their own church.

The encampment was supervised by Scoutmaster Carlton L. Deyo, Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Ryan and Institutional Representative Edward Muller.

Progress Noted In Milk Talks, N.Y.C. Hit Hard

NEW YORK (AP) — Milk supplies for New York City and Long Island were virtually non-existent today as a strike of truck drivers and plant workers reached its third day.

Negotiations resume today.

Before talks were recessed Wednesday night, union and management spokesman said, "we are progressing slowly but surely. We expect to make even more progress."

Flow Practically Halted

The flow of eight million quarts a day was practically halted when Teamster Locals 602 and 607—including Borden's and Sheffield—walked out in sympathy with Local 584, which began the strike. About 13,000 workers are affected.

Spokesmen for both sides said some issues had been resolved, and sounded a note of cautious optimism.

The union, which had been seeking a $10 a week across-the-board wage raise for all drivers and plant workers, cut the figure Wednesday to $8.

Drivers now receive $100.50 per week plus commissions. Plant worker pay ranges from $103 to $129 a week.

The dealers have offered drivers a $2.50 weekly increase and plant workers a $4.50 weekly boost.

Upstate Ponders Effects

Upstate, milk producers pondered the effect of a long strike. A spokesman said farmers would have to dump milk, feed it to calves or arrange for shipment to plants in other states if by-product plants — making cheese, butter and ice cream — became glutted with excess milk.

The spokesman said Upstate milk producers would not be materially affected by the walkout for another day or two.

How to Respond to Forced Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In the early days of contract the jump raise from one to three was played as a strong, but not absolutely forcing, bid. Today most players use it as a forcing bid if the man who gives the jump raise has not passed. But if he has passed, it merely shows 10 to 12, or possibly 13, supporting points.

North has just about the ideal hand for this bid. He has 9 points in high cards and 12 points in support.

South probably should have passed at three spades. He had a real minimum opening, but South was one of those players who believes in playing every hand in game.

He was lucky enough to make it, with an overtrick. He won the trump opening in his own hand and promptly laid down the king of hearts. West grabbed the trick and led a second trump. South won that in his own hand, led the four of hearts and finessed dummy's nine.

He had nothing to fear since if the finesse lost he would be able to discard a club and a diamond on the last two hearts in dummy.

When the finesse worked, he played dummy's queen. This dropped the jack, whereupon South still got his two discards. This left him with only three diamonds. He lost one and ruffed the other two in dummy.

6,000 Are Idle As Three Mack Truck Plants Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Mack Truck plants were struck at midnight Wednesday night when union and company officials failed to reach agreement on a new contract.

The plants involved are located at Allentown, Pa., Somerville, N. J., and Cortland, N.Y. About 6,000 workers are affected.

A fourth plant at Plainfield, N. J., is not involved because it is closing Oct. 31 to move to Hagerstown, Md.

A Mack spokesman said that a "major" concession had been offered to representatives of the United Auto Workers union, adding:

"Mack told the UAW that it was prepared to agree to the union's major request...the right to transfer to any other Mack production plant."

Union spokesmen could not be reached for comment.

The transfer issue came to a head when the company began limiting transfers of workers from Plainfield to Hagerstown to employes not over 58 years of age and those with three or more years of company service.

As a result, says the company, employes want a contract clause permitting unrestricted right of transfer.

The strike deadline of midnight had been extended from last Friday midnight when a three-year contract between Mack and the UAW expired.

Rosendale, Tillson News

Halloween Party Set

The Ladies Auxiliary Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219, American Legion, will hold a Halloween party at the Post Home, Tillson, Sunday 2 p. m.

The party will be for all children in the area. Children should come in costume with awards given for the Grand March. Games, candy and refreshments will be available. A small admission charge will be collected at the door.

GOP Meeting Is Well Attended; Candidates Speak

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Rosendale Republican Club Tuesday evening at the Grange Hall, Rosendale.

Raymond LeFever was the presiding officer and all Republican town candidates were present.

The main speaker of the evening was Kenneth L. Wilson, Republican county chairman, who was introduced by Miss Cordelia Feltman. Mr. Wilson expressed his views on why he thought it was necessary to have a Republican supervisor from the Town of Rosendale and told of the many things that had been accomplished by the present administration.

County Judge Raymond Mino, County Treasurer Fred DuBois and District Attorney David Corwin were also present and spoke briefly on the advantages of having experienced men elected to office.

Bernard Kramer who is the representative in the office of Congressman J. Ernest Wharton in Kingston explained that his office was open to the public and that he would be glad to offer his services at any and all times for problems at the national level.

John Delora, candidate for supervisor, was the last speaker and thanked all present for a fine turnout and pleasant evening.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Sandwich know-how: professional sandwich-makers sometimes use two thin slices, instead of one thick slice, of poultry or meat as the filling. For eating ease!

Ricketson Feted By SEWMA Group

Ulster County Sealer of Weights and Measures Ralph Ricketson of Saugerties, who served as president of the Southeastern Weights and Measures Association of New York State, was honored at the recent convention of the association when he was presented with a plaque in appreciation of his services while president from 1959 to 1961.

This was the first time that an outgoing president of the Southeastern Association has been so honored.

The plaque, inscribed, to Ralph Ricketson "In appreciation of service rendered as president 1959-1961," is a wood plaque upon which is a brass shield bearing the inscription and a small brass gavel.

Delegates from the counties of the state on both sides of the Rudson river from Westchester to Green County attended the conference of the Southeastern Association at which the association honored Ricketson.

NSC Gives Tips to Goblins

Just Like Other Mortals, Halloween Pranksters Told

CHICAGO (AP)—Those terrifying spooks and goblins that turn out en masse on Halloween fall victims to the same harms that plague ordinary mortals.

Automobiles can hit them as they take off on their broomsticks. Their shrouds can catch fire. And the ghastly faces that scare others can strangle them.

These secrets of the nether world were let out today by the National Safety Council, an organization dedicated to, among other things, saving the spook population for future Halloweens. Next Tuesday is Halloween.

Some goblins hide their real faces behind masks of cloth, rubber or paper. Some of the eye slits are too small for good vision or the mask may slip and cover the eyes entirely. When a goblin is running from a house with a sackful of treats, he may have mask trouble and not see an oncoming automobile.

And if the goblin is wearing dark regalia, such as favored by the Dracula mob, the motorists may be unable to see him in time.

Spook suits, regardless of color, have been known to catch fire from candle-illuminated jack-o-lanterns.

The council suggested these tips:

Faces can be made mighty scary with rouge, eyebrow pencil and multicolored mascara. Cold cream takes it off when spooking time is over.

Dark costumes can be trimmed with adhesive reflector tape. They can be made flameproof by dipping in a solution of 4 ounces of boric acid, 9 ounces of borax and a gallon of warm water. Washing or dry-cleaning, however, will take out the protection.

Flashlights instead of candle will fireproof pumpkins.

And goblins should do their tormenting in groups of four to five and beg treats only at homes where they know the occupants.

Senate Democrats Rap Ike As Fiscal, Corps Critic

WASHINGTON (AP) With the White House silent, four Senate Democrats struck back today against an attack by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on Kennedy administration fiscal policies and the Peace Corps.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Eisenhower was engaging in "campaign oratory" when he said in New York Tuesday that the administration's budget policies are "shrinking dollars" and that the Peace Corps is a "juvenile experiment."

"When the former president talked about deficits in his purely political speech," Mansfield said, "he should have been reminded that in one year during his administration the nation had the highest peacetime deficit in its history, $12.5 billion.

"I am glad he is willing to admit that the nation has attained a state of prosperity. I hope he recalls that when President Kennedy took over from him we were in a state of recession."

Mansfield said Congress had given its overwhelming approval to establishment of the Peace Corps. He added that he hopes it will "be given an opportunity to prove its worth before it is condemned for purely political reasons."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said in a separate interview he was disappointed that Eisenhower would express critical opinions about the Peace Corps.

"I think he has caused hurt to a lot of very sincere American young men and women who are showing a dedication to their nation that ought to be encouraged" Hart said.

Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger, D-Ore., said she thought Eisenhower had "belittled his own position" by suggesting sarcastically that a Peace Corps member be sent to the moon because that was an underdeveloped country.

"His statement that this is a 'juvenile experiment' shows his lack of information about the corps," she said. "There are people in it as old as 50 years of age."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said Eisenhower was "completely misinformed if he thinks the Peace Corps is not popular and eagerly sought in countries where it has not yet sent any of its members."

Dies Trimming Tree

CROTON FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Eugene Herbert Wood, 19, died while trimming branches of a tree 50 feet above ground.

His body remained lodged in the tree Wednesday until removed by firemen. The firemen had been summoned by a coworker, James Brewster, in an effort to aid the youth. Wood was dead, however, before help arrived.

Doctors expressed belief the young man may have died of a ruptured blood vessel in the brain. An autopsy was planned to determine the exact cause of death.

Jersey May Get Part Of Sandy Hook Base

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Within a week the Defense Department will approve the leasing of 460 acres of Sandy Hook military base to New Jersey for the creation of a public park, Stewart Udall, secretary of the interior, has announced.

Udall, speaking Wednesday night at a news conference at Newark Airport, said the lease is "a real break-through" in the Defense Department's policy, adding it was the first time the department had relinquished land for such a purpose.

Udall also announced that President Kennedy would meet with the governors of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware "in a few days" to implement the Delaware River compact.

The compact provides for a massive development of the water resources of the Delaware River Basin over the next 50 years, including flood - control dams, recreation areas and hydroelectric projects.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Sullivan County people in town recently included Hilda Visscher and Marion Ross of Grahamsville.

Helen Hugh, a resident of Ohayo Mountain Road for about a year, was a caller in the village Saturday.

Alma Harding Dean, one-time vaudeville performer and silent film actress who died at Mt. [illegible] Oct. 17, had made her home at the Mrs. Earl Elmendorf [illegible] here before moving to the Town of Shandaken. She was also a resident of Ashokan some 30 years ago while her husband, Earl Dean, a vaudeville actor, was living. The couple at one time conducted a guest home on Route 28, Ashokan.

Otto Graffe, who for the past several months has been building a summer home at Oliverea, was here Sunday. Graffe and his mother plan to remain in the Big Indian Valley a couple of months.

Large flocks of wild geese passed over the Ashokan Reservoir last week headed south. There were also many flocks in air over New York City's Pepacton Reservoir in Delaware County where a number of geese and ducks were shot by hunters.

Blanche Howard, Haines Falls, was a Shokan caller Thursday. Mrs. Howard is a sister of Mrs. Percy Cook of Olive Bridge.

Largest of the hundreds of loads of logs which have passed through the village center this year probably was a double trailer-load of 40 which came up the reservoir road, bound for a Wittenberg sawmill, last Friday.

Timbering has been a major industry in the Catskills for over a century and is still going strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buley, formerly of the Tonche Mountain road, reportedly are making their home at Grahamsville.

Edwin Secor, Ashokan War II veteran, will head the Olive 1961 Boy Scout finance campaign.

Martye Martine, who spent some time in the village center last summer, writes Shokan friends that she has been ill since returning to West Coxsackie.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ocker, Phoenicia, reportedly have taken an apartment in the Maria Bode house, Route 28, Ashokan.

Callers here Thursday included Philip J. Knauff on Brookill Lane, Huntington, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Williard Squier, Watson Hollow Road residents for many years, are home following a two month's motor trip to Seattle and other Western states. The couple visited friends in Seattle and took in many points of interest during their trip.

Petroleum Pipes Cut Barge Canal Shipping

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Shipping on the State Barge Canal has fallen below 1960 levels, primarily because of a decrease in the amount of petroleum carried, the State Public Works Department reports.

The total 1961 tonnage of 2.2 million by Sept. 30 was 7.29 per cent below the total for a similar period of last year.

The decline in petroleum was due to an increase in the use of interstate pipelines, the department said.

Yugoslavia Writer Wins Nobel Literature Award

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The 1961 Nobel Prize for literature was awarded today to the Yugoslav novelist and prewar diplomat Ivo Andric, 69.

The prize, worth $48,300, is the first Nobel award ever to go to Yugoslavia.

Andric was nominated for the prize last year and was eliminated only in the last round.

About Native People

Andric's greatest work is an historical trilogy — "Miss," "The Travnik Chronicle" and "The Bridge on the Drina." It and most of his work are about his native Bosnia and its people.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Letters said in its citation that Andric was given the prize for "the epic force with which he has depicted themes and human destinies from the history of his country."

The academy has 18 members. The chair of the late U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, one of its most prominent members and the winner of the 1961 Nobel Peace Prize, is still empty.

Andric served in the Yugoslav diplomatic corps from the 1920s until World War II. His last diplomatic mission was as Yugoslav minister to Berlin, and he returned home only a few hours before the first Nazi bombs fell on Belgrade.

He was the second writer-diplomat in succession to get the literary award. Last year it went to French poet Saint-John Perse, who as Alexis Leger was secretary-general of the French Foreign Ministry when World War II broke out.

Andric is the second Nobel winner of Yugoslav origin. Leopold Ruzicka, who was born in Vukovar, then part of the Austrian-Hungarian empire, shared the 1939 chemistry prize but was then a Swiss citizen.

Fourth 1961 Winner

Andric is the fourth person to be given a Nobel Prize this year. Last Thursday the prize for medicine was given to Dr. Georg von Bekesy, 62, Hungarian-born telephone engineer now an American and working at Harvard. He was awarded the prize for his research on the human ear.

Monday the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting awarded the 1961 Peace Prize to the late Dag Hammarskjold and the 1960 Peace Prize to the Zulu chief Albert Luthuli, 62, of the Republic of South Africa.

The prizes for chemistry and physics are to be awarded next Thursday by the Royal Swedish Academy of Science.

The prize money stems from the fortune left by the late Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite. The first prize was handed out in 1901.

The laureates are invited to come to Stockholm to receive prize money, medals and diplomas, from King Gustaf VI Adolf at traditional ceremonies Dec. 10. The peace prize is presented in Oslo, Norway.

One Man Killed, 3 Hurt as Wine Barrel Explodes

NEW YORK (AP) — One man was killed and three of his male relatives were injured when a wine barrel exploded in a Brooklyn cellar Wednesday night.

The men placed a burning sulphur candle in a 50-gallon barrel and sealed the lid to purify the barrel in preparation for making wine in the basement of a two-family house.

The barrel suddenly blew up. The lid hit Angelo Bitetto, 54, in the chest and killed him.

Two of the others suffered burns, and the third suffered a broken arm when struck by a piece of the shattered barrel.

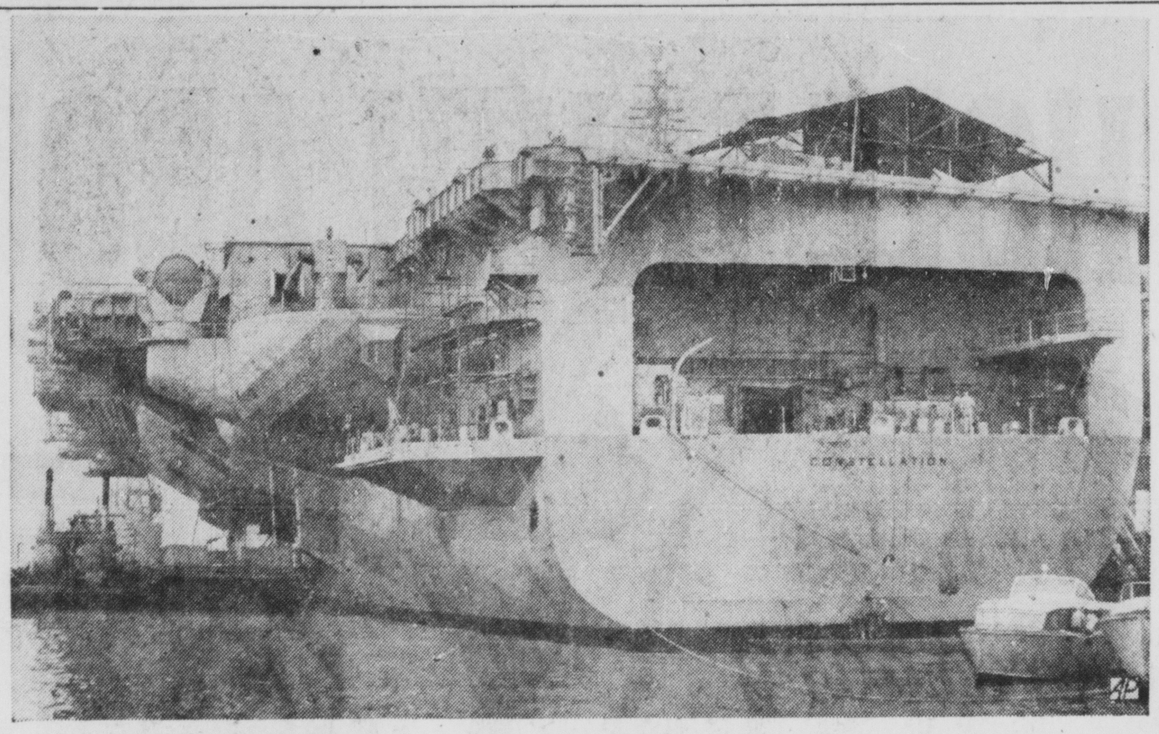
Air Force Can't Locate Needles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force says it can't find 350 million copper needles strewn in space to test prospects for a jam-proof radio system.

A Midas satellite, fired into orbit last Saturday from Point Arguello, Calif., ejected the tiny copper wires, called dipoles. They were to spread out and form a belt around the earth that could be used to bounce radio waves halfway around the world.

Wednesday night, the Air Force announced that its Lincoln Laboratories, in charge of "Project West Ford," reported no radar contact had been established with the needles, each 7-10 of an inch long and one-third as thick as a human hair.

At launching, it was said it might take three to four days to determine by radar whether the needles dispersed as planned.



NO LONGER SCARRED — The USS Constellation gleams anew at Brooklyn Navy Yard in New York. The 75,000-ton carrier, damaged extensively by a fire last December, is soon to be commissioned, only six months later than planned.

Sets Record Straight

DuBois Says Office Is Run On State Audit Practices

Charges of insufficient collateral for County Funds are absolutely unfounded, County Treasurer Fred DuBois contends.

County Treasurer Fred H. DuBois, speaking at a meeting of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel recently, stated that the record of facts concerning the practices employed in the county treasurer's office has been provided by the State Department of Audit and Control which is under Democratic directorship.

This audit was made in 1960 and put on file in the County Clerk's office in early 1961, DuBois pointed out, and after the report was filed the Kingston Daily Freeman, through its own release, noted the complimentary remarks concerning the County Treasurer's practices and commending the policy of temporary investing at interest county moneys not immediately needed.

Sets Record Straight

County Treasurer DuBois further stated that he wished to set the record straight by explaining that in July 1959, he submitted a letter to the board of supervisors recommending that the interest-earning practice be authorized because he had had this experience as supervisor of the Town of New Paltz. In 1956, as supervisor, he had invested town money after checking the proper procedure with the State Department of Audit and Control. Thereafter a resolution was adopted by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors providing for this procedure. He said that this and all other communications to the Board of Supervisors are public records and can be found in its published proceedings.

DuBois, in closing, stated that the State auditors examined all approved collateral provided by the banks, thereby proving the charge of insufficient collateral for county funds as being unfounded.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Various cuts of beef continue to lead the bargain list in many supermarket and neighborhood grocery stores this week, although turkeys and broiling or frying chickens offer strong competition.

The steady run of beef bargains reflects commercial production in August and September running slightly above a year ago. This production picture is expected to continue for the rest of the year.

Turkeys to Be Higher

Poultry price specials seem most plentiful in the southwest and midwest. Broilers and fryers are slightly higher in some markets.

Meat experts suggest the long-term trend is likely to be higher for turkeys, since farmers are cutting back production sharply because of low prices.

Round and chuck roast are the top beef cuts in the northeast, while steaks get a play in the southeast and some loin cuts are down 2 to 5 cents a pound in the Los Angeles area.

Bacon also is a prime item on the west coast, with prices off 2 to 5 cents a pound. Wholesale prices on bellies (from which bacon is cut) have been dropping recently.

Eggs Good Buy

Eggs remain a good buy, too, with some sizes down 3 to 5 cents a dozen around San Francisco and New York prices running 12 to 14 cents a dozen less than a year ago after slight cuts this week.

Best buys among vegetables are cabbage, cauliflower, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, carrots and squash. In the Southeast, Florida sweet corn is still attractively priced, too.

Other good buys included tomatoes, snap beans, lettuce, peppers, cucumbers, celery and broccoli. Seasonal specialties include turnips, rutabagas and spinach.

With hallowe'en almost here, pumpkins are especially plentiful and prices are generally low.

There are many bargains in assorted types of cheese.

Top fruit buys appear to be apples, oranges, grapes and grapefruit. Pears and melons are good buys, too, while the cranberry crop is expected to be large.

Living Costs Up To Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for new fall lines of clothing pushed living costs to a record high in September.

The Labor Department reported today that its index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent between August and September to 128.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

Clothing prices, rising more than seasonally, were up 1.1 per cent from the late-summer bargains of August.

Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, said another slight rise is expected in October. But he emphasized that the price level has remained unusually stable and is expected to continue to register little change from month to month.

"We see nothing in the picture that appears to suggest a take-off to substantially higher price levels," Myers told a news conference.

The index standing of 128.3 in September compares with the previous record of 128.1 in July. For August, it was 128.

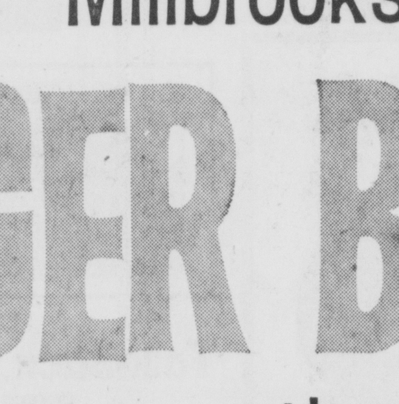
MILLBROOK'S BATTER BLENDING METHOD whips air holes out, whips flavor in—makes Miracle-Mix Bread fresher right from the start. Ordinary bread has air holes 'cause it's baked from dough.



BREAD-BOX-TYPE TESTS prove Millbrook's new Miracle-Mix retains moisture and softness longer—that's why it stays fresher. Taste tests show it's preferred almost two to one for flavor, too!

Keeps its fresh flavor longer because it's baked from batter that's whipped like cream—in small batches. Gives you full bread nourishment, too! To be sure you get Millbrook's genuine Miracle-Mix with longer bread-box life, look for the double Ⓜ brand on every loaf.

Congo Provinces Deteriorating As Facilities, Economy Crumble

EDITOR'S NOTE — What has happened to life in the Congo amid the chaos that came in the wake of independence won 16 months ago? This revealing dispatch, last in a series of three on the Congo today, tells what has happened to the economy and the people.

By LYNN HEINZERLING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The jacaranda and frangipani trees are bursting into gorgeous blossom, but not much else is blooming in the Congo.

Leopoldville today is a city where the fragrance of tropical spring flowers blends with odors from a decaying sewage system.

It is a city where a few Congolese skim past in shining limousines and thousands are without jobs. As in so many other recently freed African colonies, a new affluent class of government employes is being formed.

The reconciliation between the Communist-supported Stanleyville regime of Antoine Gizenga and the Leopoldville government is hardly skin deep. The hearts that harbor hopes of peace are matched by others hardened by tribal distrust and political hate.

A slow deterioration is reported from other provinces. In Stanleyville, diplomatic reports say, water and light facilities are faulty. Garbage collection and street cleaning have been practically abandoned.

No Rice Until 1963

In Kivu and Equator provinces the larger plantations are beginning to resume operations, but smaller ones are being slowly throttled by jungle vegetation. In Equator, it is reported, the seed rice has been eaten and there cannot be another harvest until 1963.

The central government continues to live on borrowed money. Its deficit runs about $16 million monthly. A good deal of this money goes to pay salaries to government employes, including the army. The Congolese have waited a long time to reach the white man's standards of living and they want it all at once.

What they are seeing instead is a sharp increase in wealth and living standards for a few thousand Congolese employed by the central government and the same old shacks and dirt roads for themselves. Something of the same development is taking place in other newly independent countries of Africa such as Ghana, Guinea, Nigeria and former French colonies.

Katanga Must Return

United Nations figures show that wages for Africans employed by the central government and provincial administrations (excepting Katanga) in 1959 were about 11 per cent of the total national income. In 1961, the first full year of independence, these wages will represent at least 31 per cent of the total national income.

There are some signs of improvement, but everything in the Congo depends on the tense political situation. As a nation, the old Belgian colony cannot survive unless Katanga with its immense copper profits comes back into the fold.

Whites Pouring Back

Whites, mostly Belgians, have been pouring back into the country and they may succeed in giving impetus to the economy. Stanleyville, once down to a few score whites, now has approximately 1,000. Before independence there were 4,000 Europeans in Stanleyville.

In Leopoldville, hotels are crammed and some are forcing patrons to double up in their rooms. Many of the old villas and apartments have been taken over by newly rich Congolese. Belgians hesitate before moving into suburban homes too far from police protection. Villas outside Leopoldville have been subjected to repeated burglaries.

River Traffic Running

River traffic on the Congo, once blockaded because of the feud between the Gizenga government in Stanleyville and the central government, is again in operation. The first cargoes of tin have moved down the river to Leopoldville and on by rail to Matadi. Agriculture is lagging far behind.

Marcel Bisukiru, minister of foreign trade and a leftwing Lumumba follower, has described the trade situation as tragic. He reported in a recent survey that the Congo in the first six months of 1961 exported only 2,300 tons of cotton compared with 27,000 tons during the same period of 1960—before independence.

Difficult About Capital

United Nations economists are concerned about another phase of Congo economy. Almost all business concerns, except for smaller establishments, are in the hands of Belgians and other non-Congolese. The Congolese have difficulty accumulating capital to participate in the business life of the country.

One economist said that while the Congo won political independence it was completely colonized economically.

Six commercial banks in the Congo finance Belgian commerce. Nobody finances the industry and commerce of the Congolese.

The alternative to developing a Congolese class of business men could be nationalization. There has been considerable talk of this possibility particularly of certain key industries. It seems a certainty if leftwing Lumumbists came to power.

Argue Over Shift

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The transfer of color comic printing business to a new plant in Alabama would reduce heavy transportation costs, the president and general manager of a Wilkes-Barre, Pa., printing firm says.

Joseph J. Gorman, head of the International Color Printing Co. testified in federal district court Wednesday that new business already was being sought to replace the work that would be lost by the transfer to the Sylacauga, Ala., plant.

N. Y. Police Net Interferred With Is Wagner Claim

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner claimed today that his administration is the first in the city's history which has not tolerated political interference with the police."

The Democratic mayor, running for reelection, made the claim as he announced a series of one-a-day "fact sheets" about his administration.

The opening "fact sheet," dealing with the police, declared that "the best way to fight crime is to have policemen out fighting it, not to make speeches about it."

Wagner's opponent, Atty. Louis J. Lefkowitz offered Wednesday to withdraw as a candidate if Wagner would swear under oath that Lefkowitz wrote the present rent control law.

Wagner has been charging that a "sleeper" in the revision of the law enacted at the last session of the Republican - controlled Legislature would open the door for a flood of rent increases.

Lefkowitz, defending the present law, said it gives protection to tenants that they did not have previously.

Fruit Supplies Good

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today consumer supplies of fruits from early fall through the first half of 1962 are expected to be larger than in the like period a year earlier.

Factors were said to include favorable crops this year and larger carryover stocks of frozen fruit products.

"Consumer demand for fuit, supported by rising incomes, is expected to be strong again in 1962," the department said in a fruit situation report.

Check Delinquency At Roots Is Theme

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP) — The gram for youth is bas— — — — state's conservation - camp program for youth is based on the premise that "the best way of combatting juvenile delinquency is to prevent it from taking hold," Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson says.

Wilson said the state had been establishing a series of youth rehabilitation camps to work with boys through group counseling. One type, he said, would accommodate boys referred by the courts, while the other would take boys "who have shown tendencies to become delinquent," but who have no actual police record.

Wilson spoke Wednesday night at a fund raising dinner of the Chautauqua County YMCA.

Asks Strong Stand Against Giving Up Rights of States

ALBION, N.Y. (AP)—Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino has called for a strong stand against what he calls the assumption of state duties and responsibilities by the federal government.

The Long Island Republican said Wednesday night that under the Democratic administration in Washington, "more and more local and state government functions" are being "surrendered" to the federal agencies.

Carlino spoke to more than 300 Republicans at a campaign fund-raising dinner.

"...we get increased regulation, increased supervision, increased domination in every field. And there are some Democrats in Washington who want the federal government to take over our educational system—and that would be a tragic catastrophe for all of us."

He said the "basic difference between Republican and Democratic parties is that we Republicans are dedicated to getting the government back to the people..."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you had an adroit hand with a TV dial Wednesday night you could have watched variety shows from after dinner coffee until the bedtime snack.

The evening of song, dance and comedy started with ABC's Steve Allen show, followed by a brief hiatus until NBC's Perry Como opened for business, and then back to an ABC musical special.

There were many gay moments in the special, "Seasons of Youth." On this frail theme were hung the dancing of Barrie Chase and Bob Fosse, some sharp political satire by the "premise players," and the smartly-professional singing of Paul Anka and Jill Corey.

Most delightful was Barrie Chase's dancing, but it was all engaging, easy-mannered show.

In fact, it was a good evening and a nice change from a TV diet which lately has consisted largely of homicide and neurosis.

Women of star calling still are finding the going rough in television. Last season network TV cut itself loose from Loretta Young, June Allyson and Barbara Stanwyck, leaving only two feminine stars who luckily were tied into successful situation comedy series of the family type: Donna Reed and Harriet Nelson.

This season, Marilyn Maxwell was the only woman star with a new series: "Bus Stop" on ABC. Now comes word from Hollywood that the producers have dropped their option on her acting services upon completion of the first 13 episodes.

Recommended tonight: "Dr. Kildare," NBC, 8:30-9:30 (Eastern Daylight Time) — Hollywood-based story about an accident case; "The Untouchables," ABC, 10-11—Eliot Ness against the narcotics traffic.

World's largest building without interior supports is the air dock in Akron, Ohio.

Both Rate High in Public Opinion Polls

Kennedy Much Like Ike, But Relationship Cools

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has been in the White House long enough, a little over nine months, to provide some insight into the way he operates.

If he could be said to have patterned himself after a model it would be President Eisenhower and not cocky, relaxed, extremely self-confident President Roosevelt or highly combative President Truman.

But what looked like the development of an unusually friendly personal relationship of Kennedy and Eisenhower may be coming to a quick end.

Two Avoid Quarrels

Throughout his eight White House years Eisenhower deliberately avoided quarrels—particularly with Congress—by refraining from attacks and feuds. Not so with Roosevelt or Truman.

Kennedy has done the same as Eisenhower. There were times in the latter's presidency when he went less than all-out for some of the legislation he asked Congress to pass. The same goes for Kennedy.

This avoidance of quarrels by both men may not create in the public mind the image of an aggressive or even very positive president. But it gives few people an excuse for building up antagonisms against them.

It may explain to some extent why Eisenhower in his time, and Kennedy now, have stood so high in public opinion polls. There has never been much reason for the general public to get steamed up against them.

In one big detail there is a difference between Kennedy and Eisenhower in dealing with Congress. Kennedy, with 14 years' service there, has a sharper understanding of the in-fighting, the dickering and maneuvering.

Both Their Boners Beauts

In foreign affairs the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations each committed one obvious beaut of a boner.

With Eisenhower it was letting the U2 spy-plane fly over Russia, where it could be shot down and was, just before the 1960 summit conference with Premier Khrushchev. With Kennedy it was letting the Cuban invasion occur.

The main characteristic of both men in foreign affairs seems to be mildness—certainly in comparison with their main opponent, Premier Khrushchev—but trouble piled up for both of them just the same.

They'll probably pile up worse for Kennedy for a simple reason: The United States had a head start on the Russians in nuclear development. They needed time to catch up or outdo.

With every passing day they get stronger. The result: They're in a better position to make trouble for Kennedy. This is so obvious that Kennedy, not satisfied with Eisenhower's defense program, has stepped it up.

In his time Eisenhower was accused of lack of leadership. Now Kennedy is being blamed by Republicans for not being firm enough. But there is one apparent difference between the two in the foreign field.

Eisenhower relied to an amazing degree on his secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, who did the tough talking for the administration and often gave the impression he was the one making foreign policy.

Kennedy is the dominant figure in foreign policy now. His secretary of state, Dean Rusk, who looks grey compared with the flamboyant Dulles ,avoids belligerent noises while Kennedy does the main talking.

Even so, all their talking is mild. In nine months the harshest statements to the Russians were made last week by a man much further down the administration ladder, Roswell L. Gilpatric, deputy secretary of defense, although he did so with full approval of Kennedy and Rusk.

Ike Now Critical

There was no relationship at all for eight years between Eisenhower and his predecessor, Truman. But Kennedy went out of his way several times—by personal visit or phone—to get Eisenhower's opinion on foreign problems.

The foundation for a good relationship thus seemed well laid. But it may be over. Eisenhower, anxious to pep up his Republican party ,recently has talked not only critically but derisively of some Kennedy administration performances. Kennedy has not replied.

Although during the campaign Kennedy indicated he would hold far more news conferences than Eisenhower, he has done nothing of the kind he has held only 17 since taking office. By this time in his administration Eisenhower held 17.

JFK May Support Shelter Sites on New U. S. Roads

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may back a proposal to build public fallout shelters alongside newly constructed federal-state highways.

If the plan is found feasible, the White House said in a letter to Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., it may be included in Kennedy's recommendations to Congress early next year.

Morton had made the proposal in a letter to Kennedy. The reply, made public Wednesday, was signed by presidential assistant Lawrence F. O'Brien. He said Kennedy considers the idea "very interesting."

Morton proposed building a string of large roadside public fallout shelters in conjunction with highway construction as a means of obtaining mass protection rapidly at low cost.

He said shelters could be built in areas of high population density, especially at interchanges, as well as along open highways.

The proposal has gone to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for consideration.

The huge holes that result when highway builders strip earth and rocks for fill material could be turned into deep shelters and covered over with dirt while heavy equipment is still available, Morton wrote the President.

Special Pumpkin Pie Makes A Lighthearted Thanksgiving

THANKSGIVING dessert will be worry free for dieters with this low-calorie—but still delicious—pumpkin pie.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Although there are many many things to give thanks for, it may be wise not to try to eat them all at one meal. A lot of men and women today are worried about being too fat. That's why in many homes, a few lower-calorie versions of traditional Thanksgiving dishes on the menu will be welcome and, at the same time, delicious news.

This pie is made with low-calorie butterscotch pudding and a non-caloric sweetener and is served in a graham cracker crust which is low in calories. It looks and tastes like the real thing, yet it's just 166 calories per serving (143 calories when made with skim milk) compared to 263 calories in a serving of "regular" pumpkin pie.

Pumpkin Pie

2 envelopes butterscotch dietetic pudding
2 cups whole or skim milk
2 cups pumpkin
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons non-caloric sweetener
1 baked 8-inch low-calorie graham cracker crust, cooled

Add pudding mix to milk in saucepan. Stir until well blended. Then cook until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat, add pumkin, the spices, and sweetener. Mix well. Cool for 5 minutes. Pour into pie shell. Chill until set—about 2 hours. Garnish with dessert topping mix, if desired.

Low-Calorie Pie Crust

14 graham crackers, crushed
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Combine graham cracker crumbs and sugar. Add melted butter. Press into an 8-inch pie pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Cool.

For those not worried about calories, this special ice cream pie is something to be thankful for, also:

California Walnut Apple Ice Cream Pie
(Makes 6 servings)

1 cup graham cracker crumbs
½ cup finely chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 tablespoon brown sugar (light or dark brown)
1 quart slightly softened ice cream (vanilla, coffee or eggnog)
1 can (No. 2 size) prepared sliced apple pie filling
¼ cup chopped walnuts
Cinnamon or nutmeg
Butterscotch sauce

Mix together the cracker crumbs, walnuts, melted butter and brown sugar. Pat into a 9-inch pie plate. Bake at 350 degrees F. 8 minutes. Cool. Spoon softened ice cream into baked crust and spread apple filling over the top. Sprinkle with ¼ cup walnuts and dash of cinnamon nutmeg. Freeze until firm; then cover tightly with foil.

When almost ready to serve, remove pie from freezer to refrigerator section for 10 minutes to thaw slightly. Pass a sauce bowl of warm butterscotch sauce (made with butterscotch morsels) to drizzle over each wedge for those who like their pie "sundae style."

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

Editor's note—Business is getting as dependent on outside specialists as housewives on repairmen. In this, second in a series of three articles on the boost services are giving the economy, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, tells how hard it's getting to draw a line between production of goods and services.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —Industry draws ever more heavily on services—almost as much as an individual. The general economy gains even while the shifting emphasis hurts some firms in favoring others.

It's getting to be a case of scratching each other's back. Manufacturers and materials producers use more services. And the fast growing service industries—and their employes—are requiring more materials and manufactured goods.

Look to Others for Credit

Manufacturers long have looked to others for credit and financing, for distribution and sales to the consumers, and for such specialized help as credit ratings, bill collecting, insurance, advertising.

More recently manufacturers have dipped their toes in such things as consumer market research, leasing of equipment, executive recruiting, improving their relations with the public, labor, shareholders and the press.

Today businessmen may turn over their complicated paperwork to electronic computer centers. They can call in specialists to handle incentive sales campaigns, to plan and run conventions, to conduct stockholders proxy fights.

It's possible for a corporation today to hire a service agency to pick the site for a new plant, a second to plan and build it for the company's special needs, a third to finance the building or to buy it and rent it back to the manufacturing company, a fourth to provide equipment on a rental basis, and still others to maintain the plant, repair the equipment, furnish temporary workers as needed.

And many corporations turn to financial specialists either to float public security offerings, or to lend needed funds, and to others to finance sales to dealers or consumers. Specialists may handle the corporation's stock transfer books, mail out dividends, prepare annual reports. And insurance specialists look after everything from fire losses to overseas credit and investment risks.

Ask Outside Help

Corporations increasingly turn to outside specialists to help chart the course of the general economy or of their particular field. Dun & Bradstreet, for one example, long has been known for setting credit ratings of some three million firms. But businessmen now turn to it also for such specialized information as a food price index, commodity price index, new business incorporations, weekly and monthly bank clearings, building permits.

Consultants and trade publications serve ever growing fields as scientific research both widens and narrows specialized technical industrial interests.

Consumer research is growing fast. For one example, A. C. Nielsen, Chicago, known for rating radio and TV audience responses, also studies sales of foods, drugs, cigarettes, cosmetics, and interviews consumers. It has scores of competitors.

Distribution in many cases is now turned over by the manufacturer to a service firm. Leasing companies have moved into both this field and into manufacturing itself.

Service firms set up sales campaigns, buy the awards, sponsor prize trips, or do all the tedious spade work for sales and other conventions.

At least one takes care of the inevitable speech making. National Communications Corp., Chicago, sponsors a Businessmen's Record Club and claims 5,000 active subscribers.

The recorded speeches of experts are ground out at gatherings in the fields of insurance, manufacturing real estate, auto sales, food, printing and publishing.

Friday: Manufacturers are moving in to garner more of those service dollars.

State Checking Shelter Frauds

NEW YORK (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz says his office is looking into complaints of fraud in the construction and sale of bomb and fallout shelters.

The state's highest law official, who is running for mayor of New York City on the Republican ticket, made the statement Wednesday night when a newsman asked him about a printed report that an investigation was under way.

Lefkowitz did not elaborate.

Kate Smith Loses $20,550 Suit in Placid Accident

NEW YORK (AP) — A State Supreme Court jury awarded a total of $20,550 Wednesday night to two men who sued singer Kate Smith for $150,000 for injuries suffered in a collision with her automobile.

An award of $3,050 was made to John Mahoney, 36, a Supreme Court attache, who was driving the car that was in collision with Miss Smith's near her Lake Placid home on July 26, 1960. Mahoney had sued for $50,000.

Matthew McCarthy, 65, a retired Manhattan bartender, who was riding with Mahoney, was awarded $17,500. He had sued for $100,000.

Miss Smith was sued individually and jointly with her manager, Joseph F. (Ted) Collins. They are partners in Kated Co., owner of the car which Miss Smith was driving.

Johnson Visits Sam

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson visited Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., at Baylor Hospital again Wednesday and said Rayburn appeared "considerable better."

But Needs Sincere West Understanding

Gromyko Hints Flexibility Of Soviet Stand on Berlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko says the Soviet Union is ready to consider the Western Allies' point of view on Berlin and Germany if the West is sincere in wanting an understanding with the Soviet Union.

Gromyko declared before the Soviet Communist party congress Wednesday that Soviet foreign policy demonstrates "flexibility and its striving to take account of the interests of the other parties to negotiations when they really seek an understanding."

He gave no indication of a retreat in the Soviet position in the tense diplomatic stalemate, however, and he asserted once more that the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace pact with East Germany if negotiations with the West fail.

The address marked Gromyko's first official public report on his recent talks with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk in New York and with President Kennedy in Washington.

Gromyko was applauded repeatedly throughout the address, which appeared to be a major statement on Soviet foreign policy.

He declared that he and Rusk agreed that the two world powers should find a way to make war impossible.

Sees Great Step to Peace

"The secretary of state told me that we all understand that neither Khrushchev nor Kennedy want to go down in history as the leaders who provoked a world catastrophe in the second half of the 20th Century," Gromyko said.

"I replied that if we can succeed in solving on a basis acceptable to both of our governments the questions concerning the liquidation of the remnants of the Second World War, this will be a great contribution to peace.

"We think Kennedy and Khrushchev must be the presidents in a period in which war becomes impossible, that is to say at a decisive turning point in history. The whole world would be grateful to Kennedy and Khrushchev for that," Gromyko said.

The foreign minister reiterated the Soviet government's adherence of a policy of peaceful coexistence with capitalist nations and added: "The victory between communism and capitalism will be decided by history and not by the Kremlin."

Area P-TA News

Lake Katrine

Dr. Paul G. Hoveman, local pediatrician, addressed Lake Katrine Parent-Teachers Association Wednesday night on the subject of Preventive Medicine for Children.

His talk covered such topics as the common cold, dental care and accident prevention in the home. Dr. Hoveman pointed out that too frequent changes in temperature such as children's going in- and out-of-doors in the winter time often causes a breakdown of body resistance to the virus that brings on the cold.

He also stressed that accident prevention in the home is an important item that is so often overlooked.

The Lake Katrine P-TA is planning a panel discussion on school bus transportation for next month's meeting, Nov. 28 at 8 p. m. Zale Liese, transportation supervisor of the Kingston City Schools, Consolidated, will be guest speaker.

Plans were also made for the annual children's Halloween party. Edward Crosby, principal, stressed that the general public may attend any of the meetings.

FREE ENTERPRISE SATELLITE—The first space satellite to be built and paid for by private American industries will be launched in the spring of 1962. It will be the forerunner of a world-wide system of about 50 communications satellites. Left, Bell Telephone Laboratories technicians prepare a development model of the 34-inch sphere. Broadcasting antennas circle it in two belts. Solar cells cover the rest of its surface. When the space bird goes into orbit, a super-sensitive antenna, right, set on a hill at Andover, Me., will begin sending and receiving signals. The satellite will relay messages to similar stations in England and France. The Maine stations, shaped like a giant ear trumpet, will be 177 feet long and 94 feet high. It will be protected by a 13-story dome. National Aeronautics and Space Administration will launch the first experimental satellite for a fee of about $6 million, which will be paid by American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Critical of Ike

Sandburg Is High On JFK Becoming One of Best Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — White haired Carl Sandburg spoke of bloody battles of a hundred years ago and what they mean to "the present hour of fate and history."

And in a twist of time and mood, the Lincoln authority spoke his mind on more recent presidents, John F. Kennedy and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The mercurial, 84-year-old poet put in a full day in the capital Wednesday and said his piece on a wide range of subjects, from books to fallout.

He had a chat with President Kennedy and lunch with the Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, and thenn went to the Library of Congress for the press review of the centennial exhibition of the Civil War. In the evening he delivered the address opening the exhibition.

At an afternoon news conference, Sandburg had a few things to say about Kennedy, former President Eisenhower and other matters.

President Kennedy—"Chances are entirely he's going to rate as one of the great presidents. He's a great relief from the press conferences of Dwight David Eisenhower."

Eisenhower—"The most ungrammatical president we've ever had. He has yet to know the people of the United States."

Fallout—"I'm 84, I've had my life. What do I care? There are those I love—I worry about fallout for them, but for myself, I've had enough fun."

Hearing on Milk Prices Set Nov. 1st

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A public hearing was ordered by the state agriculture commissioner today on conflicting proposals for increases and decreases in the wholesale price of milk on the Niagara Frontier.

Commissioner Don J. Wickham scheduled a hearing for Nov. 1 in the State Office Building in Buffalo.

Dairy farmers now receive $6 a hundredweight (46.5 quarts) for their milk under a state marketing order covering the Niagara Frontier.

The farmers want the price raised to $6.40. Wholesale dealers who purchase the milk from the farmers want it reduced to $5.80 a hundredweight.

The dairy farmers said in a petition to the State Agriculture Department that there had not been a real increase since 1950 in prices they receive.

The Nov. 1 hearing will deal with milk sold for use in its fluid state.

A second hearing Nov. 9 in the Buffalo office building will deal with the price of fluid cream.

ClaimMadeHydroPlan Would Stop Tourists

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—Plans by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission to divert more of the water pouring over Niagara Falls might put the Maid of the Mist boats and the area's tourist industry on the rocks, Don Murie, Chamber of Commerce manager, said today.

Delegates attending a tourist seminar were told that Ontario hydro plans to divert another 30,000 cubic feet of water per second for power. It now uses about 100,000 cubic feet of water per second, about half the Niagara River's normal flow.

2 Women Injured In Accidents, Man Stricken Ill

A woman was injured in a pedestrian-car mishap on John Street Wednesday, another was reported hurt in a fall, and a man was found gravely ill downtown.

A police report shortly after 2 p. m. Wednesday said Mrs. Anna Mirski, 65, of 39 Westbrook Place, suffered a possible concussion and was shaken up, in the John Street mishap.

Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz reported the car was driven by Joseph A. Stephano, 31, of Route 5, Box 372-A, Kingston, who drove her to Kingston Hospital where she was admitted and her condition was reported today as fair.

A report at 2:37 p. m., said Mrs. Esther Burger, 62, of 321 Broadway, had suffered knee, forehead and nose injuries in a fall on Mary's Avenue. She was treated at the Benedictine Hospital.

Police were notified at 4 p. m. that a man had fallen to the floor at 11 Broadway. Officers Francis Buchanan and John Turck along with a Fatum ambulance were dispatches there, and found that James Kouhoupt, 77, had been taken ill with what was believed to be pneumonia. His condition was reported as fair at Kingston Hospital today.

23 Workers Hurt In Upstate Fire

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y. (AP)—Fire flashed through a section of the Wurlitzer Co. plant today, injuring 23 workers.

The fire raged in a section of the plant where classified government defense work was being done, a Wurlitzer spokesman said. He said damage was apparently limited to that area.

The plant's main production lines for musical instruments and wood products were not affected.

Police reported earlier that an explosion had touched off the blaze but the plant spokesman said there was no blast.

A spokesman at DeGraff Memorial Hospital nearby said 15 workers were rushed there. All but three were treated and released. One of the workers admitted to the hospital was reported in critical condition.

Kenmore Mercy Hospital said eight workers were received there, all burn cases. They were identified as:

Ruth Hood, 46, Mrs. Elsie Becker, 50, Miss Rosemary Ziehn, 30, Mrs. Casimira Sarzyniak, 41, Mrs. Francis Klis, 41, Mrs. Elenora Pagels, 41, all of North Tonawanda, and Joseph Graves, 34, and Anthony Chrostowski, 28, both of Buffalo.

A Wurlitzer spokesman said the defense area was isolated from the rest of the plant because of the classified nature of the work. He said the area burned out was small but said he could give no figures on its size.

The cause of the fire was not immediately learned.

Firemen had the flames under control shortly after their arrival.

No estimate of damage was available.

Clear Televiewing Planned for Area By New Service

Certificate of incorporation has been approved by the Attorney General for the Kingston Translator Service, which will be located in this city and is designed to serve Kingston and the urban area.

Officers of the corporation are Herbert Nestell, 110 Henry Street, president and Raymond Kilmer, 176 West Pierpont Street, secretary-treasurer.

The translator system, sponcored by the Television Dealers Association, involves the construction of a 150 foot tower on high ground in Kingston. Through the use of a powerful antenna mounted on the tower, the original very high frequency signal received fro a TV station is picked up and sent to a translator located at the base of the tower.

Within this translator, the original signal is amplified in strength and transformed to an ultra high frequency signal, which is then sent back to the top of the tower where it is transmitted to the viewing area.

Says No Interference

A UHF converter and a small antenna are required for a TV set to pick up the re-transmitted and amplified signal. The result is interference-free reception.

The reception is free from all external disturbances giving a continuous, clear, year-round picture on the TV screen.

The major difference in the signal now received and the proposed signal is that the present one is very high frequency signal, whereas the proposed one is an ultra high frequency signal.

The KTS will service the seven New York City channels in the Kingston area, by rebroadcasting channels 2-4-5-7-9-11-13.

A group of local citizens, including servicemen and other local businessmen from Kingston undertook a volunteer investigation to determine the best available booster system on the market to improve local TV reception.

After careful analysis and detailed study it was found that a booster system known as the Translator System will provide the Kingston area residents with efficient and inexpensive means for year round, clear and continuous reception, a KTS spokesman said.

Aim to Raise Money

The KTS is a non-profit organization of local citizens for the dual purpose of raising funds and dispensing of these funds for the construction and maintenance of a Translator System.

All subscribers will become members of KTS with voting privileges. Since KTS is a non-profit organization, a corporation official noted, no dividends will be declared to members, nor salaries paid to its officers and directors..

The engineer of The Adler Electronics Co. Inc., of New Rochelle which specializes in the installation of translator systems, made an intensive survey of the terrain and conditions applicable to improve TV reception in the Kingston area.

This firm will undertake the construction of a complete seven translator system for $75,000. This includes the tower, building, roads, electrical wiring and applications for a license from the Federal Communications Commission.

Guarantee Promised

After the translator system is constructed and is in operation, the Adler Electronics Co. guarantees continuous, clear, year-round reception for 98 per cent of the homes in the area served.

The signal will extend out as far as 10 miles from the tower. Anyone who can obtain line-of-sight between his receiving antenna and the tower will be able to pick up the signal, a corporation official said.

ATTENTION
VOTERS OF TOWN OF ULSTER

My Fellow Residents of the Town of Ulster:

As your Democratic candidate for Supervisor, I wish to discuss with you one of the vital issues facing us in this campaign. Quite simply it is called "Passing the Buck."

In addition to his duties as executive officer of the town, the Supervisor serves as a member of the County Board of Supervisors. The County Board is and has been controlled by the Republican Party for many years.

My REPUBLICAN OPPONENT FAILED in his duty to his fellow townspeople when he voted to refer the question of the Community College to a public referendum. We are not concerned with whether he would have voted for or against the establishment of the Community College. We are concerned that he and his fellow Republican supervisors failed to discharge their obligation to their constituents. We elect a Supervisor to make decisions for us—not to pass the buck.

The Board of Supervisors had the power to either adopt or reject a Community College proposition. With the excuse that the expenditure of money should be approved by the voters, the Republican Supervisors passed the buck back to the people, hoping that the proposal would be defeated.

If the Republican Supervisors are so concerned with getting the approval of the voters on money issues, why don't they take their pet project of a new county building at a cost of well over $1,000,000 to the voters?

By the way, the Republican controlled Board of Supervisors has spent $100,000 in architect fees for this new building without having so much as a hole in the ground to show for it.

I have taken a stand on the Community College. I support Local Question A and shall vote for it on Election Day. You may be assured that if elected I shall fulfill my duties and vote on issues which come before me, regardless of how controversial. I shall vote for what I believe to be in the best interest of the majority of the people of the Town of Ulster. I WILL NOT PASS THE BUCK. People in a decision making position must be willing to make decisions.

Will Play Leads in Coach House Production Of 'Separate Tables' Nov. 2nd through 4th

ROSE MELLERT

W. SCOTT FOSTER

Rose Helen Mellert and W. Scott Foster will each play two contrasting roles in the brace of two plays that are to be presented under the collective title of "Separate Tables" by the Coach House Players at the George Washington School 8:30 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 2; Friday, Nov. 3 and Saturday, Nov. 4, under the direction of Houston Richards.

This is Terence Rattigan's twin bill of plays, both set in the same residential hotel, that scored a huge success during its 42-week run in New York during the 1956-57 season. Rattigan, the author, is renowned for such previous hits as The Winslow Boy, O Mistress Mine, and The Sleeping Prince, which Marilyn Monroe and Sir Laurence Olivier made into the movie called The Prince and the Show Girl.

In the first of the two plays, Table by the Window, W. Scott Foster will be seen as a man who had once been a vigorous, intelligent and highly promising politician. Rose Helen Mellert will portray his former wife who has tracked him to this place of refuge.

In the second play, Table No. 7, the players portray completely different roles; Mr. Foster as a hesitant, retired army major, and Miss Mellert as a dowdy, pitiable, red-nosed spinster.

Kay Fletcher will be seen as the wisely observing manageress of the hotel and appears in both plays. Lee Freeman takes the part of an arrogant, self-righteous dowager, who dominates everyone around her including "Hap" Clauss, her constant companion. The others in the cast are Norman Clauss, Marge Grant, William Hawk Jr., Doris Urell, Marilyn Craver and June Boyle.

A: One invitation will be correct. This could be worded:

Squeezing Juice From Grapefruit

Q: Is it considered good table manners after eating the fruit from half of a grapefruit, to pick it up and squeeze the remaining juice into a spoon?

A: At breakfast or other informal meal it is quite all right to squeeze the last bit of juice from a grapefruit into one's spoon. This should not, however, be done when company is present.

Cutting Meat on One's Plate

Q: Is it proper to cut a whole slice of roast beef up at one time before starting to eat rather than to cut a small piece off each time? It seems such a nuisance to have to keep picking up the knife after every mouthful to cut off another piece of meat.

A: If you wish, you may properly cut two or three pieces off at a time but you should not cut up the whole slice.

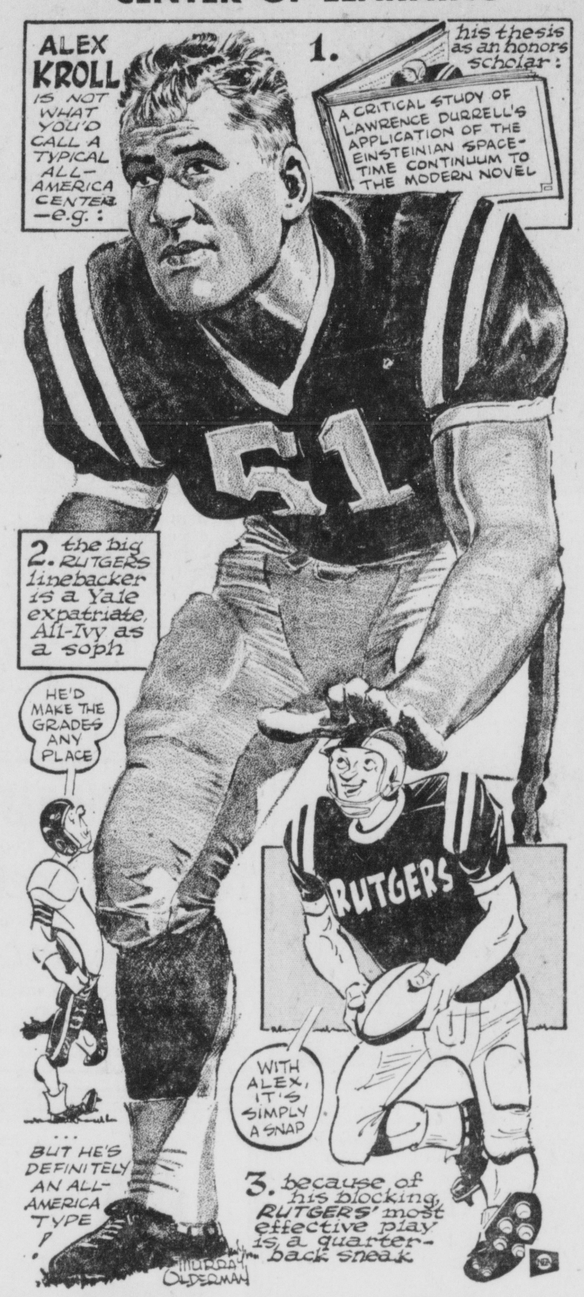
CENTER OF LEARNING



Groza's Kicking Toe Is Decisive

CLEVELAND (AP)—"He looks more like a banker than a football player," commented Cleveland Coach Paul Brown in jest before the start of the season. "We brought him back because he adds class to the club and looks so good sitting around hotel lobbies."

He was talking about Lou (The Toe) Groza, the Browns' remarkable 37-year-old kicking specialist, who has come out of a one-year retirement for his 15th season in professional football.

The "banker"—actually he runs a profitable insurance business—already has used his golden toe for clutch field goals to provide fourth-period decisions in half of Cleveland's four triumphs.

Freed of the gruelling offensive tackle duties he handled in prior years, Groza is kicking like a young colt. His accurate boots have registered three pointers on 11 of 13 attempts. The only misses were from 42 and 50 yards. He also has made good on 14 of 16 conversions.

Groza kicked three field goals and a trio of extra points in the Browns' 30-28 decision at Pittsburgh Sunday. The final field goal came with 2:49 left and sealed the verdict. A month ago Groza cracked a tie with 35 seconds on the clock by connecting on a 19-yarder for a 20-17 victory over St. Louis, this Sunday's opponent for Cleveland.

In other action Sunday, Dallas will be at New York, Chicago plays at Baltimore, San Francisco is at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia goes to Washington, Minnesota is at Green Bay and Los Angeles is host to Detroit.

Jerry Gross Has Best Individual Effort of Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Gross has regained the No. 1 standing in the nation's major college total offense standings.

The NCAA Service Bureau said today that Gross' 286-yard effort in Detroit's losing cause against Navy last week was the best individual effort of the season and rocketed the junior quarterback into a commanding position in the total offense race with 988 yards.

Gross led early this season, but after an open date fell behind James Earl Wright of Memphis. Gross' effort last week, coupled with an injury-enforced layoff for Wright, gave Gross a 201-yard lead.

Tied behind Gross and Wright are Alabama's Pat Trammell and Iowa State's Dave (Hoppy) Hoppmann, each with 750 yards.

Pete Pedro of West Texas State leads the ball carriers and Chon Gallegos of San Jose State leads the passers, each for the fourth straight week. Bill Wright of Brigham Young leads the punters with a 43.08 average.

Pedro, who has carried for 646 yards on 66 tries for a 9.8 average, also leads in scoring with 84 points. Gallegos has completed 62 of 105 passes. Gross is second with 59 completions in 120 tries.

Aragona to Start

Offensive Guards Would Be Missed if They Weren't There

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Take Jack Stroud out of the lineup of the New York Giants, and Charley Conerly or Y. A. Tittle throw no passes. Del Shofner or Kyle Rote don't catch them. Alex Webster doesn't reach the line of scrimmage.

What, you never heard of Stroud?

"They got to have two offensive guards on every team every Sunday," says Jack with the stoic reasoning of a guy used to being unrecognized. "If you didn't show up, they'd know you weren't there."

He has worked for nine years at the most unrequited job in the pro game, in the tangle of the interior offensive line. Stroud finds his compensation in the little nuances hidden to a guy in the stands.

"When you're pass protecting for the quarterback, like you do half the time," he explains, "you're just holding off the man opposite you, letting him get all the licks. So once in a while I like to rap him."

Rubbing a knot above his brow, where he had come in head-to-head contact with 250-pound David Jones of the Los Angeles Rams, Stroud defined the skullwork:

"As you come around the end, you see different colored jerseys. A recruit will run into the pile and end up getting nobody. I always spot one guy and try to get him. You've got this much time," and the Giant snapped his finger.

When the Giants played the Dallas Cowboys, Jack upset the defense strategy by picking up blitzing linebacker Terry Tubbs on traps, ignoring his normal assignment, the safety man.

"What're you doing here?" asked Tubbs, dusting himself off.

"Playing percentages," Stroud later explained. "Tubbs is a big, strong linebacker. I'd much rather get him than the safety man. The runner can't get by Tubbs on his own. He's got a much better chance against the safety man, who's generally a little guy."

Stroud insists that playing guard is a thinking business.

"I've noticed," he claims, "that the boy who is the best thinker does the best job. If he knows what he's doing, he has the best punch."

Stroud should have been through three years ago. His right knee buckled with torn ligaments three times. His left knee was bad.

"I used weights and special exercises for four months," he says, "to build back the strength. I was 30. You're not supposed to come back from bad knees at that age."

He also wasn't supposed to play in the National Football League when he came out of Tennessee in 1952, a 205-pound tackle. Through weight-lifting he added 45 pounds. He has a 37-inch waist, a 52 chest and his shirts are custom-made for a size 19 neck.

With these measurements, a guy needs to think?

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

Though it hasn't been officially confirmed, Monticello and Liberty will bid goodbye to the DUSO City Basketball League after the 1961-62 season and we feel the move is a good one on the part of both schools. It will not only give them a chance to schedule institutions their own size but will also enable the city schools to book some other outside games, thus giving them a more attractive schedule.

A FIVE SCHOOL LEAGUE

Just two seasons ago there were nine schools in the basketball league. Ellenville and Fallsburgh dropped out last season and now with Monticello and Liberty calling it quits, the once far flung circuit will be down to five teams for three sports. They will be the Class A schools of Kingston, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Middletown and Port Jervis, a B school but still willing to play in the company of the big boys.

What the new setup means is that a team like Kingston can book five outside teams on a home-and-home basis for its basketball season. There will be eight league games to go along with the ten non-circuit contests. And certainly, clubs like Wappingers Falls, Arlington, Mont Pleasant, Lourdes, etc. will be much better attractions than those from the Borscht Belt.

A NEW LEAGUE SCHEDULE?

The DUSO schedule makers might consider letting the five schools in the city circuit play several of their outside contests before the holiday hiatus in December and hold off the league slate until January. This would give the teams a chance to work out the kinks and also give the coaches a better chance to be prepared for the eight game league schedule.

We feel that crowds in most of the gyms will be increased once this smaller but stronger league has a chance to get started. This isn't taking a thing away from Liberty or Monticello but year after year, they just couldn't expect to compete on an even keel with the bigger schools. Now they'll play only in the Village league and it will mean a better deal for them.

JENKINS IS STOPPED

Only two days after a reporter for the New York World Telegram and Sun wrote a story about Charley Jenkins, the hottest thing in Westchester County, this great star was practically shutout by a great New Rochelle defense. Jenkins had scored 12 touchdowns and gained more than 600 yards in three games prior to the New Rochelle meeting. So what happened? The Huguenots held him to 102 yards along the turf and to a solitary extra point as White Plains fell, 32-22. This does not alter the opinion of your reporter that Jenkins is one of the most outstanding football players he has seen in the past decade.

RICHARD IS THE BEST

Those who might have picked up the Newburgh-Middletown High School game on the radio last Saturday would have heard a familiar voice doing the play by play. It was Dick McCarthy, the local jack-of-all-trades, who was "loaned" to the Hilly City station for a day. Bo Gill, in a recent column, said he will put McCarthy on line with any big announcer and we second that statement. . . . Speaking of the Middies, chances are they'll come into Kingston on Nov. 11 still unbeaten. They meet A. B. Davis of Mt. Vernon this week and are at Union-Endicott next week. Those clubs can hardly be called powerhouses. . . . Biggest shock last week had to be Roosevelt's 12-8 upset of Beacon. The Bulldogs figured to romp but they fell behind on the first play of the game and didn't catch up.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

Continuing our former All-DUSO teams, the 1951 club looked like this. The ends were Sam Leghorn of Newburgh and Eddie Gattine of Poughkeepsie. At the tackle slots were Ira Conklin and Frank Crosetta of Newburgh and the guards were Tom Ponessa and Bob Howard of Newburgh. Bruce Hinkley of Kingston was at center. In the backfield were Richie Spreet of NFA at quarterback, Dick Shewchuck of Port Jervis and Leroy Johnson of Poughkeepsie at halfbacks and Don Jackson of Newburgh at fullback.

Two Ski Centers In Greene Plan To Open Season

Two Greene County ski centers are making plans for the coming season. Many boarding houses in the area are also getting ready for the winter season, several houses in the Hunter and Windham areas will cater to the ski guests.

Siegfried Faller, general manager, said the Hunter Mountain Ski Bowl will be opened "as soon as possible," using snow machines up to the mid-section. The snow machines will provide more than 1,000 feet of artificial snow.

A new intermediate trail, running from the mid-section to the base, is now being completed at Hunter Ski Bowl.

One of the Hunter area resorts which has been tied-in with Hunter Ski Bowl to provide lodging and services is Villagio Itali, a Haines Falls resort which will provide lodging, meals and transportation to and from the slope.

Cave Mountain Ski Area at Windham is aiming to open December 17, general chairman Whit Mauzy reports. A few new ski trails have been added and a new rope tow installed. The slope, considered a "family slope" for beginners and intermediates, will not open before December 15 whether there is snow or not, Mauzy announced. This decision was made in view of the fact that not many people are interested in skiing until just before Christmas when schools close and holiday vacations begin.

Ron Santo Chosen Best Second-Year National Leaguer

By JACK HEWINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The National League sophomore of the year refilled his visitors' coffee cups and said he believed nice guys can succeed, too.

"You hear it repeated everywhere that an athlete has to be mean to get ahead," Ron Santo said today. "I don't believe it. Determined, yes; nasty, no."

The smile Santo wore as he talked to reporters in his suburban apartment was even broader than usual. The 21-year-old third baseman of the Chicago Cubs had just learned of his selection in the annual Associated Press poll as his league's best second-year player of 1961.

A determined Santo earned the honor in his third year of professional baseball. He made the jump from Franklin High School in Seattle to the major leagues after spending only one season in the minors.

"I'm sure surprised," he admitted. "I thought Gordy Coleman would get it." (Coleman, Cincinnati Reds first baseman, placed third behind pitcher Ray Sadecki of St. Louis in the voting).

Becoming sophomore of the year was not on the list, he admitted, when he set his goals for 1961: To bat .300, hit 20 home runs and bat in 80 runs. He finished with 83 RBI and 23 homers, but his average was .284. Midway in the season he was hitting .330.

He went into a bad slump but pulled out of it with the aid of Rogers Hornsby, former batting coach of the Cubs.

Hornets Still Seeking First Hockey Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Hornets came oh, so close, but are still looking for their first American Hockey League victory.

The Hornets, who haven't even tied this season, came from behind a 3-0 deficit, took a 4-3 lead, then lost 5-4 in overtime to Cleveland Wednesday night. It was Pittsburgh's sixth straight loss.

In the only other game, Hershey broke out of a three-way tie and took sole possession of the Eastern Division lead with a 7-4 verdict over defending champion Springfield.

The game was marred by an eight-minute fight and an attack on an official.

The fight broke out in the second period after Pete Conacher scored the key goal, giving Hershey a 4-2 lead. Don Cherry smashed him into the boards after the shot, and players from both teams charged onto the ice for a free-for-all.

Late in the game Springfield defenseman Kent Douglas struck linesman Don Foreman with his fist, then cracked him over the head with his stick.

Hoppman, Iowa State's Tailback Is a Natural

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anyone in the professional ranks is looking for a triggerman for a shotgun offense, contact Dave Hoppman of Iowa State sometime after Jan. 1, 1963. This guy is a natural.

He is the tailback in Coach Clay Stapleton's single wing offense, which means he handles the ball on most offensive plays.

As a sophomore last year, the 6-foot-1, 178-pounder from Madison, Wis., lead the Big Eight in rushing with 844 yards, which was also an Iowa State record. However, in 1960 he had fullback Tom Watkins for company and the two made a dynamic pair.

With Watkins gone this year, Hoppman has had to fight off the charges of a pair of talented sophs, Ozzie Clay and Dave Hoover. Maybe this pair inspired him, for he has gained 750 yards in five games, 446 rushing and 304 passing as the Cyclones have won three of the five.

He scored both touchdowns in a 14-7 victory over Oklahoma State and gained 113 yards in a 21-15 victory over Oklahoma, during which Clay scored twice and Hoover once.

Now with Clay sidelined for the year with a knee injury and Hoover as his relief, Hoppmann will be called on to do even more.

And how much more can a person do if he is already ranked fourth nationally in individual total offense and fifth in rushing offense?

Kansas State will get the answer this weekend when it faces the Cyclones.

Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team, is almost sure of not having the services of centers Mike Currie and Tom Jordan, and defensive specialist Rocky Ryan against Indiana in its Big Ten game this week.

Iowa's Hawkeyes, early season favorites for the Big Ten title, lost quarterback Wilburn Hollis for the season. Hollis broke a bone in his wrist in the Hawkeyes second game.

Coach Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin indicated that he may alternate quarterbacks Ron Miller and John Fabry in Saturday's nationally televised game against Ohio State.

Alabama's Pace Matched Twice In 16 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Alabama's stern defense is operating at a pace that has been matched only twice in the last 16 years, the NCAA Service Bureau said today.

The Crimson Tide has given up only 44.6 yards per game on the ground and 107.8 over-all, leading the nation's major colleges in both categories.

The NCAA said that only two teams in the past 16 years have presented equivalent credentials at mid-season. In 1959, Syracuse limited its first five opponents to 28 yards a game on the ground and 100.2 over-all. Twelve years earlier, Penn State allowed its first five opponents only 10.2 yards rushing and 69 over-all.

Other major college defense leaders this week are Nebraska and Pennsylvania, which share honors in pass defense, Arizona State with the top punting average (43.1 yards a kick), and Michigan State and Ohio State, the stingiest giving up points.

Michigan State and Ohio State each has allowed only 10 points in four games.

Both Nebraska and Penn have given up 43.0 passing yards a game, taking over the top spot vacated by Air Force.

Mrs. Flippin Leads In Women's Senior Golf

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. Harrison Flippin, five times National Women's Senior golf champion, held a four-stroke lead today going into the second round of the North-South Women's Senior Tournament.

Mrs. Flippin, of Douglassville, Pa., had a 75 Wednesday, two over women's par on the tough No. 1 course. Tied at 79 were Maureen Orcutt of Inglewood, N.J., the 1960 winner here, and Mrs. John Pennington of Buffalo, N.Y.

The next three had 80s. They were Mrs. Ralph I. Raynor, Bedminster, Pa.; Ada Mackenzie, Richmond Hill, Ontario, Canada; and Mrs. Thomas Findley, Augusta, Ga.

NEW ARRIVAL—Ron Klemick has been a pleasant surprise as Navy's starting QB.

Deer Hunting Prospects Good, Big Take Expected in Ulster

Albert G. Hall, chief of the Bureau of Game in the State Conservation Department, said today that depending largely on weather, New York's deer take this year is expected to equal or even exceed last year's take of 45,755.

The big-game season opened Wednesday in the Northern Zone, and November 20 in the Southern Zone except for Westchester County where archers only can hunt deer beginning November 1.

Deer herds are on the increase in many parts of the State, Hall said, and in order to hold down their numbers, the party permit system has been extended to eight new counties this year (Albany, Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Chemung, Schuyler, Steuben, Tioga).

Under the permit system, a party of four hunters is allowed one bonus deer of either sex per party in addition to the one-buck-per-hunter allowed under the regular big-game license. The party permits have been issued for six designated areas in the Adirondacks, Catskills or Southern Tier.

A beechnut crop failure is expected to improve deer-hunting prospects in both the Catskills and Adirondacks because, unlike last year, the herds will be more scattered instead of tending to concentrate on the beech ridges for food. However, the poor mast crop may have an adverse affect on bear hunting. Without a surplus of food readily available, the bruins — depending on weather—may go into hibernation earlier than last year, Mr. Hall said.

Regionally, big-game prospects during the coming season in Regions 7 and 8 are as follows:

REGION 7 (Albany, Columbia, Delaware, Greene, Montgomery, Otsego, Rensselaer, Schnectady, Schoharie Counties)

Regional Supervisor of Fish and Game John D. Gould of Stamford reports that deer-hunting prospects are good throughout the region. Populations are generally high; in fact, a starvation problem developed last winter in the southern part of Delaware County. The party permit system is designed to help hold deer numbers to the approximate level of last year.

The chances that a big-game hunter will harvest a bear in this region are rather remote, Mr. Gould says. Last year, a total of 112 bears were taken in the Catskills. In Region 7, the best bear hunting was in Greene County, with some taken in Delaware and a few in Orange. The bruins are usually bagged by deer hunters who accidentally meet with a bear.

Recently, four tagged bears were released in Greene County. A $25 reward will be paid to the sportsman who returns to the State Conservation Department the skull and eartags of any of these bears, along with information as to where and when the kill was made.

REGION 8 (Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster, Westchester Counties)

Regional Supervisor of Fish and Game Warren H. McKeon at Poughkeepsie reports that deer-hunting prospects are good, with more deer in some areas than the winter range can support. In Sullivan and Ulster Counties, the deer take may be as high as last year's record harvest. Deer numbers in Dutchess and Orange Counties are about the same as last year, and appear to be slightly down in Putnam.

In Westchester County, bow-and-arrow hunters only may take one deer of either sex between Nov.-Dec. 31 under the special archery license or the regular big-game license.

Bear populations in this region appear to be slightly up from last year, Mr. McKeon says, with best hunting in Ulster and Sullivan Counties, as usual.

Personnel Director Of Buffalo Bills

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Lou Saban, ex-head coach of the Boston Patriots, Wednesday night was named director of player personnel of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

Bills' owner Ralph Wilson said Saban would be responsible for preparing the club's 1961 draft list of top collegiate players.

Saban was fired as head coach of the Patriots Oct. 10. He was succeeded in the job by his former assistant, Mike Holovak.

Saban's football background includes playing days at the University of Indiana and with the Cleveland Browns of the All-America Conference, and coaching jobs at Case Institute, Northwestern and Western Illinois University before joining the Pats.

Pasadena Rose Bowl Road Is Seen Wide Open Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The road to the 1962 Pasadena Rose Bowl is wide open.

That goes for any of the five schools in the Athletic Association of Western Universities, one of which will be the host at the annual New Year's Day classic.

And the door is open to any school in the nation which might be interested and is deemed Rose Bowl quality.

The AAWU, or so-called Big Five, successor to the late Pacific Coast Conference, in effect owns the post-season game.

The AAWU championship race at this stage is strictly a toss-up.

AAWU executive director Tom Hamilton recently reiterated that the 1962 game and the invited team will be handled in the same manner as a year ago.

There is no formal or informal agreement with the Big Ten. Minnesota was invited to the last Pasadena engagement simply because the Big Five and their championship team, the Washington Huskies, felt the Golden Gophers would provide a good contest.

As matters stand in the Big Ten, one of its schools can accept a Rose Bowl invitation. But it must be invited.

The same open-door policy applies around the country.

Mantle Was Toughest Batter, Says Schwall

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Schwall, a lanky right-handed pitcher, wasn't even on the Boston Red Sox roster at the start of spring training. But by the time the 1961 baseball season had ended, Don Schwall was a bona-fide major leaguer—a 15-game winner as a rookie.

"Mickey Mantle was the toughest batter I faced," Schwall said today, "but forturately I had good results with Roger Maris. I pitch most of the batters low and away and therefore I don't give up too many homers."

Schwall, a 23-year-old Oklahoman, allowed just eight homers in 178 2-3 innings. Maris didn't hit any off him and Mantle had just one. Schwall's over-all won-lost record was 15-7 and he was 2-2 against the world champion Yankees. His ERA was 3.27.

American Basketball League Opens Friday

CHICAGO (AP) — The new American Basketball League opens its 320-game championship schedule Friday night with the Los Angeles Jets facing the San Francisco Saints in the San Francisco Cow Palace.

The eight-team circuit, whose commissioner is Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the Harlem Globe Trotters, will have each team playing 80 games and will be split into Western and Eastern divisions.

The Jets, Saints, Kansas City Steers and Hawaii Chiefs are grouped in the Western section and the Pittsburgh Wrens, Washington Tapers, Cleveland Pipers and Chicago Majors are in the Eastern.

Syracuse's Fourth Man At Right Halfback

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Sophomore Gus Giardi has moved into the alternate right halfback slot on the Syracuse football team, the fourth man to play that position this year.

Giardi was installed yesterday as the injury-riddled Orange prepared for its game with Holy Cross Saturday.

Los Angeles Lakers TightenFirstPlaceGrip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers tightened their grip on first place in the National Basketball Association's Western Division Wednesday night with a 120-116 victory over the Detroit Pistons.

It was the Pistons' home opener and the Lakers' Elgin Baylor and Jerry West gave 5,157 fans quite a show.

Baylor pumped in 36 points and West contributed 33 in boosting Los Angeles to a 3-1 record in the young season. Detroit is now 0-2 and joins St. Louis and Chicago in the division cellar.

Detroit scoring was led by Bailey Howell with 33.

Colgate Is Working On Pass Defense

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) —Colgate, burned by Yale passing attacks in losing its last five football games to the Elis, continues to work on pass defense in preparation for Saturday's game.

Yale, however, has averaged slightly more than 50 yards per game by passing this season.

Governors to Have Say on Fate of East Railroads

NEW YORK (AP)—The financial plight of Eastern railroads appeared today on its way to becoming a testing ground for state governors aspiring to greater influence in national affairs.

If this develops, it could result in important new exposure to a nationwide audience for GOP New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, widely credited with White House ambitions in 1964.

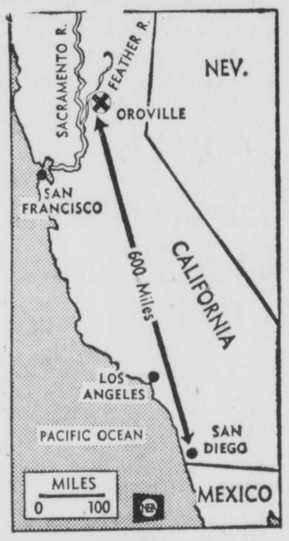
Ten governors who heard railroad men spell out their woes and appeal for help in solving them took no direct action Wednesday. But their spokesman vowed not to let the matter drop.

Instead, Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, chairman of the National Governors' Conference, said he plans steps to give the 50 state leaders a voice in the fate of any solution recommended by President Kennedy next year.

The President has said he will offer in January a prescription for the ills of the transport industry generally. It is generally conceded that the root of the trouble lies in national policy, or the lack of it, rather than on the state level.

Powell said he will urge the Executive Committee of the Governors' Conference to poll the entire group on the forthcoming administration proposals and to follow up aggressively in terms of whatever the canvass reveals—support or disfavor.

The Executive Committee meets in Chicago next month and again in mid-January shortly after the presidential message to Congress is expected.



BIGGEST DAM — Work has started at Oroville Dam, which will store water from the Feather River for transmission 600 miles to San Diego and southern California. The 735-foot-high dam (20 feet higher than Hoover Dam) will cost about $490 million. When finished in 1968, it will be the highest earth-fill dam in the world and store enough water to meet San Diego County's needs for the next 18 years.

Hunter in Brush Is Killed by Other's Shot

WELLSVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Carl F. Bissell, 32, of Wellsville, was killed today when struck by a 22-caliber bullet while hunting south of this Western New York village, State Police said.

Investigators said the bullet came from a rifle in the hands of Ernest J. Brown, 29, also of Wellsville. They quoted Brown as saying he fired one shot at a squirrel and did not see Bissell crouched in some brush nearby.

The bones in canned salmon do not have to be removed; they are edible and nutritious.

WHAT?

TRASH CAN CAUSE A FLOOD?
Tomorrow's devastating flood may start today—from sparks from your backyard trash fire!
Winds can carry sparks across your neighbor's land—to set fire to woods and brushland. And, too often, the grim aftermath of that forest fire is flood. Land burned bare of protective trees, brush and leaves cannot hold rain water. The runoff becomes a flood—spreading destruction, even death. Rich soil is washed away. Seared acres are left to erode into wastelands.
And all this in addition to the primary fire loss in homes, grazing lands and wild life!
So check local regulations before you burn trash—be sure fire can't spread—don't burn on dry or windy days—never leave fire unattended.

Tom's mother-in-law came to pay the family a short visit and she liked it so well that she stayed a whole year. She talked without letup from morning till night. At first Tom tried to get a word in edgewise, but finally he gave up. After she had gone away little Tommy said to his father:

Little Tommy—Dad, what was it you started to say last spring?

Small Boy—Mayn't I be a preacher when I grow up?

Mother—Of course you may, my pet, if you want to.

Small Boy—Yes I do. I s'pose I've got to go to church all my life, anyway, and it's a good deal harder to sit still than to stand up and holler.

Driver Ditches Trailer, He Says, To Avoid Crash

A tractor trailer was damaged, but the driver escaped injury this morning on Route 28 in Mt. Tremper when he swung into a ditch in an effort to avoid an oncoming car in his lane.

The Sheriff's Department said George M. Schlegel, 45, of Fishkill, told them he was going around a right curve, heading north about 8:35 a. m. when the other vehicle suddenly appeared on the right side of the highway. He swung the big van into the ditch, traveled 40 feet and rammed into two stone posts on a culvert about a quarter mile south of the Mt. Pleasant road. The trailer came to rest across the highway. The other driver didn't stop, according to Deputy Sheriffs Earl Conro, Thomas Mayone and John Seaholm.

The tractor-trailer which received front end and cab damages is owned by Anchor Motor Freight, Inc. of Tarrytown.

10-Week Contract Given Miss Utah For Movie Part

Carolyn Lasater, who came in third in this year's "Miss America" contest as Miss Utah, has won the first prize, a Warner Bros. contract, in the Fairchild Camera Screen Test Contest.

The 19-year-old blue-eyed blonde submitted a film screen test in sound which was made in her hometown with a Fairchild movie camera, an 8mm camera that takes sound and picture at the same time.

Her contract casts her in the picture "Lovers Must Learn," now in production, starring Troy Donahue, Suzanne Pleshette and Rossano Brazzi. She leaves for Hollywood immediately to appear in the film.

Miss Lasater was flown from her home in Salt Lake City to receive her contract at a reception in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City, today.

Bernard R. Goodman, executive vice president of Warner Bros., and Sherman Fairchild, chairman of the Fairchild Camera and Instrument Co., presented her with the 10-week contract which pays $3,000 and has a renewal option.

Carolyn Lasater was selected from among contestants throughout the country who sent their homemade screen tests, which they filmed themselves, for judging by a board of Hollywood talent scouts.

The two runners-up in the Fairchild Camera-Warner Bros. Screen Test Contest were William Allemeier, age 19, of Delphos, Ohio, now in Germany where his father is an officer in the U. S. Armed Forces and 24-year old Lynn Borden of Oakland, Calif., who was Miss Arizona in a recent Miss America contest.

Both runners-up will receive a week's all-expense trip to Hollywood in December and will have a guaranteed appearance in a Warner Bros. movie, TV filmed program, or both.

Glusker Speaks At Greene Event

Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville was guest speaker at the Coxsackie Democratic Club's annual banquet at Climax Grange, Tuesday night. Mayor Henry Betke of Coxsackie presided at the dinner at which more than 150 Greene County Democrats were in attendance.

In his talk, Mayor Glusker told the group he was first attracted to the Democratic party by the fact that "it was only during the Democratic administration that any sort of social legislation was even discussed or passed into law."

85 Areas Served By State Council Migrant Ministry

The New York State Council of Churches' Migrant Ministry served in 85 communities of New York State this past summer, according to the Rev. Charles W. Ackley, director of migrant ministry, in his report to the annual meeting of the migrant commission of the state council yesterday.

The Commission, meeting at the Protestant Center, Syracuse, heard reports of the migrant ministry being done throughout New York State by 26 area committees with a staff of 36 chaplains and five student teams. The Rev. Mr. Ackley noted that 645 volunteers supplemented the work of chaplains and student teams.

Even with this staff and volunteers it was pointed out that only a little over half of the migrants in the state were reached with the council's ministry. Under the direction of chaplains and volunteers Sunday Schools and Vacation Church Schools were held. Worship services were a regular part of the ministry. Other activities were held. Other activities included recreational progress and counseling.

Area Experiments Tried

It was revealed that two significant experiments in the migrant ministry are being carried on. Suffolk County used local ministers on a volunteer basis instead of paid staff. This type of ministry offers closer relations between the local community and churches than ordinarily pertains with paid staff. The experiment is new, says the State Council Director, that it needs further trial before assessing the long run value.

In Wayne County, in addition to the chaplain, an "adoption plan" was initiated. Local churches adopted a camp for the season and provided ministry and program in cooperation with the chaplain. Spokesman for the New York State Council of Churches pointed out that this has the advantage of making possible integration of the migrant into the local church community.

The migrant commission took note of need to expand the churches' ministry to reach a larger number than presently. The call goes out for the organization of local and area committees to help meet the need. The Commission noted the experiments in Suffolk and Wayne Counties with suggestion of similar experments be tried in other areas to supplement the ministry.

Meeting Earlier For School Group

The date of the first in a series of six In-Service meetings for principals and administrators of the Kingston School District (Consolidated) has been advanced one day to Wednesday, Nov. 1, it was announced today by Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools.

The program will be held in the Living Center at George Washington School from 2 to 4 p. m. and will feature a talk by Dr. Frederick L. Redefer of New York University on "Morale and Staff Relations." The meeting was advanced from Nov. 2 at the request of Dr. Redefer.

Dr. Soper plans to report on the results of the conference at the Board of Education meeting Thursday, Nov. 2. The board unanimously approved the series at its October session.

Trujillos Quit Dominican for Life of Exile

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — One brother of the late dictator Rafael Trujillo flew to Bermuda Wednesday night for a long stay abroad and the government confirmed that another brother departed for exile earlier.

Gen. Hector Trujillo, president of the Dominican Republic for eight years under the generalissimo slain May 30, arrived in Hamilton, Bermuda, with nine relatives and friends.

Presidential Secretary Armando Oscar Pacheco said that a second brother, Gen. Jose Arismendi Trujillo, also had left the country. He confirmed that both would live in exile.

The dictator's son, Gen. Rafael Jr., remains here as the nation's armed forces chief and the chief target of political opposition groups.

Assault, Accident Cases Adjourned, 2 Drivers Fined

Hearing of an assault charge against a defendant was adjourned in city court today, a driver was fined $50 on a reckless driving charge, and two persons booked on charges after a downtown accident are due for later hearing.

Arrested Wednesday on a warrant executed by officers Frank Monte and Harry Short, Iris A. Harvey, 32, of 21 Elizabeth Street, appeared today to answer to a third degree assault charge, and hearing was put over to Nov. 2. Her husband, LeRoy Harvey, was listed as the complainant.

Albert Becker, 30, of 65 Elmendorf Street, was fined on the reckless driving charge. Others dealing with inadequate lights, driving on a sidewalk and alleged failure to obey an officer, were dismissed. Attorney William Brinnier appeared for the defendant.

Daniel Smith, 33, of 16 Gill Street, was charged with lack of license, and Carrie Norman, of the same address, was booked for allegedly permitting an unlicensed operator to drive her car after a mishap early Wednesday afternoon at Catherine and Sycamore Streets. Attorney Howard C. St. John appeared for them and hearing was set down for Nov. 9.

Officers Frank Monte and Harry Short, who investigated, said the car driven by Smith, headed west on Catherine Street, struck the car of the Rev. Walter Washington, of 236 Catherine Street, parked in front of that address, and also hit a porch at 231 Catherine Street.

Irene Bohnke, of 30 Reynolds Street, charged with speeding, Wednesday, was fined $10 in court this morning.

Saugerties Man Hurt in Cave-in Of Concrete Wall

A 54-year-old village of Saugerties man was seriously injured Wednesday afternoon when a 16-foot wall of concrete blocks fell, crushing him to the pavement during excavation work at Brink's American Gas station on Malden Avenue and Main Street, Saugerties.

Edward C. Gardner of 11 Bennett Avenue, Saugerties, was reported in serious condition at noon today in Kingston Hospital.

Police Chief Arthur W. Richter said Gardner suffered four fractured ribs and two fractured toes, and was treated at the scene by Dr. Richard Wenger, who ordered him removed to the hospital.

It was reported that Gardner was salvaging cement blocks and steel from the garage as part of an excavation project at the gas station.

Joseph McGavin of Great Barrington, Mass., foreman for the contracting firm of Coleman and Moore of Hillsdale came to the assistance of Gardner and pulled him from under the debris. Gardner was not an employe of the firm, but working on a separate contract, a spokesman said.

According to Chief Richter the mishap was reported at 2:35 p. m.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The U.N. Command closed the military demarcation line today to Communist vehicles carrying Red members of the neutral nations supervisory commission to a camp near Panmunjom.

The commission's Polish and Czech members and their aides have been permitted to ride in their own vehicles across the line dividing North and South Korea en route to a neutral camp maintained by Swiss and Swedish members of the commission.

Khrush Rejects Jap Protests on Resuming Tests

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev rejected two Japanese protests against Russia's resumption of nuclear testing Wednesday night, simultaneously with the delivery of a third protest.

In a personal letter to Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda made public today, Khrushchev repeated his argument that the Soviet Union was forced to start testing again because of "war preparations by the NATO countries."

Schwenk's Goal: Cut Spending

Lower Tax Burden, Bring In Industry

John J. Schwenk last night said that his primary goals in seeking the office of mayor are to halt the city's rising budget, reduce its bonded indebtedness, and restore the various municipal departments to optimum efficiency.

The results of these three primary goals, the Republican mayorality candidate declared, will be lower taxes, improved communnity service, and the creation of an atmosphere which will permit Kingston to claim its rightful place as the leading market center of the Mid-Hudson Valley, and as a highly attractive location for new industrial expansion.

Speaking to a group of Young Republican Club members at the Downtown Campaign Headquarters, Schwenk pointed out that the city's annual budget has increased $381,579 in the past four years, and that its bonded indebtedness has climbed $204,000 in the same period.

Signs of Financial Ills

"The simultaneous rise in both budget and borrowing," Schwenk warned, "is symptomatic of serious financial ills in city government. Another indication of serious fiscal troubles is the fact that our budget has soared 15.5 per cent in four years, while the cost of living index has moved only six per cent higher.

"These are signposts of a bankrupt city, oppressive taxation, and a future devoid of municipal growth and opportunity," Schwenk declared.

Outlines Steps

If successful in his campaign for mayor, Schwenk said he will take the following steps to bring the city back to a healthy financial state, give the overburdened taxpayer relief, improve community services, and create an atmosphere favorable to industrial expansion:

1. Reduce the city's indebtedness by as much as $150,000 annually through road rebuilding

'horter Week nd $1.50-Hour .linimum Urged

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The State AFL-CIO convention has urged the adoption of a shorter work-week, a higher minimum hourly wage and the repeal of two acts — one federal and one state—that regulate union activities.

At the closing session Wednesday the convention's 2,000 delegates passed resolutions favoring a 30-hour week with a $1.50 statewide hourly wage minimum. They also adopted a resolution calling for the repeal of the federal Landrum-Griffin Act of 1959 and the state's Condon-Wadlin Act of 1957.

Planes Get Microscopic Samples

To Make Detailed Test Of Big Bomb Features

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the next day or two, U.S. military physicists will begin plucking out of the thin air some highly tangible information about the composition and efficiency of the big nuclear bomb the Soviet Union exploded Monday.

The prediction of Weather Bureau experts that the edge of the contaminated mass of air from Monday's explosion should arrive over the Aleutian Islands and Alaska by tonight is of prime interest to weaponeers.

Entirely aside from the overriding question of radioactive contamination this will bring the first opportunity for detailed laboratory analysis of the various features of the explosion

Picked Up by Planes

Microscopic samples of the debris from the detonation, captured by high flying planes, can be used to provide details not possible in the initial, quickly procured reports.

These first bits of information came from seismographic stations from highly sensitive microbraograph instruments which detect abrupt changes in air pressure, even at ranges of hundreds of miles — and possibly from such sources as submarine detection and observation.

For obvious security reasons, the military never discusses the location of particular ships at particular times. However, U.S. Navy atomic submarines roam to far distant places.

More Likely 30 Megatons

Soviet Premier Khrushchev had included the approximate date—the end of this month—in proclaiming last week his intention to test a 50-megaton bomb. The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported Monday's Soviet blast possibly was in the 50-megaton range but more likely was about 30 megatons.

Diem Asks More Sacrifices to Press Rebel War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —President Ngo Dinh Diem told his people today they have not done enough to press the war against the Communist rebels.

Calling for more sacrifices, he also told the armed forces in an order of the day they must "give greater consideration to social and psychological factors" in the campaign against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Diem's special messages were issued on the sixth anniversary of South Viet Nam becoming a republic and his election as the nation's first and only president.

He spoke out a day after the departure of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who after a survey for President Kennedy implied the South Vietnamese themselves should make a greater effort to combat the Communist menace.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor conferred for another hour today with Premier Sarit Thanarat, and U.S. Ambassador Kenneth T. Young reported they saw "many things the same way."

Taylor also got a secret briefing on the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's military capabilities at the war room of the U.S. Military Advisory Group's headquarters.

Could Use Caves Now If Fallout Hit Here

Government Not Paying Anything Yet for Equipment

Preliminary cost estimates for such improvements as would equip downtown limestone caves for use as fallout shelters can be made by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, but they are not expected to go beyond that form of assistance, it was learned today.

Third Ward Alderman Donald M. Hastings, chairman of a special Common Council committee named to deal with the shelter problem, said he learned the above in a letter from Col. George E. Pickett, a deputy division engineer of the corps, and was also informed that the caves, as described, could provide protection for 18,000 people.

It was also noted that planning for the Ulster County area could come under contract in six months, and it is expected that definite action in Kingston toward obtaining required equipment will be taken at the Nov. 13 Common Council meeting.

Could Use If Necessary

Under minimum conditions, the engineer reported, the caves, as described, could be used immediately as shelters.

"Our current mission," said the letter, "includes the location of all potential fallout shelters, the evaluation of the protection they afford against fallout, and preliminary cost estimates as to minimum necessary work to increase their habitability and capacity."

The division which he represents, he noted, "is responsible for executing the missions assigned to the corps of engineers in the Central Atlantic States." Kingston, he said, "is within the area of immediate responsibility of the New York District of the corps," with headquarters at 111 East 16th Street, New York.

Must Rely on Firms

Because of the large number of facilities to be investigated, he said, "approximately a quarter of a million in our area of responsibility, we must rely on architect-engineering firms for the actual surveys. The present planning would put the Ulster County area under contract within the next six months."

I do not think our architect-engineer will provide the detail information that you are seeking," Col. Pickett wrote, "although we will make the preliminary cost estimates for improvements. From the information you have provided, it is obvious that you already have a fallout shelter which could be used tonight if necessary, under minimum conditions, by up to 18,000 people. As you know, a facility which has normal structural integrity, and the desired protection factor against radiation, is a fallout shelter."

Proposes Equipment

"In studying the information provided by you," he said, "the priority improvement would ap-

Communist Crisis Builds

Showdown With China May Come Over Albania

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rumors are circulating in Western diplomatic quarters that the Soviet Union may force Albania out of the Communist bloc's Warsaw Pact.

These rumors are being carefully studied by U.S. and other Allied officials and suggest the possibility that the Communist camp is grappling with its worst internal crisis since 1948.

Could Be Vital Pawn

In its quarrel with Moscow, which broke wide open at the current Communist party meeting in the Soviet capital, Albania has the support of Red China. The struggle between the Soviet Union and Red China presumably has been intensified by the Soviet-Albanian dispute.

Albania, in itself, is relatively insignificant. But as a pawn in the struggle between Moscow and Peiping it could be critically important.

Authorities here are uncertain what the Chinese Communist leaders will do if Soviet Premier Khrushchev decides to expel Albania from the Warsaw Pact. But they think it possible that Khrushchev feels the time has come for a showdown with the Red Chinese.

May Slow Down K

Washington authorities doubt that the intensified strain between Moscow and Peiping will have any decisive influence on Khrushchev's strategy in dealing with the Western powers over the Berlin crisis. But they do not rule out the theoretical possibility that the dissension within Communist ranks might cause Khrushchev to go more slowly toward a showdown with the West.

The Soviet premier told the Moscow party congress last week that he would not insist on signing

Road Deaths Are 161 in State for September Month

New York State's traffic fatality record for last month was the lowest for September since 1948.

A total of 161 persons lost their lives on the state's highways last month, a reduction of 22 per cent from the 206 deaths in September 1960, according to the Department of Motor Vehicles, Albany.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults indicated several possible reasons for the reduction:

Dry weather may have helped, since deaths on wet roads were down 68 per cent from last year.

The Labor Day death record was 17, which is 35 per cent be-

U.S. Tanks Pull Back From Line

Crossing Viewed New Rights Test

BERLIN (AP)—U.S troops today moved across the border into East Berlin for the second straight day to reassert the right of Americans to move unimpeded.

The East German police closed the Friedrichstrasse crossing, but reopened it when calm was restored. U.S. tanks provided a backdrop for the convoy across the dividing line but were withdrawn later.

All Over In Hour

The situation flared up and died down in less than an hour.

The Friedrichstrasse crossing, known as "Checkpoint Charlies" to GIs, went back to normal and was again open to traffic by non-Germans. It is the only crossing between East and West Berlin that is left for the use of Americans and other foreigners.

The day's main incident at the checkpoint began when an American, driving a blue sedan with U.S. Army license plates, drove up unescorted seeking admittance to East Berlin. The East German police refused to admit him unless he identified himself, and he declined to do that.

Police Stand Aside

It was plain the unidentified American had been sent up to the border as a further test of the rights American authorities claim for movement about the city.

When the driver came back, three U.S. Army jeeps, carrying bayonet-armed American Military Policemen joined him for another try.

The East German police stood aside to let this military group and the sedan go by.

After convoying the sedan into East Berlin the military policeman withdrew, and the sedan cruised around alone in the Communist-controlled sector. East German police stopped the car when alongside again and brought the car safely back.

American tanks at the border were revving up their motors, meanwhile.

Readied Heavy Chain

Then the East Germans, backed up by a show of 50 or more of their Vopos (people's police) prepared to erect a heavy chain across the frontier.

"We are closing the border until this nonsense stops," an officer of the East German police said.

The sedan placed itself between the returning jeeps and the convoy came back into West Berlin.

After the incident, the border

Will Call Hearings About Controlling Automobile Speed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The head of the legislative committee on highway safety says he will call public hearings on the suggested use of mechanical governors to control automobile speeds and reduce highway deaths.

Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau, committee chairman, did not take a position on the issue, however. Legislation on the governors is not expected in the 1962 session.

Red China in UN by '62, Paltz Professor Predicts

"Communist China will be admitted to the United Nations by the end of 1962," according to Dr. Willard Hogan, professor of Political Science at the State University of New York, New Paltz College. Dr. Hogan made this statement at this week's luncheon meeting of the Kingston Lions Club.

Prof. Hogan said that the United States faces a stormy future as far as keeping nations on our side in the cold war, from a public opinion standpoint.

"There will be influential people in the United States who will say, if Red China is admitted to the UN, then the United States will drop out," according to Prof. Hogan. However, "If the United States walks out, this in a sense will be turning the UN over to the Communists and would in turn expose smaller nations to Communist influence," he said.

Dr. Hogan said that the UN is in a serious crisis and the next few years will determine whether the UN is weakened or strengthened. "The success of the UN is important to the United States in regards to its national welfare and security," he said.

"There are many problems facing the UN today. The absence of a secretary-general and struggle over the question of independence for the secretariat is but one. The membership of the UN has doubled its original size over the years," he said, and further pointed out the question of responsibility among the newer and smaller nations, and whether or not they are in a position to carry out problems that they are voting on each day. Hogan said that it is quite natural for the newer nations to be suspicious of the west, as they have lived for years under colonialism. Thus, "they also regard the United States as they do western European nations."

However, while these countries do not like great power conflicts, it is Dr. Hogan's belief that if these smaller nations are exposed to Soviet principles through the UN, and if the United States can defend its principles, "then the United States will find the fight going our way."

Dr. Hogan is a foremost authority on the UN, and is a co-author of a book on UN affairs.

Governor Tells Farmers That Surplus Food Could Be Factor in Beating Reds

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, urging farmers to participate in his fallout-shelter program, says the nation's food surplus "could well be the determining factor in deterring Communist aggression."

Rockefeller said farmers had "an important role to play," and that "post-attack recovery of farm production is by no means a helpless proposition."

He told the 89th annual convention of the New York State Grange:

"You owe it to yourselves and to the future of America to inform yourselves about these problems and preparations."

He said in the speech Wednesday night that the state college of agriculture at Cornell and other agencies were conducting research on means of protecting farm animals and products from radioactivity.

Stockpiling of seed, preparations for artificial insemination of cows and protection of water supplies were included in the program for farm recovery in case of enemy attack, he said.

The Republican governor, who has been advocating construction of family fallout-shelters, told the farmers that "protection against radioactive fallout for you and your family is essential, regardless of how remote from population centers or military targets your home may be."

In the event of nuclear attack, Rockefeller said, "prevailing winds would be almost certain to blanket the entire state with radioactive fallout."

He said one of the nation's greatest assets "in preventing war is the fact that we have a two-year food supply and the Russians do not.

"Since a nuclear war would stop agricultural production on both sides for a significant period, our food reserve could well be the determining factor in deterring Communist aggression."

Rockefeller's civil defense program includes construction of shelters in state buildings and urging a voluntary home-shelter construction.

He will ask a special session of the Legislature Nov. 9 to authorize state aid for school districts that plan to build shelters in schools.

'59 Crash-Program Atmosphere Missing

Rockefeller is Employing Soft-Sell Approach, No Overt Campaigning

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —Several thoroughly frightened deer bounded off the runway into thick brush when Gov. Rockefeller's plane touched down at a northern Vermont airport this week.

Friday, the governor will give a talk in one of the most plush hotels on Miami Beach.

Those two extremes point up the fact that Rockefeller is quietly expanding his political horizons again.

Get-Acquainted Trips

The Republican governor, a potential candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1964, is using a soft-sell approach in a growing number of states.

He is doing no overt campaigning. The governor has said he will make no political plans beyond November 1962, when he will be up for re-election. He is expected to win handily.

His out-of-state visits appear to be preliminary, get-acquainted trips.

The governor is meeting political leaders in each area, greeting individual voters wherever he spots them, addressing Republican gatherings and garnering a good measure of local newspaper, radio and television coverage.

He has evolved a basic, political speech in which he tells of inheriting from Democrats a red ink budget, high unemployment and a poor business climate. These, he relates, have been transformed under his administration to pay-as-you-go financing, decreasing unemployment and an improving economy.

Personal Touches Used

The governor continues to use to great advantage the personal touches that proved so effective in his 1958 election campaign.

Arriving at an airport, a hotel or meeting hall, he invariably stops to shake hands with the clusters of people who have been waiting to see him.

"I want to go over here and say hello to these people," Rockefeller said as he spotted three adults and a small boy waiting to see his plane off from Vermont.

He agrees readily to radio and television interviews during his travels and often will adjust his schedule to fit in a studio appearance.

In some ways, the trips are similar to the visits he made throughout the country in 1959. Then, he was trying to decide whether to bid for the GOP presidential nomination the following year. He eventually announced he would not contest Richard M. Nixon, then vice president, for the nomination.

Activities More Relaxed

But there are differences between the 1959 and 1961 visits. With the next nominating convention nearly three years off, the Rockefeller activities are more relaxed, lower-keyed and have the appearances of long-range, preliminary efforts rather than the crash-program atmosphere of 1959.

Rockefeller's current message is that the Republicans can win in 1964 through a fiscal and economic program that, as he describes it, sounds very much like his own.

He frequently is told by people he greets on the street that they would like to see him run for president.

"It's very nice of you to say that," is the enigmatic answer.

matter of Fact

In the springtime, birds fill the air with their mating calls. Fish have mating calls too, some of them not very different from bird calls. One of the most surprising sounds made by courting fish can best be described as a "wolf whistle." In competition, the fish who whistles loudest usually wins the lady.

Steak House Owner Pleads Innocent to Income Tax Charge

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph J. Talerico, 57, of Utica, has pleaded innocent to a charge of failing to file federal income-tax returns on more than $500,000.

Talerico, owner of the Talerico Steak House, was released in the custody of his attorney after his arraignment yesterday before Federal Judge Stephen Brennan.

Talerico was indicted on 22 counts by a federal grand jury. He was charged with failure to file returns on gross income of $513,000 between 1956 and 1959 and with filing fraudulent returns for cabaret excise taxes totaling $67,095.

In another action, Taddeus Mahonik of Oswego was indicted on a charge of concealing assets during bankruptcy.

Mahonik, who formerly operated a coin-machine business, allegedly concealed a car, a pickup truck and $2,750.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"A woman behind closed doors is one of the most tragic things in the world," said Olive Clapper.

"I know widows who have lived for years behind locked doors.

"Their trouble is that they refuse to give to life. They just sit and nurse their sorrow. It's the easiest thing in the world to do. But it is destructive to a woman in every way—it can destroy her health, her personality, her very life."

"Mrs. Clapper's own world fell apart Feb. 3, 1944, when her husband, Raymond Clapper, the political columnist, was killed in a plane crash while on a wartime mission in the Pacific theater.

She tells the story of her happy marriage—and how she built a new life of service after her husband's death—in a warm-hearted and inspiring book, "One Lucky Woman."

Should Be Realistic

Since most wives today outlive their husbands, Mrs. Clapper believes they should face up realistically to the prospect of widowhood.

Here are some of her suggestions:

"1. Keep up any skills you have—just in case. A woman who was a secretary should keep a typewriter around—and use it. If she was a nurse before marriage, she should continue doing voluntary nursing.

"2. Even if a widow has no occupational skills, I'd advise her to find some kind of work outside the home—even if she doesn't need the money.

"Work is the great consoler. Get out among people and don't hide yourself in sorrow.

"3. Many women, after a period of widowhood, hope to remarry. But since men are dying faster than women, the chances of a woman finding a second helpmate are meager. It is better for her to face up to this—and adjust to the prospect of a single life.

"4. Don't impose yourself on your children, or try to run their lives—or the lives of your grandchildren."

Mrs. Clapper, attractive and happy at 65, has lived up to her own creed.

"I never had any resentment or bitterness over Ray's death," she recalled. "He died as he would have wanted to—and I feel he went out in glory."

His editors suggested that she carry on his column. Mrs. Clapper felt this task was beyond her powers, but she had had experience speaking before women's clubs and she filled her late husband's lecture engagements.

In the years since then she has busied herself writing and speaking and serving as an executive of CARE. Last spring, President Kennedy appointed her cochairman of the American Food for Peace Council.

A career of service has widened her horizons, left her no time for useless mourning.

Looking back across a crowded lifetime, Mrs. Clapper repeated the lines with which she closed her book:

"I'm convinced that love, real love, never dies. It follows the beloved forever."

She feels she has, indeed, been one lucky woman.

Onondaga Urges Troopers Probe Falling Lumber

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) —The Onondaga County District Attorney has asked State Police to investigate what he termed an "almost too accidental" accident at a construction site.

A key witness in a conspiracy case involving an alleged brothel operator was struck on the head Tuesday by a falling piece of lumber at the site of a 14-story apartment building under construction.

Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Ryan called in State Police to determine whether what appeared to be an accident actually was an attempt to kill Wheeler Freeman, 46.

Ryan said Freeman, who was fired from his job with the Onondaga County Maintenance Department shortly before he testified before a grand jury, had taken the construction job against the advice of his attorney.

The grand jury, which probed vice and gambling in the Syracuse area, last May indicted Nicholas Rowe, 54, a former hotel owner, on charges of conspiracy and contriving a lottery.

The indictment charged that Rowe conspired with Freeman and Levotion Bell, 28, and that Rowe received $5,000 from them and others to protect Bell from arrest while he operated a brothel.

Rowe has not been tried.

Bell was convicted last March on a charge of living off the proceeds of prostitution. He was sentenced to serve two years in jail.

Ryan said Freeman told him he saw a shadow as the board fell. The blow made him unconscious.

Police said no one at the site knew how the board fell.

Thinks Reds Will Institute New U2 Charge—in Space

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A leading missile scientist forsees what he termed a "hide-and-seek" space war unless there is a stepped up program in U.S. military space weapons.

Dr. Walter R. Dornberger, vice president and chief scientist of Textron's Bell Aerosystems Co., in Buffalo, said Wednesday night that the program should include the development of a nuclear bombardment system from space vehicles.

Dornberger, who headed Germany's V-rocket projects during World War II, predicted that the Russians would institute another U-2 incident: "'when they ready... this time in space."

The target, he said, might be one of our operating satellites, including the reconnaissance, weather communication, detection or interception phases. With the present American weapons system, there would not be much the U.S. could do about it, he said.

"Let nuclear bombs in satellites circle the globe in all directions, escaping detection by varied altitudes and positions," he told a dinner - meeting of the Empire Post of the American Ordnance Association.

IBM Speeding Up Way to Load Tape Into Computers

NEW YORK (AP) — International Business Machines Corp. has developed a system of loading magnetic tape that speeds the flow of informations from electronic computers.

IBM said Wednesday the system, called hypertape, uses tape reels packaged in cartridges. The operator places the sealed cartridge in a unit and pushes a button.

Magnetic tape is the most common form of getting information into and out of computers.

Warren C. Hume, president of IBM's data processing division, said the progression from standard tape to hypertape was comparable to the transition from vacuum tube to transistor computers.

IBM said the Hypertape system enabled the IBM 7074 and 7080 data processing system to read or write up to 340,000 numbers of 170,000 letters in one second.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 26, 1961

TOLL ROADS' PLUS VALUE

As the United States interstate highway system gets more and more finished mileage into operation, motorists may be struck increasingly by the fact some super roads are free and some charge tolls.

Already, some organizations serving motorists are declaring that toll roads should be free, that drivers should not be fed into "toll traps" by the free system.

Some 2,270 miles of toll roads, bridges and tunnels have been drawn into the federal network. Together they represent a bit more than five per cent of the total 41,000 miles planned.

What can be said about this toll road web?

The big thing is that it is a remarkably safe, superbly engineered system of roads in being, which can take the motorist much of the way from Maine to Washington, D.C., from New York to Chicago, and across substantial sections of Florida, West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Most of these roads have been in service for at least four to six years, and some longer. That means they were already carrying traffic when the federal system was set up in 1956. No other roads have been in existence to do the heavy duty they have done.

In the interstate system, though 60 per cent of it is in some stage of development from planning to pavement, few usable long stretches exist to drive on. A notable exception is the piece running westward from Detroit to within 90 miles of Chicago.

Contrast this with the roughly 500 toll road miles in New York, 240 in Ohio, 200 in Kansas, 155 in Indiana, 118 in New Jersey. If the Pennsylvania turnpike's slightly more limited engineering standards had met federal system requirements, another massive 470 miles would be incorporated. Despite its exclusion, this turnpike is a thoroughly modern highway, one of the most heavily traveled in the nation, with some parts having served mre than 20 years.

Federal authorities consider it a foolish waste of money to parallel major toll roads with free routes. The 5 per cent of the interstate system which the turnpikes represent is 5 per cent that will not cost U.S. taxpayers.

Admittedly, the user-drivers pay tolls, but obviously they have generally been more than willing to cough up the money to gain time, safety and peace of mind on superior roadways.

Naturally it would be nice if the whole system were equally free, but U.S. road officials estimate it would cost between $5 billion and $6 billion to pay off revenue bonds which financed nearly all toll road costs.

Fair amounts of state funds were used in a few instances, and these sums also would have to be reimbursed.

The prospect of federal purchase does not seem strong now, though the issue stays alive and may get hotter. Whatever the ultimate action, the motorist can be grateful the toll roads are here.

Let him direct any anger he might feel about their charges toward those in government who took so long to see the need for a vast national network.

The toll road sponsors merely moved in to fill part of that need.

The Berlin issues should be settled in court like any other legal matter, says Arthur Larson, a presidential advisor in the Eisenhower administration. We can just see Khrushchev agreeing with this.

Even the brightest children have difficulty learning, says a psychologist and child analyst. This should comfort a lot of parents at report card time.

Teamster President James Hoffa denies any association with Communists. Much of his association has been with courts and Senate investigating committee.

THE OBLIGATION TO INTERVENE

The great Spanish historian, Salvador De Madariaga has written an article for the Mexican newspaper, "Excelsior," on the theme, "not to intervene against Castro is to intervene in his favor." This is undoubtedly a correct historical postulate. Quite apart from the fact that it was an American policy to assist Castro before he seized power, this country has failed to do a single thing to protect its interests or its dignity vis-a-vis Cuba since Castro has come to power.

The defense of the policy of inaction can be that the United States will not permit Khrushchev to select the theatre of the opening of the next war. Certainly we should prefer not to have that war start within 100 miles of American territory. If this is our strategy, then it is not unsound, but if our policy is based upon the assumption that we intervene against capitalist dictators but not against socialists of any kind, then we have erred.

The question arises as to how extensive a program should intervention be. Madariaga says:

"The rule that states must not interfere in the internal affairs of other states has always been tacitly accepted as a matter of common sense. But how far was it respected in actual fact?"

Intervention has been usual throughout history, the United States justifying its interference in Latin America by the moralistic Monroe Doctrine. Madariaga cites as an example of automatic intervention this example:

"Now-a-days, even those events that seem most strictly national may reveal themselves world-wide in their import. The general election that brought Hitler to power was a German internal enough (sic) event: it cost millions of dead to half the world outside of Germany.'

Madariaga goes further to say:

"The principle of non-intervention therefore, has collapsed under the mere pressure of the new solidarity which has made all of the nations one single world community. For this reason, intervention is inevitable — at any rate in fact, even when such a fact is not officially recognized. For instance, France, Britain and the U. S. A., having decided not to intervene in the Spanish civil war in favour of the Spanish Republic, and by the mere fact that they didn't, did actually intervene in favor of the rebels. Or again, if the U. S. A. does not intervene in Cuba against Castro, it will in fact intervene passively in his favour and therefore, alongside China and the Soviet Union, which are intervening there actively."

There can be no question as to the logic of Madariaga's conclusions. Whereas Soviet Russia has developed a technique for intervening in the internal affairs of every nation by means of an indigenous political party, the Communist Party, which publicly establishes its loyalty to the Kremlin, the democratic countries have developed no technique save war. In a word, the West has created no new method, no new concept, no new technique to meet the absolutely new and different method of the Soviet countries.

Most of the Soviet's success, particularly in a country like Cuba, may be attributed to the development of a new method of intervention through an indigenous political instrument. Neither Napoleon nor Hitler was able to develop what is tantamount to a permanent Fifth Column. Tallyrand was successful in corrupting governments in the interest of Napoleon, but Lenin and Stalin did not bother to corrupt govenments. They intervened by penetrating governments; by succeeding in putting native Communists and fellow-travellers in advantageous positions.

The technique of penetration by the Communists is brilliant and has best exhibited its power in Cuba, although Red China and East Germany are splendid examples of what can be done by fanatical native sons. Hitler attempted to establish a Bund in this country for purposes of intervention but he failed to recruit more than a small corps.

Soviet Russia now has as a base a country, a government, with a seat in the United Nations and with historic and traditional influence throughout Latin America. Soviet Russia at first attempted to establish such a base in the internal affairs of the United States in Mexico.

It does not matter, even slightly, whether Fidel Castro is an idealist or a scoundrel. What does matter is that the Soviet Union has established a base for intervention in the United States and that this country has adopted a policy of non-intervention at the wrong time and concerning the wrong place. The excuse is that we shall choose our own time and place. This is problematical because Soviet Russia is intervening everywhere, all the time, as a usual technique of the permanent revolution. Thus far, we have found no answer to the Russian method.

Couple Takes Issue With Medical View of Allergies

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Bouquets and Brickbats: From a husband and wife who "have been working with the local mental health clinic for 10 years." Without editing or correction, this is what they write:

"We would like to take issue with you with regard to your recent article on Children's Allergies. . . . Too often these allergies get labels like asthma, broncities etc. and are never explored on a psycosomatic basis. You will find an ever increasing number of people dealing with children who feel these children are almost without exception rejected by the mother, mother substitute and, many times, the father also.

"With parents made aware the child very often gets well after a session of therapy at which time the child is allowed to talk out his hostilities, express them through play materials and given strength to compete in his environment."

I hope this doesn't arouse the "hostilities" of the allergists. Or cause them to shut up shop and refer their practices to the "psycosomaticists."

From a "professional in the field of beauty culture for the past 22 years":

"You seem to dislike the beautician and blame her for all the falling hair, bad scalp conditions or anything that is wrong with the hair or the outer-top of the head. . . .

"I feel that I, and anyone in my profession, can say the doctor is wrong and is not truthfully answering the questions asked of him. . . .

"Any doctor knows the hair has to be nourished by the blood to be healthy and your blood is within the body and can reach your hair strand only by way of the hair follicle. The blood will feed or starve your hair and it lives or dies or falls out from a condition within the body. . . .

"Old age and falling hair, or loss of hair, go together, it is the natural way of nature the same as the leaves falling from the trees in the fall. . . .

"The chemicals used in permanent waving and hair coloring today are being tested constantly and have been improved 100 per cent in the past few years. . . . The beautician today knows her product. There is no room for the beautician who guesses any more than for the old quack who lost many a life."

Deap lady, this "old quack" never blamed all disorders of the hair and scalp on permanents, hair dyes, etc. He merely called attention to the increasing incidence of falling hair and even baldness in women who use these products whether on their own or in beauty parlors.

As a matter of fact, I am delighted with your recognition of the important role of the blood in the nourishment and maintenance of the hair follicle.

But won't your expression of this importance make it difficult for you to use or recommend hair tonics? At least until you can rub something on the tree to prevent leaves from tumbling down in the fall?

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The United States has only itself to blame for the nakedness of American defenses against missile-carrying enemy nuclear subs.

FIRST OF ALL: Basic research on the sea has been neglected for two decades. Now, U. S. scientists trying to solve antisubmarine warfare problems don't know the fundamentals.

They aren't sure just how sound acts in the ocean. They don't know the sea currents precisely. They don't know the exact characteristics of plant and fish life. They don't know the different thermal layers of the ocean or the precise effects these layers have on electromagnetic waves.

This is knowledge that should have been built up over 20 years. Without it, U. S. experimenters have to work almost by trial and error. They try one thing. If it doesn't work, they try another.

An excellent program of basic research has been down on paper for two years. If it's actually carried out, it should bear real fruit in 12 to 16 years. It will be a big help in six to eight years.

MOST OF THE HEAVY SPENDING for antisubmarine warfare research and development the past few years has not gone into basic research. The real money has gone for the cut-and-try tinkering. Tinkering is costly.

It leads into a lot of blind alleys. It is slow. It leads to half answers.

Tinkering doesn't point to the real breakthroughs that will make the U. S. safe against atom-powered subs armed with ballistic missiles fired underwater.

But having started too late, the U. S. is now trying to make up the lag with huge expenditures. This leads to waste in buying equipment. It leads to buying systems that are quickly obsolescent.

SECOND: THE U. S. ANTI-SUBMARINE defense program is hit-and-miss and disorganized.

Part of the program is under one department, part in another; some pieces are in one section, some in another; part in this industrial firm and part in that, in dozens of little bits, pieces and boxes, with little co-ordination and no overall leadership.

The program therefore limps and shuffles along aimlessly. Good work done in one laboratory isn't tied in with work done in another.

When a promising lead does come to light there's no ASW czar to jump in and overthrow routine, transfer a shock force to take advantage of a possible breakthrough.

The Navy learned the value of a ramrod task force when Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover took over its nuclear sub program. The Navy learned it again when Rear Adm. William Frances Raborn Jr. successfully pushed through Polaris ahead of schedule. These men made sure nothing stood in their way. The Army learned the same lesson in the Manhattan project which developed the atom bomb.

These lessons so far have not carried over into the antisubmarine warfare program.

THE SOVIET UNION hasn't made the same mistakes. For more than a decade, Soviet ships have been roaming the seas in numbers gathering basic knowledge. They've been studying the ocean bottoms, currents, the propagation of sound. The Reds have been stressing basic science.

Whether or not the Soviet Union is now ahead of the U. S. in ASW, the Reds have for this long period been building up the basic knowledge they require for a breakthrough.

Indications are that the Reds have this research assigned to a task group. They've set up a system by which all work in this field is quickly correlated for possible breakthroughs.

There is a danger the Reds will find this breakthrough first and be able to detect and effectively defend against Polaris type subs before the U. S. can do the job.

Think for a while of what that will mean.

So They Say..

Tax Potential in Industry Seen Cut by Pay Boosts

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 — Somebody has taken away this month at least $143 million of prospective tax receipts from Uncle Sam—maybe more—and the public doesn't know anything about it.

All that the American people know is that there has been some kind of wage increase in the steel industry which took effect on October 1. They haven't been told that this means additional wage costs of somewhere between $100 and $150 million on an annual basis—and some estimates run as high as $200 million.

Likewise, in the auto industry, about $125 million now have been added to costs by the new wage contracts.

Taken together, this is an increase in expenses in these two industries of about $275 million. Hence, the Federal government, which might have gotten 52 per cent in the form of taxes on profits from the corporations—or about $143 million—now loses that sum.

Where does it go? Most of it goes to individuals who pay a relatively low income tax, and they spend it in large part for consumer goods and pay higher prices for many of their necessities.

Another $132 million that could have been utilized by the companies to build plant and equipment—projects that would have really stimulated employment—is not going to be available to the private companies that earned it. This trend is what is worrying businessmen these days.

But sooner or later, the American people will have to begin worrying, too, because Uncle Sam's tax receipts are going to be steadily diminished if such costs are regularly added in industry and there is no corresponding "benefit" obtained. "Productivity" is the word often used to describe such a "benefit." But "productivity" doesn't come primarily out of harder work or longer hours. It comes out of new machinery and more "automation," and this takes money to purchase. It is precisely the additions to this reservoir of funds in American industrial companies that are being steadily prevented.

Follow Pattern

Some economists have worked out estimates of what would happen to government tax receipts and to funds available to private companies for expansion if the wage rates and benefits secured this very month in the steel and auto industries were extended throughout the industrial system. For, in the past, the unions in the steel and auto industries have furnished a pattern for other unions to follow.

If, in all corporate industry, the same scale of wage increases is applied as the average of those emerging from the October 1 pay raise in steel and and the 1961 wage contracts in autos, it is estimated that $2.9 billion would be added annually to corporate wages and salaries. Indeed, approximately $4.5 billion would be the total increase in corporate employment-costs if "fringe benefits" are included.

Here is a $4.5-billion item which must come out of profits. Hence, Federal taxes would drop $1.8 billion. This takes into account an offset of about a half-billion dollars in income tax receipts from individuals, so the net loss to the Treasury would be at least $1.8 billion.

What could Uncle Sam do with $1.8 billion? All expenses could be paid for the operations of Congress, the executive offices, the Commerce Department, the Interior Department, the Justice Department, and the whole judiciary system.

Sees Investment Drop

But worse than all this loss in Federal taxes is the impact which the new wage costs would have upon the future of American business expansion. Internal corporate funds for investment would drop from $30.3 billion in 1960 to $28.1 billion unless stockholders were to accept a cut in the wages of their money, usually called "dividends." If anything like that happened, it would mean that companies would have a hard time raising money for expansion except at very high interest rates, and this in turn would cost Uncle Sam more in tax receipts because interest payments are a deductible item on taxes.

If investment funds are to be diminished, the chances of increasing employment in America wil be reduced considerably. "Growth" and steadily increasing national output would become a myth. Meanwhile, Western Europe's rate of growth far exceeds the American rate of the last ten years.

The truth is that the economic system of this country cannot absorb these extensive increases in wage costs and still accumulate enough profits to buy the desired amount of new plant and equipment. That's why the heavy-goods industries, which are today the source of so much unemployment, have been hurt in recent months. That's why business is worried. For labor-union leaders show no signs of learning that they are killing the goose that lays the golden eggs.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

James Belefas, who owns one of the fine old stone houses, corner John and Crown Street, spoke to me several times about the preservation of these homes. If you will notice that on the four corners of John and Crown Streets, are four well preserved stone houses, all having historic importance to Kingston, Ulster County and New York State history.

If some sort of ordinance could be written which would preserve these old stone houses, Belefas feels it would prevent someone in the future from ever tearing or taking them down for some business enterprise.

As a rule people who buy and live in these historic homes, cherish them, beautify them, and try to carry along the historic pattern as close as possible. I am sure many visitors to Kingston who go through the uptown section, and see these stone buildings on each corner, admire them and ask about them.

With more cars on the road, there are bound to be more gas stations, and some day in some way, an organization may seek the site from future owners. I understand they already approached Mrs. Belefas. The proposition was so good it was difficult to refuse, but Mrs. Belefas held on to her home because she cherishes it.

I do not know how city ordinances of this type are made, but anyway while we are still sentimental about these historic homes, lets encourage the owners to keep them, and prevent them from being torn down, lets put it on paper.

A number of interesting houses, perhaps not as old as these, have been demolished, and black top covers the spot. In some cases owners have been actually forced into selling by sweet tak about improving the location.

The little red school house is gone, with it the books, bells, desk-seats etc., James Belefas who bought the old Port Ewen School house at 13 Broadway, gave the new Port Ewen school on Moutain View Road, the old bell.

It is now displayed in the foyer of the new school, with a metal plaque reading: "For over 60 years, this bell summoned pupils to school No. 13, Broadway, Port Ewen.

It was thoughtfully presented to the Port Ewen school, by Mr. James Belefas of Kingston, N. Y."

Belefas had a chance to sell that bell, immediately after he bought the old structure, but did not. I repeat this story again because Belefas did not go to that school, but he saved the bell for generations who are in no way connected with Mr. and Mrs. Belefas.

I feel local history is very important, and especially if it can be weaved in with state, national and perhaps world history. I would like to see a good copy or print of "The Landing of Columbus" by John Vanderlyn, (1775-1852) Kingston born artist, in every one of our most modern million dollars schools.

A really good copy appeared, right in our Kingston Daily Freeman, of Saturday, October 7, 1961, on page 6. Let it hang on the wall. It can be used when studying Columbus.

Visits to the Senate House Museum, can be encouraged to study our Kngston-born historic portrait artist. It will encourage interest in art and in local and world history.

Someday the students who sit in Kingston class rooms, will visit Washington, D. C., and go to the entrance of the capitol, and in the rotunda, see the life-size figures, of this "Landing of Columbus" which took four years to paint by John Vanderlyn. He later died broke in Kingston.

Conferences Are To Be Proposed On U. S. Economy

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regular conferences of top civilian and government leaders to chart annual goals for the entire American economy soon will be proposed to President Kennedy by his labor-management advisers.

The idea is to suggest limits and guidelines in such sectors as government spending, business investment and profits and wages and prices, in the hope the recommendations will be followed to insure stability and steady growth.

The plan is to put more persuasiveness behind the "hold the line" appeals voiced by Kennedy and his recent presidential predecessors while still avoiding a controlled economy.

While everyone would remain free to make his own economic decisions, it is felt that all would be somewhat more morally bound to act responsibly within the publicly stated economic goals.

The proposal for such annual goal-setting conferences is understood to be contained in a draft report of the wage-price subcommittee of Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

It is one of several sets of recommendations due to be submitted to Kennedy when the 21-man advisory group, made up of public, business and labor representatives, meets here again late next month.

The advisory panel, headed by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, has four other subcommittees readying reports for the White House on such subjects as "free and responsible collective bargaining and industrial peace," "economic growth and unemployment," "productivity and higher standards of living" and "policies to insure American products are competitive in world markets."

$540 Billion National Gross Is Predicted

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—United States Treasurer Elizabeth Rudell Smith has predicted a $540 billion gross national product for the fourth quarter of this year.

The figure represents an increase of $39 billion over the first quarter, she told a women's club luncheon yesterday. The figure was 516 billion in the second quarter and $526 in the third quarter.

Measures of the Kennedy administration, she said, pulled the country out of last year's recession. The measures "gave added strength to the natural recovery forces in our economy."

"Our recovery still is moving strongly ahead," she said, "and is expected to make further gains next year."

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John Boles, who can smile when he is called "the Elvis Presley of the stone age," was back in Hollywood this week for a sentimental visit.

The tag was hung on him recently by a Houston newspaperman. Boles takes it in good humor. In fact, he smiles all the way to his oil wells.

Stranger to Filmland

Hollywood hasn't seen much of John Boles in recent years. He is remembered as a robust, devilishly handsome leading man who could lead desert wars with his baritone ("The Desert Song), act fatherly to Shirley Temple ("Curly Top," "The Littlest Rebel") or husbandly to a host of anguished actresses (Rosalind Russell in "Craig's Wife," Barbara Stanwyck in "Stella Dallas," etc., etc.)

He returned here to help celebrate another of his old tearjerkers, "Back Street."

Boles was the apex of the triangle that included Irene Dunne and Doris Lloyd in the 1931 version. Charles Boyer, Margaret Sullavan and Nella Walker played the same game in the 1941 remake.

Now Ross Hunter, the noted exhumer of tried-and-true movie plots, has devised a 1961 version with John Gavin, Susan Hayward and Vera Miles. Boles was invited to help beat the drums and to attend tonight's premiere.

"The picture business has changed," said the former actor, now silver-haired but still strikingly handsome.

Says Enjoyment Gone

"Everyone seems to be frantic these days. All the fun appears to have gone out of making movies. In the old days, we used to enjoy ourselves."

Boles has carved himself a new career in the oil business and operates from San Angelo, Tex. He keeps a Beverly Hills apartment, but spends most of his time amid the oil fields of Texas and Louisiana.

"Yes, I saved my money," he remarked. "At least they won't have to be giving any benefits for me. When my career started to slow down, I didn't want to sit around. So when the opportunity came to get into the oil business, I jumped at it."

Gloria Swanson brought Boles to films in 1927 for the silent 'Loves of Sunya." His booming oice made him ideal for a leading man when sound came in.

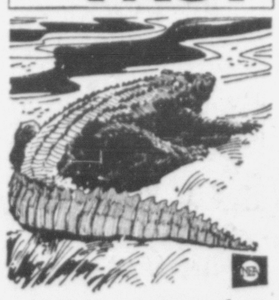
matter of FACT



How does nature keep down the numbers of an animal species that few dare to attack? She always manages. Take the crocodile. About the only creatures that attack adult crocodiles are man and the hippopotamus. But the crocodile is his own enemy. When fish are scarce, the male crocodile dines on the younger generation.

Result of Syrian Revolt

See Nasser Shorn Of Some Strength

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Syrian revolt has touched off a wave of arrests and reorganization in Egypt that diplomatic sources say is more widespread than President Nasser has admitted publicly.

Nasser even may have been forced to share some of his power with two long-time associates.

The arrests extend into the army and air force.

Nasser's government has admitted the arrest of 40 civilians and confiscation of property of 167 more. The government said they were reactionary obstacles to Nasser's goal of Arab socialism.

Damascus newspapers reported property was seized from more than 1,000 persons, most of them Syrians and Lebanese. And qualified informants say that at least 16 air force officers have been confined and possibly 100 army officers have been arrested or dismissed.

The army officers are mainly relatives or close allies of the wealthy civilians picked up on Oct. 17.

Censorship of outgoing dispatches has prevented Cairo correspondents reporting these additional arrests or other evidences of unsettled conditions in Egypt.

Some informed observers in Cairo believe that in moving to squelch any potential challenge to his regime, Nasser has been forced to surrender some of his power. These sources see a triumvirate emerging, with Nasser still very much on top but forced to trim his sails as he did in the first years after the revolution, when he had to work through a revolutionary officers' council.

The other two members of the triumvirate are both veterans of that council: the minister of treasury and planning, Abdel Latif Boghdady, and Interior Minister Zakaria Mohieddin.

Teller Takes Walk As Robber Shows WithDemandNote

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Bank robbers here customarily present the teller with a note demanding money.

Wednesday teller Margy Prepoutse beat the system. She simply walked away from her window at a Bank of America branch when a bandit flashed a pistol and shoved his note at her.

"Come back, come back," whispered the holdup man hoarsely.

Miss Prepoutse kept on walking.

The bandit slammed his fist on the counter, then stomped out of the bank—empty-handed.

GO, EAST, YOUNG RUSSIAN—In the 19th century, Americans were advised to seek their fortunes in the lands of the west. Today, the citizen of Russia is encouraged to populate the vast expanses to the east. Map above shows that the most significant increases in Russian population since 1939 (now at 209 million) have been in the far east, Siberia and south of the Urals. The increases took place in urban areas while the rural population remained nearly constant. In the west (European Russia), the total population stayed fairly stable, with rural losses offsetting urban gains. Data from Population Reference Bureau, based on figures from the 1959 U.S.S.R. census.

General Who Put Menderes Out Is Elected in Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Gen. Cemal Gursel, chief of the military junta that overthrew ex-Premier Adnan Menderes, was elected president of Turkey today.

A 101-gun salute greeted news that the 67-year-old general had been elected to a seven-year term as president by the new national parliament, which convened for the first time Wednesday.

Gursel, the only candidate for the post, got 434 votes of a possible 607. His winning margin was 30 votes higher than the required two-thirds majority.

The other ballots: 156 blank, 13 for three unavowed candidates and 4 invalid.

Gursel took the oath as president immediately after the vote was announced.

The army general staff intervened Monday in the critical situation produced by the indecisive national election of Oct. 15 and ordered the four contending parties to accept Gursel as president, and to agree to form a national front government.

Gursel is regarded as a pro-Western moderate who has not hesitated to purge fellow members of the ruling military junta when they tried to adopt extremist methods.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Health officers from every state meet here today in an extraordinary session designed largely to consider protective measures that might be taken if nuclear fallout reached acute proportions.

The two-day meeting, called by the Public Health Service, brings together about 100 federal, state and local health officers. The sessions are closed to newsmen.

Dr. Francis Weber, chief of the service's radiological health division, said there was no cause now for serious concern. He added that while information still was lacking about fallout effects of the Soviet Union's big nuclear blast of last Monday, any significant hazard springing from the current Soviet test series probably would not arise until next spring.

Not Sure Yet

Then, most of the fallout from all the Soviet tests, now lodged in the stratosphere, will begin to drop toward the earth.

It cannot be stated as yet, Weber said in an interview, that there would be a serious hazard even in the spring.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has announced 24 Soviet nuclear blasts—23 in the atmosphere and one under water—since Moscow resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1. The AEC reported Monday's Soviet blast possibly had the punch of a 50-megaton explosion, but more likely was in the 30-megaton range.

Concerned About Food

Today's session is aimed at drafting possible protective "countermeasures," ranging even to possible condemnation of certain food supplies if that should become necessary.

"There's certainly no need to introduce any such stringent measure now," Weber said. And, he added: "I can't say whether any would ever be needed."

And he stressed that, in considering measures to protect the public from taking in with food potentially dangerous quantities of radioactive materials, every possible alternative—short of actual condemnation of food—would be studied and evaluated.

For example, he said, fresh milk unduly contaminated with radioactive iodine might be stored at low temperatures — without freezing it — until the iodine, which has a comparatively short radioactive life, lost its radiation.

Or, he said, consideration might be given to converting fresh milk to powdered form, or converting it to cheese and other dairy products so that children would still get their nutritionally valuable intake of calcium.

Escape Capsule Rocketed From B58 for Testing

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A new escape capsule was rocketed from a B58 Hustler bomber Wednesday.

The ejection was the first aerial test in a series using life-size dummies. The goal is protection for fliers who bail out at supersonic speeds.

The Air Force Flight Test Center said the steel cocoon was shot, with two rockets, from a B58 flying 431 miles per hour at 20,000 feet. It landed eight minutes later by parachute.

Examination showed a crewman would have survived without injury, officials said.

Reactor Tests Completed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Tests of the Tory II A-1 reactor, designed to prove nuclear ramjet propulsion is possible for missiles, have been completed, an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said Wednesday.

The next step in Project Pluto is development of the larger Tory II C reactor for tests under full power. Bids already have been asked for expanding the facility at the Nevada test site 65 miles north of here.

Garden Club Will Hear Discussion On Roses, Lawns

Miss Sue Adams, a representative of O. M. Scott and Sons, will be the guest speaker of the Garden Club to be held in the Social Room of the Reformed Church Thursday at 8 p. m.

Miss Adams' topic will be "A New Look at Lawns and Roses."

Miss Adams' lecture, which she illustrates with colored slides, explains the Scott concept of easy lawn and rose care. Since a good lawn and healthy roses are the backbone of most landscaping effects, her subject will be of utmost interest to all gardeners.

Local Jayncees View Film; List Story Hour Plans

A film on child development provided by the Mental Health Association was shown at the Monday night meeting of Saugerties Jayncees at the home of Mrs. Andrew Chesnick, Cherry Lane.

Mrs. Chesnick was appointed as chairman of the annual Christmas toy project for this year and Mrs. Karl Gerhard was appointed chairman of the annual fashion show and sewing contest for 1962.

Mrs. Gail Abbott, program chairman for the Jayncee sponsored Story Hour held each Saturday morning at Saugerties Public Library, announced that this coming Saturday's program will be planned by Mrs. Warren Knaust, representing the Kingston Junior League. They have agreed to sponsor the Story Hour the fourth Saturday of every month, and will feature Origimi, Japanese paper folding.

The Jayncees again stress that these programs are planned for children between the ages of five and seven, and children younger or older will not be admitted. The hour is from 10:30 a. m. to 11:30. Parents are requested to be considerate of those in charge of the program and see that the children are brought on time and called for at the close of the program.

Program Safety Talk Presented To Monday Club

A program on safety was presented by Mrs. George Sawutz to members of Saugerties Monday Club when it met this week at the home of Mrs. George Hildebrandt, 10 Meadow Street.

Her discussion dealt primarily with safety in the home and the importance of being alert to dangers of the every day routine of housekeeping. She stressed the point of keeping poisonous cleaning fluids, adult medicines and guns and sharp objects out of the reach of children, showing them the correct way of crossing streets; the threat of fire from playing with matches or playing near a stove when food is cooking.

Adults also, she reminded, take foolish chances when they use makeshift ladders to reach high storage spots, or put a too high polish on floors.

The importance of using seat belts when driving was one of the important issues of her presentation and resulted in the members taking a stand on backing the world wide program of making it a law for everyone to use this safety measure.

Milton Armstrong of the New York Telephone Company, whose wife, Alice, is president of the Monday Club, showed a safety film in conjunction with the day's program.

The membership voted 100 per cent to have cancer check-ups by next March.

Next week's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Smith, with Mrs. Warren Myer in charge of the program.

NELSON G. BURHANS

The annual fall concert of sacred music will be presented by the Senior Choir of Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties, Sunday evening, Nov. 12 at 7:30 o'clock. Guest soloist will be Nelson G. Burhans, baritone, of West Camp. The program will include anthems by the augmented choir of 55 voices, a male chorus and Girls Sextette, concluding with the traditional hymn sing in which the congregation will participate.

The choir will be under the direction of Donald S. Fellows with Mrs. Fellows at the organ.

Golden Age Club Attends Bavarian Night Vols Dance

Members of Saugerties Golden Age Club were among a capacity audience who attended the performance of Willy Wittstadt's Happy Bavarians Saturday night at the annual Bavarian Night at West Camp firehouse.

President, Mrs. Eva Watts, voiced the opinion of the group saying, "we haven't had such a marvelous evening in a long time!"

Among the senior citizens attending were the president, Otto Schmilax, Thomas Thornton, Mrs. May Trimmer, Mrs. Violet Rocklein, Mrs. Florence Tallman and Kal Machonis. Transportation was arranged by members of the committee formed to help provide recreational opportunities for the club.

These same Golden Agers were among the 12 who feted Mr. and Mrs. William Van Tassell of Ulster Avenue on their 54th wedding anniversary Thursday. The monthly meeting of the club was held at the Van Tassell residence. The couple received a card from each member and an autumn floral arrangement from the club.

The hostess explained that the fruit cake served as part of the refreshments was her annual bake fest done each year on their anniversary since it was first served after their wedding.

Discussions that evening included the seeking of a permanent meeting place, and future events of the club which include the turkey Christmas dinner meeting in December and planning of a small appliance demonstration by Central Hudson in January.

Members were happy to learn that Mrs. Anna Kimble was much improved after her recent illness.

In addition to those who attended the Bavarian Night, other members attending the regular session were the Van Tassells, Mrs. Kimble, Mrs. Liza Burnett, Mrs. Carrie Diederick, Mrs. Leola Whitaker and Miss Isabel Myer.

The next meeting of the club will be on November 16 at the home of Mrs. Watts, 8 Jane Street. It will be the third anniversary celebration of the founding of the Golden Age Club in Saugerties.

An opportunity will be offered again this year for freshmen in Saugerties High School to participate in debate. The new director of freshmen debate is Decker H. Pardee. The varsity debating program is under the direction of Mrs. Frances Behr.

German Reds

crossing point was closed by the East Berlin police.

The East Berlin police brought up to the crossing point two armored personnel carriers with helmeted East German police.

A company of police also was marched up to the frontier and took up positions on the eastern side of the frontier.

Three Tanks on Line

Behind them came 10 American tanks and 4 armored personnel carriers. Three of the tanks moved right up to the crossing point. Seven stood back.

A representative of the U.S. commandant in Berlin was turned back earlier in the day when he tried to enter the Eastern sector on official business. He made it on the second try, after changing from civilian clothes to uniform.

The American, Irwin Firestone, was in civilian clothes the first time. He refused to show identification papers to East German police. A spokesman said he was en route to deliver a message to the Soviet commandant in Berlin, Col. Andrei I. Solovyev.

Contacts Washington

The attempt by the East Germans to tighten controls over Allied traffic is considered so serious that the U.S. commandant, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, asked Washington for instructions.

On his first trip, Firestone was accompanied in a U.S. Army sedan by an officer and soldier in uniform. In the past, cars with uniformed drivers have been waved through by East Berlin police.

Firestone went back to West Berlin, put on his uniform. He was allowed then to proceed.

During the morning several other official U.S. Army staff sedans had passed in and out of the East sector without a hitch.

But a French car bearing official number plates turned back rather than submit to an identity check. In it were a driver in civilian clothes and a man in a blue French army uniform.

A British military car with civilian and military occupants passed through whout trouble.

The Allies appeared to be trying out various combinations of passengers to test out East Berlin police reactions. Why the British car carrying civilians was waved through without a challenge while the Americans and French ran into difficulties was not clear.

Force Is Doubled

Each jeep carried a driver and three men with automatic rifles and wearing bulletproof vests. This was double the size of the force which thrust 400 yards into East Berlin Wednesday to escort two American civilians through Red controls.

Two jeeps were followed to the border by 10 American tanks and four armored personnel carriers. Three of the tanks moved directly to the crossing point, with seven lining up behind.

A U.S. Army helicopter hovered on the Communist side of the border as the six jeeps lined up.

There was an air of tension as German police moved spectators off the sidewalks and into neighboring side streets.

Wednesday the Army had sent three jeeps with armed soldiers into East Berlin as escort for a car containing two American civilians.

Delivers Protest

The Army also brought up 10 tanks.

The Army refused to say what message Firestone took to Solovyev. It seemed unlikely it was reaction from Washington, since Watson himself would be more likely to deliver that.

Watson handed Solovyev a personal protest Wednesday against the East German police order demanding identity papers of allied civilian personnel entering East Berlin. The Russian rejected it.

Solovyev insisted that the East German regime is in control of access to East Berlin and its regulations are binding. Watson replied that the consequences of this position "were potentially so serious" that he was putting the issue up to Washington "on a most urgent basis."

Serious Development

In Washington, Joseph Reap, State Department spokesman, said the U.S. government regarded Solovyev's rejection of Watson's protest "as a serious development." Reap said the United States is taking up the matter urgently with the governments involved—Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

In an attempt to avoid further incidents as the issue approached a showdown on upper diplomatic levels, the U.S. mission announced that "American officials not in uniform and their dependents are being asked for the time being not to enter the Soviet sector."

American Army sightseeing buses into East Berlin—a regular diversion for soldiers, their families and civilians attached to the U.S. mission here — were suspended.

Two Army buses with sightseers on one of the regular tours of East Berlin were turned back by East German guards Wednesday. An Army spokesman said the buses made no move to keep going to spare women passengers "undue harassment."

Earlier Wednesday three jeeploads of armed American Military Police defied the East German border guards and escorted two civilians attached to the U.S. mission 300 yards into Communist territory and out again.

Garrison on Alert

Ten American Patton tanks and two armored personnel carriers moved up to the border crossing point, and the 6,500-man U.S. Garrison was put on the alert. After six tense hours the alert was canceled and the tanks and personnel carriers were withdrawn. Three British Centurion tanks that had been rushed to the border near the Brandenburg Gate also pulled back.

Only the usual U.S. Military Police detachment remained on guard at checkpoint "Charlie," on the Western side of Friedrichstrasse. All was quiet during the rainy night with little traffic either way.

The East German regime has said it will not interfere with uniformed personnel entering East Berlin as long as a peace treaty has not been signed. Foreign civilians—newsmen, tourists and businessmen—entering East Berlin submit to the identification check and show their passports to the East German police.

A well-informed East German source said the Communists want to avoid a real border flare-up for the moment as long as they do not lose face.

matter of FACT

Bees often have a hard time pulling their barbed stingers out. If the stinger breaks off, they are so injured they die within a short time. On the other hand, a bee sting does little harm to people unless they have an allergy. It would take the poison in about 500 honey bee stings to kill a person.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors advanced as the stock market continued a recovery in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .70 at 258.30 with industrials up 1.00, rails up .10 and utilities up .40.

Gains of most key stocks were narrow. A few of the higher-priced issues which have been making strides recently were down on profit taking.

Gains in retail auto sales accompanied the rise of motor stocks.

Aircraft-missile stocks and machine tools improved. A slightly higher trend prevailed among chemicals, drugs, rails and airlines.

Ford and General Motors, the latter reporting third quarter earnings steady despite a drop in sales, climbed early a point each.

Union Carbide and DuPont were up about a point. Amerada rose around 2 and Texaco a point or so.

Boating Toll 54 Thus Far, Last Year 70 Killed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state's boating toll thus far this year stands at 54, a decline from the 70 killed last year.

The State Conservation Department said an enforcement program, in full operation for the first time this year, was responsible for the decline.

The program includes registration of boats, mandatory training for youthful operators and county-sponsored patrols on lakes and rivers.

Delegates Push For Quick Vote On Bomb Appeal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Bolstered by a thumping 75-10 vote of approval from the U.N. political committee, delegates pressed today for quick General Assembly action on an appeal to the Soviet Union to refrain from exploding a 50-megaton hydrogen bomb.

Denmark, one of the eight sponsors of the appeal, asked that the General Assembly give top priority to the resolution which cleared the committee after a stormy day of Soviet opposition.

Bloc, Cuba Opposed

Only the nine-nation Soviet bloc and Cuba voted against the appeal. Mali abstained and 15 nations—10 of them from Africa—were absent when the balloting took place.

As support for the resolution mounted, the Soviet Union and its allies finally abandoned attempts to stall off the committee vote. But Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin indicated the Kremlin would reject the appeal, asserting maneuvers by the NATO nations would not deter the Soviet Union from perfecting its defenses.

Tsarapkin charged that in the past the United States had conducted tests of 15, 20 "and perhaps even 30-megaton bombs." He asserted that the nations who backed the resolution calling on the Soviet Union not to drop the monster bomb had kept silent during U.S. tests in the atmosphere.

The resolution was sponsored by Canada, Denmark, Iceland, Iran, Japan, Norway, Pakistan and Sweden.

During the debate, delegates appealed to Moscow not to touch off the giant bomb Soviet Premier Khrushchev said last week probably would be exploded by Oct. 31.

Both Lift Threats

The Security Council meanwhile finally approved U.N. membership for Communist Outer Mongolia and Mauritania, breaking a deadlock that had imperiled Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

The Nationalists had threatened to veto Outer Mongolia and the Soviet Union to veto Mauritania, but both lifted their threats. The applications of the two countries were sent on to the General Assembly, which is certain to admit them as the 102nd and 103rd members of the world body.

The deal admitting the two small nations was concluded after weeks of maneuvering, during which the Kennedy administration advised Chiang Kai-shek's regime that a repetition of its 1953 veto against Outer Mongolia might cause a number of U.N. members to favor Nationalist China's replacement in the U.N. by the Chinese Communists.

Will Call Hearings

arose at a committee hearing Wednesday on safety devices for motor vehicles.

They included warning lights for disabled vehicles, devices to halt automobiles in the event of the failure of the regular braking system and equipment to prevent trailer trucks from jackknifing.

The committee also is studying the possibility of asking the Legislature to create in the state health department a research unit to analyze the causes of highway deaths and injuries and recommend remedies.

William S. Hults, motor vehicle commissioner, said his department now had research agencies and could carry out the functions mentioned "if the legislature will entrust us with this assignment and grant us appropriate funds."

PRIZE WINNER — Dr. Georg von Bekesy, Hungarian-born Harvard University researcher, won the 1961 Nobel Prize for medicine for his studies on the human ear.

Teacher's Salary To Be Topic at School Institute

How Should We Pay Our Teachers, will be the subject of discussion for the second school board institute session at the State University College, New Paltz, Wednesday, Nov. 8, in the new college dining hall at 7:30 p. m.

Management consultants who will discuss the topic are Dr. H. Lawrence Wilsey, a partner in the firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton of New York and Chicago, and Theodore G. Tulin of Barrington and Company, New York City.

Moderator for the discussion will be Mrs. Marie Kleine, a member of the Onteora School Board of Education and of the Mid-Hudson School Board Institute Planning Committee.

Among the questions to be discussed are: Does a merit salary schedule for teachers really work? What can public schools learn from the experience of industry in the field of employe compensation? What methods employed in industry in job evaluation can be used in public school systems?

Sponsored by the Mid-Hudson School Study Council, representing some 45 school systems in the area, the institute sessions are designed to provide information on topics which are of interest to school board members and administrators. Dr. William J. Hageny, professor of education at the college, is executive secretary of the MHSSC.

Other topics of institute sessions scheduled in the spring include Building Schools for the New Teaching Techniques, March 14, and The Central Purpose of American Education, April 11.

Could Use Caves

pear to be standby power generating capacity sufficient to operate your ventilation system and a minimum of lighting load for a two-week period. Adidional improvement could be baffle walls at the entrance to increase shielding at these potential hot spots. These are expected to be considered soon by the aldermen.

The letter noted that the city was already investigating water facilities in the caves and Hastings revealed today that further tests are to be made by skin divers Nov. 5. Present knowledge of the water supply indicates it would be more than adequate.

Guidance Available

Col. Pickett said he was forwarding the Hastings letter to the New York District of the Army Corps of Engineers, so that it will be "made available to the engineering firm as soon as it is contracted in your area. However, since this probably does not satisfy your immediate desire for further advice, we could suggest your city engineer contact the Office of Emergency Planning, Region 1, Harvard, Mass, which can provide operational as well as engineering guidance.

Hastings is expected to propose soon that the city's public work forces be employed during the cold-weather months in assisting to equip the caves for shelter use.

Showdown With

a separate peace treaty with East Germany before the end of the year. He linked this to a statement that the Western powers had displayed a "certain understanding" of the Berlin problem, indicating that it might be possible to arrive at a negotiated settlement.

Khrushchev's speech in this respect, and, indeed, its dominant tone, is regarded by officials here as having been reasonably restrained. The restraint on Berlin, however, was offset to some degree by his announcement of plans to explode a 50-megaton nuclear bomb and by the emphasis placed by other speakers at the congress on Soviet military prowess.

Row Is Old Story

Among all the developments at the Communist session, U.S. officials are obviously most deeply intrigued by the extent and future implications of trouble within the Communist bloc. The row between the Soviet Union and Red China is an old story going back several years. But the rumor of an outright break between Moscow and a European Communist country, even small Albania, is a new element in the feud.

The last time there was such a break was in 1948 when Yugoslavia fell into disagreement with Stalinist leadership in the Kremlin and was kicked out of the international Communist organization, the Comintern.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

It's Better to Keep Good List of Stocks

Q) "I will be seventy years old my next birthday. Last year I invested $5,000 of my $10,000 savings in stocks. My purchases were International Harvester at $45, Madison Fund at $17, and Stokely-Van Camp at $16. This year I put another $1,000 into Canada Dry at $25. What do you think of my holdings? Should I sell any?" — E. P.

A) You have a good list of stocks and I see no reason to sell any of them. In fact, I should like to compliment you on your choices. Of your four stocks, two are selling considerably above cost and two are just about even. Stokely-Van Camp came through with vastly improved earnings for the fiscal year ended May 31, and your shares are now selling for nearly twice what you paid for them. If earnings projections for fiscal 1962 materialize, further gains may easily occur. Your second stock, Madison Fund, has also done well for you. As a closed end investment company, its shares will continue to reflect the trend of the market, which, I believe, is basically up. The remaining two issues, International Harvester and Canada Dry, are also worthwhile stocks to own. Harvester is a big maker of farm machinery and trucks and, in a strong economy, should show some decent gains. Canada Dry has had a rather unpretentious record, but I think the stock has merit as an income holding. Over-all your portfolio pays a satisfactory return and has pretty good prospects for further appreciation. In your position, I would not disturb it.

Q) "I bought a block of Cenco Instruments when it was selling very low. Shall I hold or would it be better to buy some other stock?" — C. L.

A) Cenco Instruments (ASE) has had an outstanding record of earnings growth, which is expected to continue. As a manufacturer of laboratory equipment used in schools, the firm should benefit greatly from the increased emphasis being given to education. Cenco shares are not cheap, but I feel they still have plenty of upside promise left. My advice is to hold.

Road Deaths Are

low last year's count of 26 deaths.

Significant Drop

Pedestrian deaths were down by 23 per cent from the figure from the corresponding month last year, and pedestrians in the older age group showed a decrease from 34 to 26.

Of the 161 deaths, some violation of the law was involved in all but nine cases, with excessive speed a factor in 54 cases. Most frequent pedestrian action leading to fatality was crossing between intersections, with 18 of 38 pedestrians dying in that manner.

Previous Low 151

The previous low for September, in 1948, was 151 deaths. The highest September on record was in 1959, when 225 were killed.

The September figure brings this year's total number killed in traffic accidents to 1,462, the second-lowest nine-month total in at least nine years. The figure remained 12 above last year's record-breaking nine-month total of 1,450.

To Make Detailed

notice that a big explosion was planned, and with the knowledge that Novaya Zemlya had been the location of several earlier tests in the Soviet series, it is likely the United States made arrangements to procure all possible information on the blast.

Could Use Submarines

Some of the Navy's atomic submarines, including the huge Triton, could be especially useful on a mission to obtain data on such an explosion.

The Triton carries elaborate radar equipment as well as ultra modern underwater listening gear. The super-sensitive ears of a submarine's sonar system can detect shock waves as well as normal sounds. And radar can pick up a cloud formation at distances upward of 200 miles.

Chance for Exact Time

Even without radar, a submarine could make valuable contribution to data-gathering. One would be data on shock wave transmitted through the water, another on the exact time of detonation.

The precise time of detonation is of major importance in analysis. Certain elements produced in or released by the fusion and fission processes delay over periods ranging from split-seconds to hours, days and weeks.

The microscopic particles taken by high flying planes undergo minute studies in laboratories. The U.S. Air Force has used U2 jets in various parts of the world to take air samples up to as much as 80,000 feet altitude.

Troopers Crack

Smith. Some are short of change while others "just figure they can get away with it."

Troopers, he continued, had been lenient with first offenders when the crackdown began. But stiff fines—$10 to $100—now are meted out to anyone found guilty of cheating the toll hoppers.

The crackdown works this way. Troopers stationed inside the automatic toll booths count the money as it is dropped into the hopper.

When slugs, washers, or the incorrect amount lands in the hopper, the trooper radios or signals a trooper stationed down the highway.

One arrest, that of a Canadian newsman, Colin Murray, caused an international stir and wound up with Murray as guest of a Syracuse newspaper for a weekend.

Murray was fined $25 for allegedly short-changing an automatic toll collector near Buffalo. He protested to the U.S. State Department and Gov. Rockefeller. The Syracuse Herald - Journal played host to Murray and his wife last weekend in a show of hospitality.

The six lanes of toll hoppers at New Rochelle collect about $3,500 a day at 25 cents per car. The six near Buffalo charge 15 cents and average a total of $1,500 daily.

A thruway spokesman said there was no estimate of losses incurred because of toll cheats.

Smith said the losses probably were balanced by impatient motorists who overpayed rather than wait for change at manned toll booths.

"That's no violation. That's a gratuity," he said.

Schwenk's Goal

reforms alone, by saving the city $200,000 a year by proper street maintenance and repair.

2. Fully utilize the trained and competent people in the various city departments, and eliminate needless expenditures such as the hiring of outside engineering consultants at $10,000 to conduct an off-street parking survey that could have been capably handled by experts in the city's engineering department.

3. Eliminate political payoff jobs that make no contribution to improved city services, but place undue strain on an already excessive budget.

4. Institute a program of merit advancement and executive selection based on ability, experience, and competence, and thus restore maximum efficiency and high morale to the various city departments.

5. Seek revisions in the city charter which will eliminate unfair tax loopholes and provide additional revenue on a more equitable basis.

6. Utilize the latest methods of management, and up-to-date technical and material advances to provide more efficient services at lower cost to the taxpayer.

His Pledge to Public

"By adhering to these principles," Schwenk pledged, "I will bring to Kingston: better and safer streets; adequate off-street parking facilities; a revitalized recreation program and park system; improved municipal services across the board."

Schwenk also promised, "I will halt the upward tax spiral of the past four years, and reduce the city's bonded indebtedness substantially, so that future generations will not be faced with impossibly high taxes.

"These are the things that must be accomplished now, if Kingston is to grow," he declared. "City services and tax rates must be restored to favorable levels, so that Kingston may attract new industry, so that new job opportunities will develop with our expanding population," he added.

"City government must create an atmosphere to encourage our merchants, and help Kingston take it's rightful place as the leading retail center of the Mid-Hudson Valley," he concluded.

Shorter Week

elections and fiscal policies, while the state act prohibits strikes by public employes in the state.

The body also gave its approval to four proposed amendments to the State Constitution and opposed two. The amendments will be voted on by the people Nov. 7.

Approval was given to amendments that would create a unified court system; permit the state to guarantee authority bonds up to $100 million for the purchase of commuter cars; set up a state job development authority, and allow the state to guarantee dormitory authority bonds up to $500 million.

Opposed were amendments that would limit to 20 the number of state government departments but permit the Legislature to change their powers and functions, and another that would allow state debt for two or more purposes in a recession period.

The AFL-CIO, which represents some two million workers in the state, said the shorter work-week was necessary to counter unemployment resulting from increased productivity, technological advances and automation, and a deficit rate of industrial expansion.

The group will hold its 1962 convention, Sept. 10-12 in New York.

Scout Troop 10 Holds Overnight Camp Activity

Twenty-one Boy Scouts of Troop 10, sponsored by Ulster Hose No. 5, Town of Ulster, conducted an overnight camp recently at the troop campsite off Route 28 near Galis Hill.

The unit assembled at the foot of the trail leading to the site and advanced by patrol formation to the camping area.

Each patrol set up its own encampment, prepared and cooked meals from menus that were planned at a prior troop meeting.

During the day's activities, several requirements of the second and first class ranks were passed.

The troop leaders conducted several patrol site inspections for good scoutlike camping. The Flying Eagle and Flaming Arrow patrols had the best results.

A combined compass course and scavanger hunt which covered an extensive area was enjoyed by all participating groups.

Each boy tested his speed and durability on the obstacle course which is in accordance with the unit's physical fitness program.

During the evening the whole troop engaged in a game of commandos.

The program was concluded with a troop-wide campfire with songs and stories.

The body disembarked Sunday morning in order for everyone to attend services in their own church.

The encampment was supervised by Scoutmaster Carlton L. Deyo, Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Ryan and Institutional Representative Edward Muller.

Progress Noted In Milk Talks, N.Y.C. Hit Hard

NEW YORK (AP) — Milk supplies for New York City and Long Island were virtually non-existent today as a strike of truck drivers and plant workers reached its third day.

Negotiations resume today.

Before talks were recessed Wednesday night, union and management spokesman said, "we are progressing slowly but surely. We expect to make even more progress."

Flow Practically Halted

The flow of eight million quarts a day was practically halted when Teamster Locals 602 and 607—including Borden's and Sheffield—walked out in sympathy with Local 584, which began the strike. About 13,000 workers are affected.

Spokesmen for both sides said some issues had been resolved, and sounded a note of cautious optimism.

The union, which had been seeking a $10 a week across-the-board wage raise for all drivers and plant workers, cut the figure Wednesday to $8.

Drivers now receive $100.50 per week plus commissions. Plant worker pay ranges from $103 to $129 a week.

The dealers have offered drivers a $2.50 weekly increase and plant workers a $4.50 weekly boost.

Upstate Ponders Effects

Upstate, milk producers pondered the effect of a long strike. A spokesman said farmers would have to dump milk, feed it to calves or arrange for shipment to plants in other states if by-product plants — making cheese, butter and ice cream — became glutted with excess milk.

The spokesman said Upstate milk producers would not be materially affected by the walkout for another day or two.

How to Respond to Forced Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In the early days of contract the jump raise from one to three was played as a strong, but not absolutely forcing, bid. Today most players use it as a forcing bid if the man who gives the jump raise has not passed. But if he has passed, it merely shows 10 to 12, or possibly 13, supporting points.

North has just about the ideal hand for this bid. He has 9 points in high cards and 12 points in support.

South probably should have passed at three spades. He had a real minimum opening, but South was one of those players who believes in playing every hand in game.

He was lucky enough to make it, with an overtrick. He won the trump opening in his own hand and promptly laid down the king of hearts. West grabbed the trick and led a second trump. South won that in his own hand, led the four of hearts and finessed dummy's nine.

He had nothing to fear since if the finesse lost he would be able to discard a club and a diamond on the last two hearts in dummy.

When the finesse worked, he played dummy's queen. This dropped the jack, whereupon South still got his two discards. This left him with only three diamonds. He lost one and ruffed the other two in dummy.

6,000 Are Idle As Three Mack Truck Plants Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Mack Truck plants were struck at midnight Wednesday night when union and company officials failed to reach agreement on a new contract.

The plants involved are located at Allentown, Pa., Somerville, N. J., and Cortland, N.Y. About 6,000 workers are affected.

A fourth plant at Plainfield, N. J., is not involved because it is closing Oct. 31 to move to Hagerstown, Md.

A Mack spokesman said that a "major" concession had been offered to representatives of the United Auto Workers union, adding:

"Mack told the UAW that it was prepared to agree to the union's major request...the right to transfer to any other Mack production plant."

Union spokesmen could not be reached for comment.

The transfer issue came to a head when the company began limiting transfers of workers from Plainfield to Hagerstown to employes not over 58 years of age and those with three or more years of company service.

As a result, says the company, employes want a contract clause permitting unrestricted right of transfer.

The strike deadline of midnight had been extended from last Friday midnight when a three-year contract between Mack and the UAW expired.

Halloween Party Set

The Ladies Auxiliary Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219, American Legion, will hold a Halloween party at the Post Home, Tillson, Sunday 2 p. m.

The party will be for all children in the area. Children should come in costume with awards given for the Grand March. Games, candy and refreshments will be available. A small admission charge will be collected at the door.

GOP Meeting Is Well Attended; Candidates Speak

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Rosendale Republican Club Tuesday evening at the Grange Hall, Rosendale.

Raymond LeFever was the presiding officer and all Republican town candidates were present.

The main speaker of the evening was Kenneth L. Wilson, Republican county chairman, who was introduced by Miss Cordelia Feltman. Mr. Wilson expressed his views on why he thought it was necessary to have a Republican supervisor from the Town of Rosendale and told of the many things that had been accomplished by the present administration.

County Judge Raymond Mino, County Treasurer Fred DuBois and District Attorney David Corwin were also present and spoke briefly on the advantages of having experienced men elected to office.

Bernard Kramer who is the representative in the office of Congressman J. Ernest Wharton in Kingston explained that his office was open to the public and that he would be glad to offer his services at any and all times for problems at the national level.

John Delora, candidate for supervisor, was the last speaker and thanked all present for a fine turnout and pleasant evening.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Sandwich know-how: professional sandwich-makers sometimes use two thin slices, instead of one thick slice, of poultry or meat as the filling. For eating ease!

Ricketson Feted By SEWMA Group

Ulster County Sealer of Weights and Measures Ralph Ricketson of Saugerties, who served as president of the Southeastern Weights and Measures Association of New York State, was honored at the recent convention of the association when he was presented with a plaque in appreciation of his services while president from 1959 to 1961.

This was the first time that an outgoing president of the Southeastern Association has been so honored.

The plaque, inscribed, to Ralph Ricketson "In appreciation of service rendered as president 1959-1961," is a wood plaque upon which is a brass shield bearing the inscription and a small brass gavel.

Delegates from the counties of the state on both sides of the Rudson river from Westchester to Green County attended the conference of the Southeastern Association at which the association honored Ricketson.

NSC Gives Tips to Goblins

Just Like Other Mortals, Halloween Pranksters Told

CHICAGO (AP)—Those terrifying spooks and goblins that turn out en masse on Halloween fall victims to the same harms that plague ordinary mortals.

Automobiles can hit them as they take off on their broomsticks. Their shrouds can catch fire. And the ghastly faces that scare others can strangle them.

These secrets of the nether world were let out today by the National Safety Council, an organization dedicated to, among other things, saving the spook population for future Halloweens. Next Tuesday is Halloween.

Some goblins hide their real faces behind masks of cloth, rubber or paper. Some of the eye slits are too small for good vision or the mask may slip and cover the eyes entirely. When a goblin is running from a house with a sackful of treats, he may have mask trouble and not see an oncoming automobile.

And if the goblin is wearing dark regalia, such as favored by the Dracula mob, the motorists may be unable to see him in time.

Spook suits, regardless of color, have been known to catch fire from candle-illuminated jack-o-lanterns.

The council suggested these tips:

Faces can be made mighty scary with rouge, eyebrow pencil and multicolored mascara. Cold cream takes it off when spooking time is over.

Dark costumes can be trimmed with adhesive reflector tape. They can be made flameproof by dipping in a solution of 4 ounces of boric acid, 9 ounces of borax and a gallon of warm water. Washing or dry-cleaning, however, will take out the protection.

Flashlights instead of candle will fireproof pumpkins.

And goblins should do their tormenting in groups of four to five and beg treats only at homes where they know the occupants.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Andrew Hutchinson Lyon, 71, managing editor of the Post Publishing Company newspapers in Bridgeport since 1943, died Wednesday. Lyon had been associated with the Bridgeport Post since 1914 except for two brief periods.

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Allan Jeans, 84, director of the Liverpool Daily Post and Echo, died Wednesday.

PARIS (AP) — Saturnin Fabre, 77, veteran stage and film actor, died Tuesday.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Fred William Hoffman, 74, former president of the Cudahy Packing Co., died Tuesday after a long illness.

CHICAGO (AP) —James A. Laing, 61, secretary and treasurer of the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, died Wednesday after a brief illness.

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Howard A. Lane, 58, professor of education at San Francisco State College since 1958, died Wednesday.

Senate Democrats Rap Ike As Fiscal, Corps Critic

WASHINGTON (AP) With the White House silent, four Senate Democrats struck back today against an attack by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on Kennedy administration fiscal policies and the Peace Corps.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Eisenhower was engaging in "campaign oratory" when he said in New York Tuesday that the administration's budget policies are "shrinking dollars" and that the Peace Corps is a "juvenile experiment."

"When the former president talked about deficits in his purely political speech," Mansfield said, "he should have been reminded that in one year during his administration the nation had the highest peacetime deficit in its history, $12.5 billion.

"I am glad he is willing to admit that the nation has attained a state of prosperity. I hope he recalls that when President Kennedy took over from him we were in a state of recession."

Mansfield said Congress had given its overwhelming approval to establishment of the Peace Corps. He added that he hopes it will "be given an opportunity to prove its worth before it is condemned for purely political reasons."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said in a separate interview he was disappointed that Eisenhower would express critical opinions about the Peace Corps.

"I think he has caused hurt to a lot of very sincere American young men and women who are showing a dedication to their nation that ought to be encouraged" Hart said.

Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger, D-Ore., said she thought Eisenhower had "belittled his own position" by suggesting sarcastically that a Peace Corps member be sent to the moon because that was an underdeveloped country.

"His statement that this is a 'juvenile experiment' shows his lack of information about the corps," she said. "There are people in it as old as 50 years of age."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said Eisenhower was "completely misinformed if he thinks the Peace Corps is not popular and eagerly sought in countries where it has not yet sent any of its members."

Dies Trimming Tree

CROTON FALLS, N.Y. (AP)— Eugene Herbert Wood, 19, died while trimming branches of a tree 50 feet above ground.

His body remained lodged in the tree Wednesday until removed by firemen. The firemen had been summoned by a coworker, James Brewster, in an effort to aid the youth. Wood was dead, however, before help arrived.

Doctors expressed belief the young man may have died of a ruptured blood vessel in the brain. An autopsy was planned to determine the exact cause of death.

Jersey May Get Part Of Sandy Hook Base

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Within a week the Defense Department will approve the leasing of 460 acres of Sandy Hook military base to New Jersey for the creation of a public park, Stewart Udall, secretary of the interior, has announced.

Udall, speaking Wednesday night at a news conference at Newark Airport, said the lease is "a real break-through" in the Defense Department's policy, adding it was the first time the department had relinquished land for such a purpose.

Udall also announced that President Kennedy would meet with the governors of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware "in a few days" to implement the Delaware River compact.

The compact provides for a massive development of the water resources of the Delaware River Basin over the next 50 years, including flood - control dams, recreation areas and hydroelectric projects.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Sullivan County people in town recently included Hilda Visscher and Marion Ross of Grahamsville.

Helen Hugh, a resident of Ohayo Mountain Road for about a year, was a caller in the village Saturday.

Alma Harding Dean, one-time vaudeville performer and silent film actress who died at Mt. [illegible] Oct. 17, had made her home at the Mrs. Earl Elmendorf [illegible] here before moving to the Town of Shandaken. She was also a resident of Ashokan some 30 years ago while her husband, Earl Dean, a vaudeville actor, was living. The couple at one time conducted a guest home on Route 28, Ashokan.

Otto Graffe, who for the past several months has been building a summer home at Oliverea, was here Sunday. Graffe and his mother plan to remain in the Big Indian Valley a couple of months.

Large flocks of wild geese passed over the Ashokan Reservoir last week headed south. There were also many flocks in air over New York City's Pepacton Reservoir in Delaware County where a number of geese and ducks were shot by hunters.

Blanche Howard, Haines Falls, was a Shokan caller Thursday. Mrs. Howard is a sister of Mrs. Percy Cook of Olive Bridge.

Largest of the hundreds of loads of logs which have passed through the village center this year probably was a double trailer-load of 40 which came up the reservoir road, bound for a Wittenberg sawmill, last Friday.

Timbering has been a major industry in the Catskills for over a century and is still going strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buley, formerly of the Tonche Mountain road, reportedly are making their home at Grahamsville.

Edwin Secor, Ashokan War II veteran, will head the Olive 1961 Boy Scout finance campaign.

Martye Martine, who spent some time in the village center last summer, writes Shokan friends that she has been ill since returning to West Coxsackie.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ocker, Phoenicia, reportedly have taken an apartment in the Maria Bode house, Route 28, Ashokan.

Callers here Thursday included Philip J. Knauff on Brookill Lane, Huntington, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Williard Squier, Watson Hollow Road residents for many years, are home following a two month's motor trip to Seattle and other Western states. The couple visited friends in Seattle and took in many points of interest during their trip.

Petroleum Pipes Cut Barge Canal Shipping

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Shipping on the State Barge Canal has fallen below 1960 levels, primarily because of a decrease in the amount of petroleum carried, the State Public Works Department reports.

The total 1961 tonnage of 2.2 million by Sept. 30 was 7.29 per cent below the total for a similar period of last year.

The decline in petroleum was due to an increase in the use of interstate pipelines, the department said.

Yugoslavia Writer Wins Nobel Literature Award

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The 1961 Nobel Prize for literature was awarded today to the Yugoslav novelist and prewar diplomat Ivo Andric, 69.

The prize, worth $48,300, is the first Nobel award ever to go to Yugoslavia.

Andric was nominated for the prize last year and was eliminated only in the last round.

About Native People

Andric's greatest work is an historical trilogy — "Miss," "The Travnik Chronicle" and "The Bridge on the Drina." It and most of his work are about his native Bosnia and its people.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Letters said in its citation that Andric was given the prize for "the epic force with which he has depicted themes and human destinies from the history of his country."

The academy has 18 members. The chair of the late U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, one of its most prominent members and the winner of the 1961 Nobel Peace Prize, is still empty.

Andric served in the Yugoslav diplomatic corps from the 1920s until World War II. His last diplomatic mission was as Yugoslav minister to Berlin, and he returned home only a few hours before the first Nazi bombs fell on Belgrade.

He was the second writer-diplomat in succession to get the literary award. Last year it went to French poet Saint-John Perse, who as Alexis Leger was secretary-general of the French Foreign Ministry when World War II broke out.

Andric is the second Nobel winner of Yugoslav origin. Leopold Ruzicka, who was born in Vukovar, then part of the Austrian-Hungarian empire, shared the 1939 chemistry prize but was then a Swiss citizen.

Fourth 1961 Winner

Andric is the fourth person to be given a Nobel Prize this year. Last Thursday the prize for medicine was given to Dr. Georg von Bekesy, 62, Hungarian-born telephone engineer now an American and working at Harvard. He was awarded the prize for his research on the human ear.

Monday the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting awarded the 1961 Peace Prize to the late Dag Hammarskjold and the 1960 Peace Prize to the Zulu chief Albert Luthuli, 62, of the Republic of South Africa.

The prizes for chemistry and physics are to be awarded next Thursday by the Royal Swedish Academy of Science.

The prize money stems from the fortune left by the late Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite. The first prize was handed out in 1901.

The laureates are invited to come to Stockholm to receive prize money, medals and diplomas, from King Gustaf VI Adolf at traditional ceremonies Dec. 10. The peace prize is presented in Oslo, Norway.

One Man Killed, 3 Hurt as Wine Barrel Explodes

NEW YORK (AP) — One man was killed and three of his male relatives were injured when a wine barrel exploded in a Brooklyn cellar Wednesday night.

The men placed a burning sulphur candle in a 50-gallon barrel and sealed the lid to purify the barrel in preparation for making wine in the basement of a two-family house.

The barrel suddenly blew up. The lid hit Angelo Bitetto, 54, in the chest and killed him.

Two of the others suffered burns, and the third suffered a broken arm when struck by a piece of the shattered barrel.

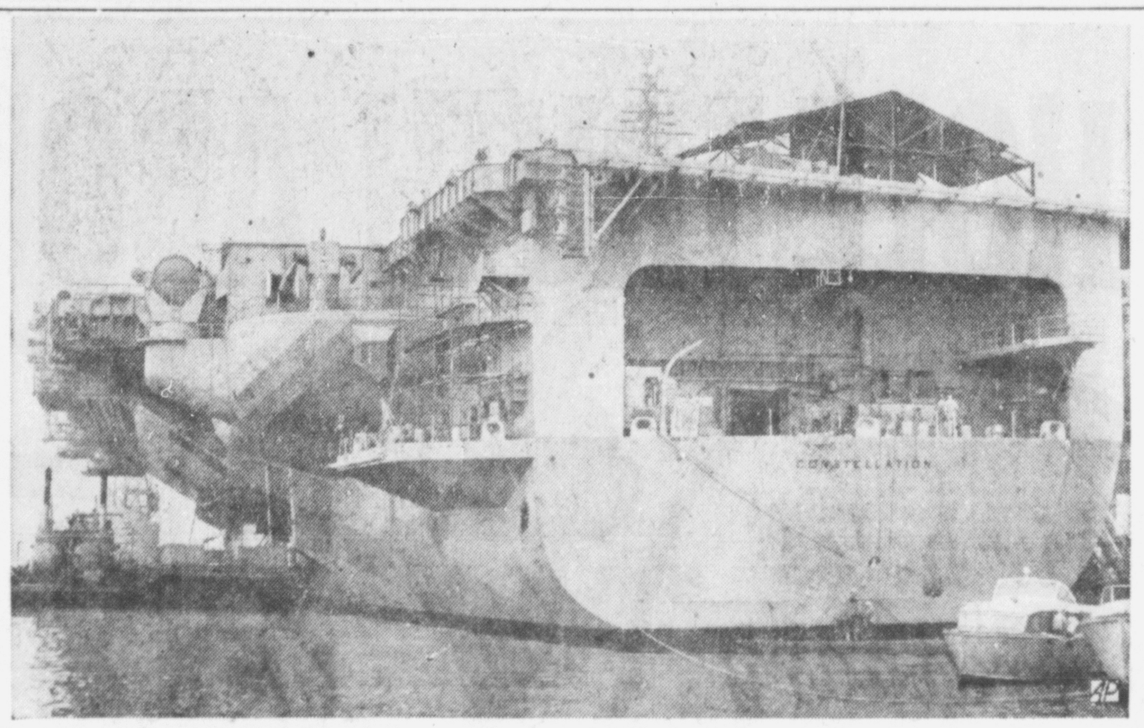
Air Force Can't Locate Needles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force says it can't find 350 million copper needles strewn in space to test prospects for a jam-proof radio system.

A Midas satellite, fired into orbit last Saturday from Point Arguello, Calif., ejected the tiny copper wires, called dipoles. They were to spread out and form a belt around the earth that could be used to bounce radio waves halfway around the world.

Wednesday night, the Air Force announced that its Lincoln Laboratories, in charge of "Project West Ford," reported no radar contact had been established with the needles, each 7-10 of an inch long and one-third as thick as a human hair.

At launching, it was said it might take three to four days to determine by radar whether the needles dispersed as planned.



NO LONGER SCARRED — The USS Constellation gleams anew at Brooklyn Navy Yard in New York. The 75,000-ton carrier, damaged extensively by a fire last December, is soon to be commissioned, only six months later than planned.

Sets Record Straight

DuBois Says Office Is Run On State Audit Practices

Charges of insufficient collateral for County Funds are absolutely unfounded, County Treasurer Fred DuBois contends.

County Treasurer Fred H. DuBois, speaking at a meeting of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel recently, stated that the record of facts concerning the practices employed in the county treasurer's office has been provided by the State Department of Audit and Control which is under Democratic directorship.

This audit was made in 1960 and put on file in the County Clerk's office in early 1961, DuBois pointed out, and after the report was filed the Kingston Daily Freeman, through its own release, noted the complimentary remarks concerning the County Treasurer's practices and commending the policy of temporary investing at interest county moneys not immediately needed.

Sets Record Straight

County Treasurer DuBois further stated that he wished to set the record straight by explaining that in July 1959, he submitted a letter to the board of supervisors recommending that the interest-earning practice be authorized because he had had this experience as supervisor of the Town of New Paltz. In 1956, as supervisor, he had invested town money after checking the proper procedure with the State Department of Audit and Control. Thereafter a resolution was adopted by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors providing for this procedure. He said that this and all other communications to the Board of Supervisors are public records and can be found in its published proceedings.

DuBois, in closing, stated that the State auditors examined all approved collateral provided by the banks, thereby proving the charge of insufficient collateral for county funds as being unfounded.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Various cuts of beef continue to lead the bargain list in many supermarket and neighborhood grocery stores this week, although turkeys and broiling or frying chickens offer strong competition.

The steady run of beef bargains reflects commercial production in August and September running slightly above a year ago. This production picture is expected to continue for the rest of the year.

Turkeys to Be Higher

Poultry price specials seem most plentiful in the southwest and midwest. Broilers and fryers are slightly higher in some markets.

Meat experts suggest the long-term trend is likely to be higher for turkeys, since farmers are cutting back production sharply because of low prices.

Round and chuck roast are the top beef cuts in the northeast, while steaks get a play in the southeast and some loin cuts are down 2 to 5 cents a pound in the Los Angeles area.

Bacon also is a prime item on the west coast, with prices off 2 to 5 cents a pound. Wholesale prices on bellies (from which bacon is cut) have been dropping recently.

Eggs Good Buy

Eggs remain a good buy, too with some sizes down 3 to 5 cents a dozen around San Francisco and New York prices running 12 to 14 cents a dozen less than a year ago after slight cuts this week.

Best buys among vegetables are cabbage, cauliflower, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, carrots and squash. In the Southeast, Florida sweet corn is still attractively priced, too.

Other good buys included tomatoes, snap beans, lettuce, peppers, cucumbers, celery and broccoli. Seasonal specialties include turnips, rutabagas and spinach.

With hallowe'en almost here, pumpkins are especially plentiful and prices are generally low.

There are many bargains in assorted types of cheese.

Top fruit buys appear to be apples, oranges, grapes and grapefruit. Pears and melons are good buys, too, while the cranberry crop is expected to be large.

Living Costs Up To Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for new fall lines of clothing pushed living costs to a record high in September.

The Labor Department reported today that its index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent between August and September to 128.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

Clothing prices, rising more than seasonally, were up 1.1 per cent from the late-summer bargains of August.

Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, said another slight rise is expected in October. But he emphasized that the price level has remained unusually stable, and is expected to continue to register little change from month to month.

"We see nothing in the picture that appears to suggest a take-off to substantially higher price levels," Myers told a news conference.

The index standing of 128.3 in September compares with the previous record of 128.1 in July. For August, it was 128.

Congo Provinces Deteriorating As Facilities, Economy Crumble

EDITOR'S NOTE — What has happened to life in the Congo amid the chaos that came in the wake of independence won 16 months ago? This revealing dispatch, last in a series of three on the Congo today, tells what has happened to the economy and the people.

By LYNN HEINZERLING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The jacaranda and frangipani trees are bursting into gorgeous blossom, but not much else is blooming in the Congo.

Leopoldville today is a city where the fragrance of tropical spring flowers blends with odors from a decaying sewage system.

It is a city where a few Congolese skim past in shining limousines and thousands are without jobs. As in so many other recently freed African colonies, a new affluent class of government employes is being formed.

The reconciliation between the Communist-supported Stanleyville regime of Antoine Gizenga and the Leopoldville government is hardly skin deep. The hearts that harbor hopes of peace are matched by others hardened by tribal distrust and political hate.

A slow deterioration is reported from other provinces. In Stanleyville, diplomatic reports say, water and light facilities are faulty. Garbage collection and street cleaning have been practically abandoned.

No Rice Until 1963

In Kivu and Equator provinces the larger plantations are beginning to resume operations, but smaller ones are being slowly throttled by jungle vegetation. In Equator, it is reported, the seed rice has been eaten and there cannot be another harvest until 1963.

The central government continues to live on borrowed money. Its deficit runs about $16 million monthly. A good deal of this money goes to pay salaries to government employes, including the army. The Congolese have waited a long time to reach the white man's standards of living and they want it all at once.

What they are seeing instead is a sharp increase in wealth and living standards for a few thousand Congolese employed by the government and the same old shacks and dirt roads for themselves. Something of the same development is taking place in other newly independent countries of Africa such as Ghana, Guinea, Nigeria and former French colonies.

Katanga Must Return

United Nations figures show that wages for Africans employed by the central government and provincial administrations (excepting Katanga) in 1959 were about 11 per cent of the total national income. In 1961, the first full year of independence, these wages will represent at least 31 per cent of the total national income.

There are some signs of improvement, but everything in the Congo depends on the tense political situation. As a nation, the old Belgian colony cannot survive unless Katanga with its immense copper profits comes back into the fold.

Whites Pouring Back

Whites, mostly Belgians, have been pouring back into the country, and they may succeed in giving impetus to the economy. Stanleyville, once down to a few score whites, now has approximately 1,000. Before independence there were 4,000 Europeans in Stanleyville.

In Leopoldville, hotels are crammed and some are forcing patrons to double up in their rooms. Many of the old villas and apartments have been taken over by newly rich Congolese. Belgians hesitate before moving into suburban homes too far from police protection. Villas outside Leopoldville have been subjected to repeated burglaries.

River Traffic Running

River traffic on the Congo, once blockaded because of the feud between the Cizenga government in Stanleyville and the central government, is again in operation. The first cargoes of tin have moved down the river to Leopoldville and on by rail to Matadi. Agriculture is lagging far behind.

Marcel Bisukiru, minister of foreign trade and a leftwing Lumumba follower, has described the trade situation as tragic. He reported in a recent survey that the Congo in the first six months of 1961 exported only 2,300 tons of cotton compared with 27,000 tons during the same period of 1960—before independence.

Difficult About Capital

United Nations economists are concerned about another phase of Congo economy. Almost all business concerns, except for smaller establishments, are in the hands of Belgians and other non-Congolese. The Congolese have difficulty accumulating capital to participate in the business life of the country.

One economist said that while the Congo won political independence it was completely colonized economically.

Six commercial banks in the Congo finance Belgian commerce. Nobody finances the industry and commerce of the Congolese.

The alternative to developing a Congolese class of business men could be nationalization. There has been considerable talk of this possibility particularly of certain key industries. It seems a certainty if leftwing Lumumbists came to power.

Plattekill

PLATTEKILL — Miss Louisa Van Wyck, ddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Van Wyck of Wallkill and Tobias Haug, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Haug of Plattekill were married Sunday, Oct. 15, at 3 p. m. in Wallkill Reformed Church. The Rev. Walter Van Popering, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and her maid of honor was Miss Grace Mance of Pine Bush. Curt Schwaide of Monroe was best man, and ushers were Alfred Van Wyck of Trenton, N. J., and Herbert Hall of Middletown. A reception was held at the Hudson Overlook Inn, West Park, following the ceremonies. The bride is a graduate of Wallkill Central High School, and is employed in the office of the Hudson Valley Apple Products Co. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Newton High School in New York City, served four years in the U. S. Navy, and is employed by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. Mr. and Mrs. Haug are residing in Plattekill.

Game Warden Albert Roberts of Highland liberated a number of ringneck pheasants throughout the Town of Plateekill recently in preparation for the open season hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wager have moved from Jansen Road, New Paltz, to the Hoppenstedt house in Gardiner. Mr. Wager is a former local resident.

Newly appointed State Deputy Charles Everett and State Juvenile Deputy Mrs. Charles Everett attended a meeting of the Rosendale Grange at their hall in Rosendale recently, when a discussion was held related to the organizing of a Juvenile Grange at Rosendale.

Members of the Plattekill unit of Ulster County Home Demonstration Services, attended the Christmas open house meeting held at the Municipal Auditorium in Kingston, Thursday of the past week. Members of 18 units participated in the event.

Fruit Supplies Good

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today consumer supplies of fruits from early fall through the first half of 1962 are expected to be larger than in the like period a year earlier.

Factors were said to include favorable crops this year and larger carryover stocks of frozen fruit products.

"Consumer demand for fuit, supported by rising incomes, is expected to be strong again in 1962," the department said in a fruit situation report.

Argue Over Shift

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The transfer of color comic printing business to a new plant in Alabama would reduce heavy transportation costs, the president and general manager of a Wilkes-Barre, Pa., printing firm says.

Joseph J. Gorman, head of the International Color Printing Co. testified in federal district court Wednesday that new business already was being sought to replace the work that would be lost by the transfer to the Sylacauga, Ala., plant.

N. Y. Police Net Interferred With Is Wagner Claim

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner claimed today that his administration is the first in the city's history which has not tolerated political interference with the police."

The Democratic mayor, running for reelection, made the claim as he announced a series of one-a-day "fact sheets" about his administration.

The opening "fact sheet," dealing with the police, declared that "the best way to fight crime is to have policemen out fighting it, not to make speeches about it."

Wagner's opponent, Atty. L. Louis J. Q Lefkowitz offered Wednesday to withdraw as a candidate if Wagner would swear under oath that Lefkowitz wrote the present rent control law.

Wagner has been charging that a "sleeper" in the revision of the law enacted at the last session of the Republican - controlled Legislature would open the door for a flood of rent increases.

Lefkowitz, defending the present law, said it gives protection to tenants that they did not have previously.

Check Delinquency At Roots Is Theme

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP) — The gram for youth is bas— — — — state's conservation - camp program for youth is based on the premise that "the best way of combatting juvenile delinquency is to prevent it from taking hold," Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson says.

Wilson said the state had been establishing a series of youth rehabilitation camps to work with boys through group counseling. One type, he said, would accommodate boys referred by the courts, while the other would take boys "who have shown tendencies to become delinquent," but who have no actual police record.

Wilson spoke Wednesday night at a fund raising dinner of the Chautauqua County YMCA.

Asks Strong Stand Against Giving Up Rights of States

ALBION, N.Y. (AP)—Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino has called for a strong stand against what he calls the assumption of state duties and responsibilities by the federal government.

The Long Island Republican said Wednesday night that under the Democratic administration in Washington, "more and more local and state government functions" are being "surrendered" to the federal agencies.

Carlino spoke to more than 300 Republicans at a campaign fund-raising dinner.

"...we get increased regulation, increased supervision, increased domination in every field. And there are some Democrats in Washington who want the federal government to take over our educational system—and that would be a tragic catastrophe for all of us."

He said the "basic difference between Republican and Democratic parties is that we Republicans are dedicated to getting the government back to the people..."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you had an adroit hand with a TV dial Wednesday night you could have watched variety shows from after dinner coffee until the bedtime snack.

The evening of song, dance and comedy started with ABC's Steve Allen show, followed by a brief hiatus until NBC's Perry Como opened for business, and then back to an ABC musical special.

There were many gay moments in the special, "Seasons of Youth." On this frail theme were hung the dancing of Barrie Chase and Bob Fosse, some sharp political satire by the "premise players," and the smartly-professional singing of Paul Anka and Jill Corey.

Most delightful was Barrie Chase's dancing, but it was all engaging, easy-mannered show.

In fact, it was a good evening and a nice change from a TV diet which lately has consisted largely of homicide and neurosis.

Women of star calling still are finding the going rough in television. Last season network TV cut itself loose from Loretta Young, June Allyson and Barbara Stanwyck, leaving only two feminine stars who luckily were tied into successful situation comedy series of the family type: Donna Reed and Harriet Nelson.

This season, Marilyn Maxwell was the only woman star with a new series: "Bus Stop" on ABC. Now comes word from Hollywood that the producers have dropped their option on her acting services upon completion of the first 13 episodes.

Recommended tonight: "Dr. Kildare," NBC, 8:30-9:30 (Eastern Daylight Time) — Hollywood-based story about an accident case; "The Untouchables," ABC, 10-11—Elliot Ness against the narcotics traffic.

Both Rate High in Public Opinion Polls

Kennedy Much Like Ike, But Relationship Cools

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has been in the White House long enough, a little over nine months, to provide some insight into the way he operates.

If he could be said to have patterned himself after a model it would be President Eisenhower and not cocky, relaxed, extremely self-confident President Roosevelt or highly combative President Truman.

But what looked like the development of an unusually friendly personal relationship of Kennedy and Eisenhower may be coming to a quick end.

Two Avoid Quarrels

Throughout his eight White House years Eisenhower deliberately avoided quarrels—particularly with Congress—by refraining from attacks and feuds. Not so with Roosevelt or Truman.

Kennedy has done the same as Eisenhower. There were times in the latter's presidency when he went less than all-out for some of the legislation he asked Congress to pass. The same goes for Kennedy.

This avoidance of quarrels by both men may not create in the public mind the image of an aggressive or even very positive president. But it gives few people an excuse for building up antagonisms against them.

It may explain to some extent why Eisenhower in his time, and Kennedy now, have stood so high in public opinion polls. There has never been much reason for the general public to get steamed up against them.

In one big detail there is a difference between Kennedy and Eisenhower in dealing with Congress. Kennedy, with 14 years' service there, has a sharper understanding of the in-fighting, the dickering and maneuvering.

Both Their Boners Beauts

In foreign affairs the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations each committed one obvious beaut of a boner.

With Eisenhower it was letting the U2 spy-plane fly over Russia, where it could be shot down and was, just before the 1960 summit conference with Premier Khrushchev. With Kennedy it was letting the Cuban invasion occur.

The main characteristic of both men in foreign affairs seems to be mildness—certainly in comparison with their main opponent, Premier Khrushchev—but trouble piled up for both of them just the same.

They'll probably pile up worse for Kennedy for a simple reason: The United States had a head start on the Russians in nuclear development. They needed time to catch up or outdo.

With every passing day they get stronger. The result: They're in a better position to make trouble for Kennedy. This is so obvious that Kennedy, not satisfied with Eisenhower's defense program, has stepped it up.

In his time Eisenhower was accused of lack of leadership. Now Kennedy is being blamed by Republicans for not being firm enough. But there is one apparent difference between the two in the foreign field.

Eisenhower relied to an amazing degree on his secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, who did the tough talking for the administration and often gave the impression he was the one making foreign policy.

Kennedy is the dominant figure in foreign policy now. His secretary of state, Dean Rusk, who looks grey compared with the flamboyant Dulles ,avoids belligerent noises while Kennedy does the main talking.

Even so, all their talking is mild. In nine months the harshest statements to the Russians were made last week by a man much further down the administration ladder, Roswell L. Gilpatric, deputy secretary of defense, although he did so with full approval of Kennedy and Rusk.

Ike Now Critical

There was no relationship at all for eight years between Eisenhower and his predecessor, Truman. But Kennedy went out of his way several times—by personal visit or phone—to get Eisenhower's opinion on foreign problems.

The foundation for a good relationship thus seemed well laid. But it may be over. Eisenhower, anxious to pep up his Republican party ,recently has talked not only critically but derisively of some Kennedy administration performances. Kennedy has not replied.

Although during the campaign Kennedy indicated he would hold far more news conferences than Eisenhower, he has done nothing of the kind he has held only 17 since taking office. By this time in his administration Eisenhower held 17.

Saugerties Youth Held

Allen Frisbie, 17 of Veteran, Town of Saugerties was arrested by New York City police authorities Wednesday and charged with illegal possession of a firearm. Further details were unavailable at Freeman press time.

JFK May Support Shelter Sites on New U. S. Roads

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may back a proposal to build public fallout shelters alongside newly constructed federal-state highways.

If the plan is found feasible, the White House said in a letter to Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., it may be included in Kennedy's recommendations to Congress early next year.

Morton had made the proposal in a letter to Kennedy. The reply, made public Wednesday, was signed by presidential assistant Lawrence F. O'Brien. He said Kennedy considers the idea "very interesting."

Morton proposed building a string of large roadside public fallout shelters in conjunction with highway construction as a means of obtaining mass protection rapidly at low cost.

He said shelters could be built in areas of high population density, especially at interchanges, as well as along open highways.

The proposal has gone to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for consideration.

The huge holes that result when highway builders strip earth and rocks for fill material could be turned into deep shelters and covered over with dirt while heavy equipment is still available, Morton wrote the President.

Special Pumpkin Pie Makes A Lighthearted Thanksgiving

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Although there are many many things to give thanks for, it may be wise not to try to eat them all at one meal. A lot of men and women today are worried about being too fat. That's why in many homes, a few lower-calorie versions of traditional Thanksgiving dishes on the menu will be welcome and, at the same time, delicious news.

This pie is made with low-calorie butterscotch pudding and a non-caloric sweetener and is served in a graham cracker crust which is low in calories. It looks and tastes like the real thing, yet it's just 166 calories per serving (143 calories when made with skim milk) compared to 263 calories in a serving of "regular" pumpkin pie.

Pumpkin Pie

2 envelopes butterscotch dietetic pudding
2 cups whole or skim milk
2 cups pumpkin
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
¾ teaspoon nutmeg
⅜ teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons non-caloric sweetener
1 baked 8-inch low-calorie graham cracker crust, cooled

Add pudding mix to milk in saucepan. Stir until well blended. Then cook until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat, add pumkin, the spices, and sweetener. Mix well. Cool for 5 minutes. Pour into pie shell. Chill until set—about 2 hours. Garnish with dessert topping mix, if desired.

Low-Calorie Pie Crust

14 graham crackers, crushed
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Combine graham cracker crumbs and sugar. Add melted butter. Press into an 8-inch pie pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Cool.

For those not worried about calories, this special ice cream pie is something to be thankful for, also:

California Walnut Apple Ice Cream Pie
(Makes 6 servings)

1 cup graham cracker crumbs
½ cup finely chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 tablespoon brown sugar (light or dark brown)
1 quart slightly softened ice cream (vanilla, coffee or eggnog)
1 can (No. 2 size) prepared sliced apple pie filling
¼ cup chopped walnuts
Cinnamon or nutmeg
Butterscotch sauce

Mix together the cracker crumbs, walnuts, melted butter and brown sugar. Pat into a 9-inch pie plate. Bake at 350 degrees F. 8 minutes. Cool. Spoon softened ice cream into baked crust and spread apple filling over the top. Sprinkle with ¼ cup walnuts and dash of cinnamon nutmeg. Freeze until firm; then cover tightly with foil.

When almost ready to serve, remove pie from freezer to refrigerator section for 10 minutes to thaw slightly. Pass a sauce bowl of warm butterscotch sauce (made with butterscotch morsels) to drizzle over each wedge for those who like their pie "sundae style."

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

Editor's note—Business is getting as dependent on outside specialists as housewives on repairmen. In this, second in a series of three articles on the boost services are giving the economy, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, tells how hard it's getting to draw a line between production of goods and services.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —Industry draws ever more heavily on services—almost as much as an individual. The general economy gains even while the shifting emphasis hurts some firms in favoring others.

It's getting to be a case of scratching each other's back. Manufacturers and materials producers use more services. And the fast growing service industries—and their employes—are requiring more materials and manufactured goods.

Look to Others for Credit

Manufacturers long have looked to others for credit and financing, for distribution and sales to the consumers, and for such specialized help as credit ratings, bill collecting, insurance, advertising.

More recently manufacturers have dipped their toes in such things as consumer market research, leasing of equipment, executive recruiting, improving their relations with the public, labor, shareholders and the press.

Today businessmen may turn over their complicated paperwork to electronic computer centers. They can call in specialists to handle incentive sales campaigns, to plan and run conventions, to conduct stockholders proxy fights.

It's possible for a corporation today to hire a service agency to pick the site for a new plant, a second to plan and build it for the company's special needs, a third to finance the building or to buy it and rent it back to the manufacturing company, a fourth to provide equipment on a rental basis, and still others to maintain the plant, repair the equipment, furnish temporary workers as needed.

And many corporations turn to financial specialists either to float public security offerings, or to lend needed funds, and to others to finance sales to dealers or consumers. Specialists may handle the corporation's stock transfer books, mail out dividends, prepare annual reports. And insurance specialists look after everything from fire losses to overseas credit and investment risks.

Ask Outside Help

Corporations increasingly turn to outside specialists to help chart the course of the general economy or of their particular field. Dun & Bradstreet, for one example, long has been known for setting credit ratings of some three million firms. But businessmen now turn to it also for such specialized information as a food price index, commodity price index, new business incorporations, weekly and monthly bank clearings, building permits.

Consultants and trade publications serve ever growing fields as scientific research both widens and narrows specialized technical industrial interests.

Consumer research is growing fast. For one example, A. C. Nielsen, Chicago, known for rating radio and TV audience responses, also studies sales of foods, drugs, cigarettes, cosmetics, and interviews consumers. It has scores of competitors.

Distribution in many cases is now turned over by the manufacturer to a service firm. Leasing companies have moved into both this field and into manufacturing itself.

Service firms set up sales campaigns, buy the awards, sponsor prize trips, or do all the tedious spade work for sales and other conventions.

At least one takes care of the inevitable speech making. National Communications Corp., Chicago, sponsors a Businessmen's Record Club and claims 5,000 active subscribers.

The recorded speeches of experts are ground out at gatherings in the fields of insurance, manufacturing real estate, auto sales, food, printing and publishing.

Friday: Manufacturers are moving in to garner more of those service dollars.

State Checking Shelter Frauds

NEW YORK (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz says his office is looking into complaints of fraud in the construction and sale of bomb and fallout shelters.

The state's highest law official, who is running for mayor of New York City on the Republican ticket, made the statement Wednesday night when a newsman asked him about a printed report that an investigation was under way.

Lefkowitz did not elaborate.

Snuff users in the United States consume more than 35 million pounds of snuff annually.

Kate Smith Loses $20,550 Suit in Placid Accident

NEW YORK (AP) — A State Supreme Court jury awarded a total of $20,550 Wednesday night to two men who sued singer Kate Smith for $150,000 for injuries suffered in a collision with her automobile.

An award of $3,050 was made to John Mahoney, 36, a Supreme Court attache, who was driving the car that was in collision with Miss Smith's near her Lake Placid home on July 26, 1960. Mahoney had sued for $50,000.

Matthew McCarthy, 65, a retired Manhattan bartender, who was riding with Mahoney, was awarded $17,500. He had sued for $100,000.

Miss Smith was sued individually and jointly with her manager, Joseph F. (Ted) Collins. They are partners in Kated Co., owner of the car which Miss Smith was driving.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson visited Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., at Baylor Hospital again Wednesday and said Rayburn appeared "considerable better."

However, a hospital bulletin reflected no change in the condition of Rayburn, stricken with incurable cancer.

But Needs Sincere West Understanding

Gromyko Hints Flexibility Of Soviet Stand on Berlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko says the Soviet Union is ready to consider the Western Allies' point of view on Berlin and Germany if the West is sincere in wanting an understanding with the Soviet Union.

Gromyko declared before the Soviet Communist party congress Wednesday that Soviet foreign policy demonstrates "flexibility and its striving to take account of the interests of the other parties to negotiations when they really seek an understanding."

He gave no indication of a retreat in the Soviet position in the tense diplomatic stalemate, however, and he asserted once more that the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace pact with East Germany if negotiations with the West fail.

The address marked Gromyko's first official public report on his recent talks with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk in New York and with President Kennedy in Washington.

Gromyko was applauded repeatedly throughout the address, which appeared to be a major statement on Soviet foreign policy.

He declared that he and Rusk agreed that the two world powers should find a way to make war impossible.

Sees Great Step to Peace

"The secretary of state told me that we all understand that neither Khrushchev nor Kennedy want to go down in history as the leaders who provoked a world catastrophe in the second half of the 20th Century," Gromyko said.

"I replied that if we can succeed in solving on a basis acceptable to both of our governments the questions concerning the liquidation of the remnants of the Second World War, this will be a great contribution to peace.

"We think Kennedy and Khrushchev must be the presidents in a period in which war becomes impossible, that is to say at a decisive turning point in history. The whole world would be grateful to Kennedy and Khrushchev for that," Gromyko said.

The foreign minister reiterated the Soviet government's adherence of a policy of peaceful coexistence with capitalist nations and added: "The victory between communism and capitalism will be decided by history and not by the Kremlin."

Area P-TA News

Lake Katrine

Dr. Paul G. Hoveman, local pediatrician, addressed Lake Katrine Parent-Teachers Association Wednesday night on the subject of Preventive Medicine for Children.

His talk covered such topics as the common cold, dental care and accident prevention in the home. Dr. Hoveman pointed out that too frequent changes in temperature such as children's going in- and out-of-doors in the winter time often causes a breakdown of body resistance to the virus that brings on the cold.

He also stressed that accident prevention in the home is an important item that is so often overlooked.

The Lake Katrine P-TA is planning a panel discussion on school bus transportation for next month's meeting, Nov. 28 at 8 p. m. Zale Liese, transportation supervisor of the Kingston City Schools, Consolidated, will be guest speaker.

Plans were also made for the annual children's Halloween party. Edward Crosby, principal, stressed that the general public may attend any of the meetings.

FREE ENTERPRISE SATELLITE—The first space satellite to be built and paid for by private American industries will be launched in the spring of 1962. It will be the forerunner of a world-wide system of about 50 communications satellites. Left, Bell Telephone Laboratories technicians prepare a development model of the 34-inch sphere. Broadcasting antennas circle it in two belts. Solar cells cover the rest of its surface. When the space bird goes into orbit, a super-sensitive antenna, right, set on a hill at Andover, Me., will begin sending and receiving signals. The satellite will relay messages to similar stations in England and France. The Maine stations, shaped like a giant ear trumpet, will be 177 feet long and 94 feet high. It will be protected by a 13-story dome. National Aeronautics and Space Administration will launch the first experimental satellite for a fee of about $6 million, which will be paid by American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Critical of Ike

Sandburg Is High On JFK Becoming One of Best Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — White haired Carl Sandburg spoke of bloody battles of a hundred years ago and what they mean to "the present hour of fate and history."

And in a twist of time and mood, the Lincoln authority spoke his mind on more recent presidents, John F. Kennedy and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The mercurial, 84-year-old poet put in a full day in the capital Wednesday and said his piece on a wide range of subjects, from books to fallout.

He had a chat with President Kennedy and lunch with the Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, and thenn went to the Library of Congress for the press review of the centennial exhibition of the Civil War. In the evening he delivered the address opening the exhibition.

At an afternoon news conference, Sandburg had a few things to say about Kennedy, former President Eisenhower and other matters.

President Kennedy—"Chances are entirely he's going to rate as one of the great presidents. He's a great relief from the press conferences of Dwight David Eisenhower."

Eisenhower—"The most ungrammatical president we've ever had. He has yet to know the people of the United States."

Fallout—"I'm 84, I've had my life. What do I care? There are those I love—I worry about fallout for them, but for myself, I've had enough fun."

Hearing on Milk Prices Set Nov. 1st

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A public hearing was ordered by the state agriculture commissioner today on conflicting proposals for increases and decreases in the wholesale price of milk on the Niagara Frontier.

Commissioner Don J. Wickham scheduled a hearing for Nov. 1 in the State Office Building in Buffalo.

Dairy farmers now receive $6 a hundredweight (46.5 quarts) for their milk under a state marketing order covering the Niagara Frontier.

The farmers want the price raised to $6.40. Wholesale dealers who purchase the milk from the farmers want it reduced to $5.80 a hundredweight.

The dairy farmers said in a petition to the State Agriculture Department that there had not been a real increase since 1950 in prices they receive.

The Nov. 1 hearing will deal with milk sold for use in its fluid state.

A second hearing Nov. 9 in the Buffalo office building will deal with the price of fluid cream.

ClaimMadeHydroPlan Would Stop Tourists

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—Plans by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission to divert more of the water pouring over Niagara Falls might put the Maid of the Mist boats and the area's tourist industry on the rocks, Don Murie, Chamber of Commerce manager, said today.

Delegates attending a tourist seminar were told that Ontario hydro plans to divert another 30,000 cubic feet of water per second for power. It now uses about 100,000 cubic feet of water per second, about half the Niagara River's normal flow.

2 Women Injured In Accidents, Man Stricken Ill

A woman was injured in a pedestrian-car mishap on John Street Wednesday, another was reported hurt in a fall, and a man was found gravely ill downtown.

A police report shortly after 2 p. m. Wednesday said Mrs. Anna Mirski, 65, of 39 Westbrook Place, suffered a possible concussion and was shaken up, in the John Street mishap.

Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz reported the car was driven by Joseph A. Stephano, 31, of Route 5, Box 372-A, Kingston, who drove her to Kingston Hospital where she was admitted and her condition was reported today as fair.

A report at 2:37 p. m., said Mrs. Esther Burger, 62, of 321 Broadway, had suffered knee, forehead and nose injuries in a fall on Mary's Avenue. She was treated at the Benedictine Hospital.

Police were notified at 4 p. m. that a man had fallen to the floor at 11 Broadway. Officers Francis Buchanan and John Turck along with a Fatum ambulance were dispatches there, and found that James Kouhoupt, 77, had been taken ill with what was believed to be pneumonia. His condition was reported as fair at Kingston Hospital today.

23 Workers Hurt In Upstate Fire

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y. (AP)—Fire flashed through a section of the Wurlitzer Co. plant today, injuring 23 workers.

The fire raged in a section of the plant where classified government defense work was being done, a Wurlitzer spokesman said. He said damage was apparently limited to that area.

The plant's main production lines for musical instruments and wood products were not affected.

Police reported earlier that an explosion had touched off the blaze but the plant spokesman said there was no blast.

A spokesman at DeGraff Memorial Hospital nearby said 15 workers were rushed there. All but three were treated and released. One of the workers admitted to the hospital was reported in critical condition.

Kenmore Mercy Hospital said eight workers were received there, all burn cases. They were identified as:

Ruth Hood, 46, Mrs. Elsie Becker, 50, Miss Rosemary Ziehn, 30, Mrs. Casimira Sarzyniak, 41, Mrs. Francis Klis, 41, Mrs. Elenora Pagels, 41, all of North Tonawanda, and Joseph Graves, 34, and Anthony Chrostowski, 28, both of Buffalo.

A Wurlitzer spokesman said the defense area was isolated from the rest of the plant because of the classified nature of the work. He said the area burned out was small but said he could give no figures on its size.

The cause of the fire was not immediately learned.

Firemen had the flames under control shortly after their arrival.

No estimate of damage was available.

Clear Televiewing Planned for Area By New Service

Certificate of incorporation has been approved by the Attorney General for the Kingston Translator Service, which will be located in this city and is designed to serve Kingston and the urban area.

Officers of the corporation are Herbert Nestell, 110 Henry Street, president and Raymond Kilmer, 176 West Pierpont Street, secretary-treasurer.

The translator system, sponcored by the Television Dealers Association, involves the construction of a 150 foot tower on high ground in Kingston. Through the use of a powerful antenna mounted on the tower, the original very high frequency signal received fro a TV station is picked up and sent to a translator located at the base of the tower.

Within this translator, the original signal is amplified in strength and transformed to an ultra high frequency signal, which is then sent back to the top of the tower where it is transmitted to the viewing area.

Says No Interference

A UHF converter and a small antenna are required for a TV set to pick up the re-transmitted and amplified signal. The result is interference-free reception.

The reception is free from all external disturbances giving a continuous, clear, year-round picture on the TV screen.

The major difference in the signal now received and the proposed signal is that the present one is very high frequency signal, whereas the proposed one is an ultra high frequency signal.

The KTS will service the seven New York City channels in the Kingston area, by rebroadcasting channels 2-4-5-7-9-11-13.

A group of local citizens, including servicemen and other local businessmen from Kingston undertook a volunteer investigation to determine the best available booster system on the market to improve local TV reception.

After careful analysis and detailed study it was found that a booster system known as the Translator System will provide the Kingston area residents with efficient and inexpensive means for year round, clear and continuous reception, a KTS spokesman said.

Aim to Raise Money

The KTS is a non-profit organization of local citizens for the dual purpose of raising funds and dispensing of these funds for the construction and maintenance of a Translator System.

All subscribers will become members of KTS with voting privileges. Since KTS is a non-profit organization, a corporation official noted, no dividends will be declared to members, nor salaries paid to its officers and directors..

The engineer of The Adler Electronics Co. Inc., of New Rochelle which specializes in the installation of translator systems, made an intensive survey of the terrain and conditions applicable to improve TV reception in the Kingston area.

This firm will undertake the construction of a complete seven translator system for $75,000. This includes the tower, building, roads, electrical wiring and applications for a license from the Federal Communications Commission.

Guarantee Promised

After the translator system is constructed and is in operation, the Adler Electronics Co. guarantees continuous, clear, year-round reception for 98 per cent of the homes in the area served.

The signal will extend out as far as 10 miles from the tower. Anyone who can obtain line-of-sight between his receiving antenna and the tower will be able to pick up the signal, a corporation official said.

ATTENTION
VOTERS OF TOWN OF ULSTER

My Fellow Residents of the Town of Ulster:

As your Democratic candidate for Supervisor, I wish to discuss with you one of the vital issues facing us in this campaign. Quite simply it is called "Passing the Buck."

In addition to his duties as executive officer of the town, the Supervisor serves as a member of the County Board of Supervisors. The County Board is and has been controlled by the Republican Party for many years.

My REPUBLICAN OPPONENT FAILED in his duty to his fellow townspeople when he voted to refer the question of the Community College to a public referendum. We are not concerned with whether he would have voted for or against the establishment of the Community College. We are concerned that he and his fellow Republican supervisors failed to discharge their obligation to their constituents. We elect a Supervisor to make decisions for us—not to pass the buck.

The Board of Supervisors had the power to either adopt or reject a Community College proposition. With the excuse that the expenditure of money should be approved by the voters, the Republican Supervisors passed the buck back to the people, hoping that the proposal would be defeated.

If the Republican Supervisors are so concerned with getting the approval of the voters on money issues, why don't they take their pet project of a new county building at a cost of well over $1,000,000 to the voters?

By the way, the Republican controlled Board of Supervisors has spent $100,000 in architect fees for this new building without having so much as a hole in the ground to show for it.

I have taken a stand on the Community College. I support Local Question A and shall vote for it on Election Day. You may be assured that if elected I shall fulfill my duties and vote on issues which come before me, regardless of how controversial. I shall vote for what I believe to be in the best interest of the majority of the people of the Town of Ulster. I WILL NOT PASS THE BUCK. People in a decision making position must be willing to make decisions.

Will Play Leads in Coach House Production Of 'Separate Tables' Nov. 2nd through 4th

ROSE MELLERT

W. SCOTT FOSTER

Rose Helen Mellert and W. Scott Foster will each play two contrasting roles in the brace of two plays that are to be presented under the collective title of "Separate Tables" by the Coach House Players at the George Washington School 8:30 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 2; Friday, Nov. 3 and Saturday, Nov. 4, under the direction of Houston Richards.

This is Terence Rattigan's twin bill of plays, both set in the same residential hotel, that scored a huge success during its 42-week run in New York during the 1956-57 season. Rattigan, the author, is renowned for such previous hits as The Winslow Boy, O Mistress Mine, and The Sleeping Prince, which Marilyn Monroe and Sir Laurence Olivier made into the movie called The Prince and the Show Girl.

In the first of the two plays, Table by the Window, W. Scott Foster will be seen as a man who had once been a vigorous, intelligent and highly promising politician. Rose Helen Mellert will portray his former wife who has tracked him to this place of refuge.

In the second play, Table No. 7, the players portray completely different roles; Mr. Foster as a hesitant, retired army major, and Miss Mellert as a dowdy, pitiable, red-nosed spinster.

Kay Fletcher will be seen as the wisely observing manageress of the hotel and appears in both plays. Lee Freeman takes the part of an arrogant, self-righteous dowager, who dominates everyone around her including "Hap" Clauss, her constant companion. The others in the cast are Norman Clauss, Marge Grant, William Hawk Jr., Doris Urell, Marilyn Craver and June Boyle.

Lake Katrine CYO Schedules Dance

Dancing will be from 8 to 12 with music by Cliff, Ray and Gene. There will be entertainment and refreshments.

All teenagers may attend. Tickets are available from members of the CYO or at the door.

Teen-agers should stay away from "crash diets" because these regimes usually deprive bodies of badly needed nutrients.

A Combined Wedding Anniversary Celebration

Q: My in-laws are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary and we our silver wedding anniversary at the same time and we are planing a combined reception at the country club. My question is should we send out one invitation for both anniversaries or should we each send out separate invitations? There are relatives and friends of mine who are not known to my in-laws and vice versa. Will you please advise us concerning this matter?

A: One invitation will be correct. This could be worded:

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones

(name written in) company at dinner (or a reception) in honour of their respective Fiftieth and Twenty-Fifth wedding

Squeezing Juice From Grapefruit

Q: Is it considered good table manners after eating the fruit from half of a grapefruit, to pick it up and squeeze the remaining juice into a spoon?

A: At breakfast or other informal meal it is quite all right to squeeze the last bit of juice from a grapefruit into one's spoon. This should not, however, be done when company is present.

Cutting Meat on One's Plate

Q: Is it proper to cut a whole slice of roast beef up at one time before starting to eat rather than to cut a small piece off each time? It seems such a nuisance to have to keep picking up the knife after every mouthful to cut off another piece of meat.

A: If you wish, you may properly cut two or three pieces off at a time but you should not cut up the whole slice.

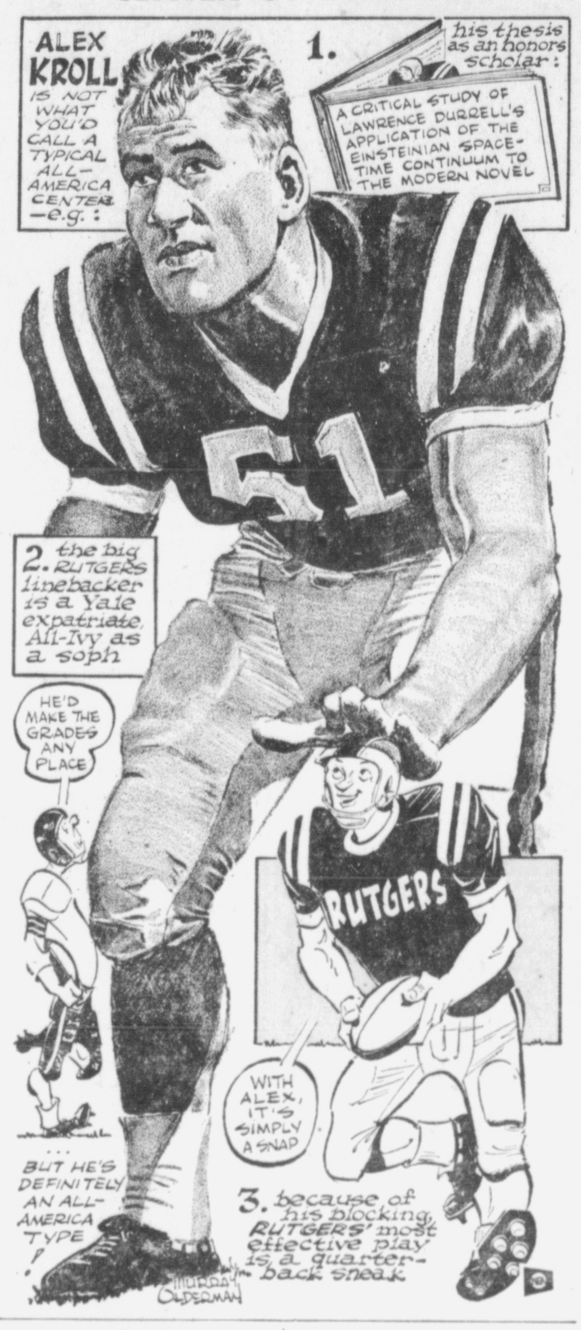
CENTER OF LEARNING



Groza's Kicking Toe Is Decisive

CLEVELAND (AP)—"He looks more like a banker than a football player," commented Cleveland Coach Paul Brown in jest before the start of the season. "We brought him back because he adds class to the club and looks so good sitting around hotel lobbies."

He was talking about Lou (The Toe) Groza, the Browns' remarkable 37-year-old kicking specialist, who has come out of a one-year retirement for his 15th season in professional football.

The "banker"—actually he runs a profitable insurance business—already has used his golden toe for clutch field goals to provide fourth-period decisions in half of Cleveland's four triumphs.

Freed of the gruelling offensive tackle duties he handled in prior years, Groza is kicking like a young colt. His accurate boots have registered three pointers on 11 of 13 attempts. The only misses were from 42 and 50 yards. He also has made good on 14 of 16 conversions.

Groza kicked three field goals and a trio of extra points in the Browns' 30-28 decision at Pittsburgh Sunday. The final field goal came with 2:49 left and sealed the verdict. A month ago Groza cracked a tie with 35 seconds on the clock by connecting on a 19-yarder for a 20-17 victory over St. Louis, this Sunday's opponent for Cleveland.

In other action Sunday, Dallas will be at New York, Chicago plays at Baltimore, San Francisco is at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia goes to Washington, Minnesota is at Green Bay and Los Angeles is host to Detroit.

Jerry Gross Has Best Individual Effort of Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Gross has regained the No. 1 standing in the nation's major college total offense standings.

The NCAA Service Bureau said today that Gross' 286-yard effort in Detroit's losing cause against Navy last week was the best individual effort of the season and rocketed the junior quarterback into a commanding position in the total offense race with 988 yards.

Gross led early this season, but after an open date fell behind James Earl Wright of Memphis. Gross' effort last week, coupled with an injury-enforced layoff for Wright, gave Gross a 201-yard lead.

Tied behind Gross and Wright are Alabama's Pat Trammell and Iowa State's Dave (Hoppy) Hoppmann, each with 750 yards.

Pete Pedro of West Texas State leads the ball carriers and Chon Gallegos of San Jose State leads the passers, each for the fourth straight week. Bill Wright of Brigham Young leads the punters with a 43.08 average.

Pedro, who has carried for 646 yards on 66 tries for a 9.8 average, also leads in scoring with 84 points. Gallegos has completed 62 of 105 passes. Gross is second with 59 completions in 120 tries.

Aragona to Start

This Is the End

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (NEA)—Larry Hudas has prospered as a defensive end after two undistinguished years as a Michigan State offensive HB.

Offensive Guards Would Be Missed if They Weren't There

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Take Jack Stroud out of the lineup of the New York Giants, and Charley Conerly or Y. A. Tittle throw no passes. Del Shofner or Kyle Rote don't catch them. Alex Webster doesn't reach the line of scrimmage.

What, you never heard of Stroud?

"They got to have two offensive guards on every team every Sunday," says Jack with the stoic reasoning of a guy used to being unrecognized. "If you didn't show up, they'd know you weren't there."

He has worked for nine years at the most unrequited job in the pro game, in the tangle of the interior offensive line. Stroud finds his compensation in the little nuances hidden to a guy in the stands.

"When you're pass protecting for the quarterback, like you do half the time," he explains, "you're just holding off the man opposite you, letting him get all the licks. So once in a while I like to rap him."

Rubbing a knot above his brow, where he had come in head-to-head contact with 250-pound David Jones of the Los Angeles Rams, Stroud defined the skullwork:

"As you come around the end, you see different colored jerseys. A recruit will run into the pile and end up getting nobody. I always spot one guy and try to get him. You've got this much time," and the Giant snapped his finger.

When the Giants played the Dallas Cowboys, Jack upset the defense strategy by picking up blitzing linebacker Terry Tubbs on traps, ignoring his normal assignment, the safety man.

"What're you doing here?" asked Tubbs, dusting himself off.

"Playing percentages," Stroud later explained. "Tubbs is a big, strong linebacker. I'd much rather get him than the safety man. The runner can't get by Tubbs on his own. He's got a much better chance against the safety man, who's generally a little guy."

"Tricky escort"

Stroud insists that playing guard is a thinking business.

"I've noticed," he claims, "that the boy who is the best thinker does the best job. If he knows what he's doing, he has the best punch."

Stroud should have been through three years ago. His right knee buckled with torn ligaments three times. His left knee was bad.

"I used weights and special exercises for four months," he says, "to build back the strength. I was 30. You're not supposed to come back from bad knees at that age."

He also wasn't supposed to play in the National Football League when he came out of Tennessee in 1952, a 205-pound tackle. Through weight-lifting he added 45 pounds. He has a 37-inch waist, a 52 chest and his shirts are custom-made for a size 19 neck.

With these measurements, a guy needs to think?

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

Though it hasn't been officially confirmed, Monticello and Liberty will bid goodbye to the DUSO City Basketball League after the 1961-62 season and we feel the move is a good one on the part of both schools. It will not only give them a chance to schedule institutions their own size but will also enable the city schools to book some other outside games, thus giving them a more attractive schedule.

A FIVE SCHOOL LEAGUE

Just two seasons ago there were nine schools in the basketball league. Ellenville and Fallsburgh dropped out last season and now with Monticello and Liberty calling it quits, the once far flung circuit will be down to five teams for three sports. They will be the Class A schools of Kingston, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Middletown and Port Jervis, a B school but still willing to play in the company of the big boys.

What the new setup means is that a team like Kingston can book five outside teams on a home-and-home basis for its basketball season. There will be eight league games to go along with the ten non-circuit contests. And certainly, clubs like Wappingers Falls, Arlington, Mont Pleasant, Lourdes, etc. will be much better attractions than those from the Borscht Belt.

A NEW LEAGUE SCHEDULE?

The DUSO schedule makers might consider letting the five schools in the city circuit play several of their outside contests before the holiday hiatus in December and hold off the league slate until January. This would give the teams a chance to work out the kinks and also give the coaches a better chance to be prepared for the eight game league schedule.

We feel that crowds in most of the gyms will be increased once this smaller but stronger league has a chance to get started. This isn't taking a thing away from Liberty or Monticello but year after year, they just couldn't expect to compete on an even keel with the bigger schools. Now they'll play only in the Village league and it will mean a better deal for them.

JENKINS IS STOPPED

Only two days after a reporter for the New York World Telegram and Sun wrote a story about Charley Jenkins, the hottest thing in Westchester County, this great star was practically shutout by a great New Rochelle defense. Jenkins had scored 12 touchdowns and gained more than 600 yards in three games prior to the New Rochelle meeting. So what happened? The Huguenots held him to 102 yards along the turf and to a solitary extra point as White Plains fell, 32-22. This does not alter the opinion of your reporter that Jenkins is one of the most outstanding football players he has seen in the past decade.

RICHARD IS THE BEST

Those who might have picked up the Newburgh-Middletown High School game on the radio last Saturday would have heard a familiar voice doing the play by play. It was Dick McCarthy, the local jack-of-all-trades, who was "loaned" to the Hilly City station for a day. Bo Gill, in a recent column, said he will put McCarthy on line with any big announcer and we second that statement. . . . Speaking of the Middies, chances are they'll come into Kingston on Nov. 11 still unbeaten. They meet A. B. Davis of Mt. Vernon this week and are at Union-Endicott next week. Those clubs can hardly be called powerhouses. . . . Biggest shock last week had to be Roosevelt's 12-8 upset of Beacon. The Bulldogs figured to romp but they fell behind on the first play of the game and didn't catch up.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

Continuing our former All-DUSO teams, the 1951 club looked like this. The ends were Sam Leghorn of Newburgh and Eddie Gattine of Poughkeepsie. At the tackle slots were Ira Conklin and Frank Crosetta of Newburgh and the guards were Tom Ponessa and Bob Howard of Newburgh. Bruce Hinkley of Kingston was at center. In the backfield were Richie Spreet of NFA at quarterback, Dick Shewchuck of Port Jervis and Leroy Johnson of Poughkeepsie at halfbacks and Don Jackson of Newburgh at fullback.

Pasadena Rose Bowl Road Is Seen Wide Open Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The road to the 1962 Pasadena Rose Bowl is wide open.

That goes for any of the five schools in the Athletic Association of Western Universities, one of which will be the host at the annual New Year's Day classic.

And the door is open to any school in the nation which might be interested and is deemed Rose Bowl quality.

The AAWU, or so-called Big Five, successor to the late Pacific Coast Conference, in effect owns the post-season game.

The AAWU championship race at this stage is strictly a toss-up.

AAWU executive director Tom Hamilton recently reiterated that the 1962 game and the invited team will be handled in the same manner as a year ago.

There is no formal or informal agreement with the Big Ten. Minnesota was invited to the last Pasadena engagement simply because the Big Five and their championship team, the Washington Huskies, felt the Golden Gophers would provide a good contest.

As matters stand in the Big Ten, one of its schools can accept a Rose Bowl invitation. But it must be invited.

The same open-door policy applies around the country.

Two Ski Centers In Greene Plan To Open Season

Two Greene County ski centers are making plans for the coming season. Many boarding houses in the area are also getting ready for the winter season, several houses in the Hunter and Windham areas will cater to the ski guests.

Siegfried Faller, general manager, said the Hunter Mountain Ski Bowl will be opened "as soon as possible," using snow machines up to the mid-section. The snow machines will provide more than 1,000 feet of artificial snow.

A new intermediate trail, running from the mid-section to the base, is now being completed at Hunter Ski Bowl.

One of the Hunter area resorts which has been tied-in with Hunter Ski Bowl to provide lodging and services is Villagio Itali, a Haines Falls resort which will provide lodging, meals and transportation to and from the slope.

Cave Mountain Ski Area at Windham is aiming to open December 17, general chairman Whit Mauzy reports. A few new ski trails have been added and a new rope tow installed. The slope, considered a "family slope" for beginners and intermediates, will not open before December 15 whether there is snow or not, Mauzy announced. This decision was made in view of the fact that not many people are interested in skiing until just before Christmas when schools close and holiday vacations begin.

Ron Santo Chosen Best Second-Year National Leaguer

By JACK HEWINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The National League sophomore of the year refilled his visitors' coffee cups and said he believed nice guys can succeed, too.

"You hear it repeated everywhere that an athlete has to be mean to get ahead," Ron Santo said today. "I don't believe it. Determined, yes; nasty, no."

The smile Santo wore as he talked to reporters in his suburban apartment was even broader than usual. The 21-year-old third baseman of the Chicago Cubs had just learned of his selection in the annual Associated Press poll as his league's best second-year player of 1961.

A determined Santo earned the honor in his third year of professional baseball. He made the jump from Franklin High School in Seattle to the major leagues after spending only one season in the minors.

"I'm sure surprised," he admitted. "I thought Gordy Coleman would get it." (Coleman, Cincinnati Reds first baseman, placed third behind pitcher Ray Sadecki of St. Louis in the voting).

Becoming sophomore of the year was not on the list, he admitted, when he set his goals for 1961: To bat .300, hit 20 home runs and bat in 80 runs. He finished with 83 RBI and 23 homers, but his average was .284. Midway in the season he was hitting .330.

He went into a bad slump but pulled out of it with the aid of Rogers Hornsby, former batting coach of the Cubs.

Hornets Still Seeking First Hockey Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Hornets came oh, so close, but are still looking for their first American Hockey League victory.

The Hornets, who haven't even tied this season, came from behind a 3-0 deficit, took a 4-3 lead, then lost 5-4 in overtime to Cleveland Wednesday night. It was Pittsburgh's sixth straight loss.

In the only other game, Hershey broke out of a three-way tie and took sole possession of the Eastern Division lead with a 7-4 verdict over defending champion Springfield.

The game was marred by an eight-minute fight and an attack on an official.

The fight broke out in the second period after Pete Conacher scored the key goal, giving Hershey a 4-2 lead. Don Cherry smashed him into the boards after the shot, and players from both teams charged onto the ice for a free-for-all.

Late in the game Springfield defenseman Kent Douglas struck linesman Don Foreman with his fist, then cracked him over the head with his stick.

Hoppman, Iowa State's Tailback Is a Natural

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anyone in the professional ranks is looking for a triggerman for a shotgun offense, contact Dave Hoppman of Iowa State sometime after Jan. 1, 1963. This guy is a natural.

He is the tailback in Coach Clay Stapleton's single wing offense, which means he handles the ball on most offensive plays.

As a sophomore last year, the 6-foot-1, 178-pounder from Madison, Wis., lead the Big Eight in rushing with 844 yards, which was also an Iowa State record. However, in 1960 he had fullback Tom Watkins for company and the two made a dynamic pair.

With Watkins gone this year, Hoppman has had to fight off the charges of a pair of talented sophs, Ozzie Clay and Dave Hoover. Maybe this pair inspired him, for he has gained 750 yards in five games, 446 rushing and 304 passing as the Cyclones have won three of the five.

He scored both touchdowns in a 14-7 victory over Oklahoma State and gained 113 yards in a 21-15 victory over Oklahoma, during which Clay scored twice and Hoover once.

Now with Clay sidelined for the year with a knee injury and Hoover as his relief, Hoppmann will be called on to do even more.

And how much more can a person do if he is already ranked fourth nationally in individual total offense and fifth in rushing offense?

Kansas State will get the answer this weekend when it faces the Cyclones.

Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team, is almost sure of not having the services of centers Mike Currie and Tom Jordan, and defensive specialist Rocky Ryan against Indiana in its Big Ten game this week.

Iowa's Hawkeyes, early season favorites for the Big Ten title, lost quarterback Wilburn Hollis for the season. Hollis broke a bone in his wrist in the Hawkeyes second game.

Coach Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin indicated that he may alternate quarterbacks Ron Miller and John Fabry in Saturday's nationally televised game against Ohio State.

Alabama's Pace Matched Twice In 16 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Alabama's stern defense is operating at a pace that has been matched only twice in the last 16 years, the NCAA Service Bureau said today.

The Crimson Tide has given up only 44.6 yards per game on the ground and 107.8 over-all, leading the nation's major colleges in both categories.

The NCAA said that only two teams in the past 16 years have presented equivalent credentials at mid-season. In 1959, Syracuse limited its first five opponents to 28 yards a game on the ground and 100.2 over-all. Twelve years earlier, Penn State allowed its first five opponents only 10.2 yards rushing and 69 over-all.

Other major college defense leaders this week are Nebraska and Pennsylvania, which share honors in pass defense, Arizona State with the top punting average (43.1 yards a kick), and Michigan State and Ohio State, the stingiest giving up points.

Michigan State and Ohio State each has allowed only 10 points in four games.

Deer Hunting Prospects Good, Big Take Expected in Ulster

Albert G. Hall, chief of the Bureau of Game in the State Conservation Department, said today that depending largely on weather, New York's deer take this year is expected to equal or even exceed last year's take of 45,755.

The big-game season opened Wednesday in the Northern Zone, and November 20 in the Southern Zone except for Westchester County where archers only can hunt deer beginning November 1.

Deer herds are on the increase in many parts of the State, Hall said, and in order to hold down their numbers, the party permit system has been extended to eight new counties this year (Albany, Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Chemung, Schuyler, Steuben, Tioga).

Under the permit system, a party of four hunters is allowed one bonus deer of either sex per party in addition to the one-buck-per-hunter allowed under the regular big-game license. The party permits have been issued for six designated areas in the Adirondacks, Catskills or Southern Tier.

A beechnut crop failure is expected to improve deer-hunting prospects in both the Catskills and Adirondacks because, unlike last year, the herds will be more scattered instead of tending to concentrate on the beech ridges for food. However, the poor mast crop may have an adverse affect on bear hunting. Without a surplus of food readily available, the bruins — depending on weather—may go into hibernation earlier than last year, Mr. Hall said.

Regionally, big-game prospects during the coming season in Regions 7 and 8 are as follows:

REGION 7 (Albany, Columbia, Delaware, Greene, Montgomery, Otsego, Rensselaer, Schnectady, Schoharie Counties)

Regional Supervisor of Fish and Game John D. Gould of Stamford reports that deer-hunting prospects are good throughout the region. Populations are generally high; in fact, a starvation problem developed last winter in the southern part of Delaware County. The party permit system is designed to help hold deer numbers to the approximate level of last year.

The chances that a big-game hunter will harvest a bear in this region are rather remote, Mr. Gould says. Last year, a total of 112 bears were taken in the Catskills. In Region 7, the best bear hunting was in Greene County, with some taken in Delaware and a few in Orange. The bruins are usually bagged by deer hunters who accidentally meet with a bear.

Recently, four tagged bears were released in Greene County. A $25 reward will be paid to the sportsman who returns to the State Conservation Department the skull and eartags of any of these bears, along with information as to where and when the kill was made.

REGION 8 (Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster, Westchester Counties)

Regional Supervisor of Fish and Game Warren H. McKeon at Poughkeepsie reports that deer-hunting prospects are good, with more deer in some areas than the winter range can support. In Sullivan and Ulster Counties, the deer take may be as high as last year's record harvest. Deer numbers in Dutchess and Orange Counties are about the same as last year, and appear to be slightly down in Putnam.

In Westchester County, bow-and-arrow hunters only may take one deer of either sex between Nov.-Dec. 31 under the special archery license or the regular big-game license.

Bear populations in this region appear to be slightly up from last year, Mr. McKeon says, with best hunting in Ulster and Sullivan Counties, as usual.

Personnel Director Of Buffalo Bills

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Lou Saban, ex-head coach of the Boston Patriots, Wednesday night was named director of player personnel of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

Bills' owner Ralph Wilson said Saban would be responsible for preparing the club's 1961 draft list of top collegiate players.

Saban was fired as head coach of the Patriots Oct. 10. He was succeeded in the job by his former assistant, Mike Holovak.

Saban's football background includes playing days at the University of Indiana and with the Cleveland Browns of the All-America Conference, and coaching jobs at Case Institute, Northwestern and Western Illinois University before joining the Pats.

Mantle Was Toughest Batter, Says Schwall

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Schwall, a lanky right-handed pitcher, wasn't even on the Boston Red Sox roster at the start of spring training. But by the time the 1961 baseball season had ended, Don Schwall was a bonafide major leaguer—a 15-game winner as a rookie.

"Mickey Mantle was the toughest batter I faced," Schwall said today, "but forturately I had good results with Roger Maris. I pitch most of the batters low and away and therefore I don't give up too many homers."

Schwall, a 23-year-old Oklahoman, allowed just eight homers in 178 2-3 innings. Maris didn't hit any off him and Mantle had just one. Schwall's over-all won-lost record was 15-7 and he was 2-2 against the world champion Yankees. His ERA was 3.27.

It was the Pistons' home opener and the Lakers' Elgin Baylor and Jerry West gave 5,157 fans quite a show.

Baylor pumped in 36 points and West contributed 33 in boosting Los Angeles to a 3-1 record in the young season. Detroit is now 0-2 and joins St. Louis and Chicago in the division cellar.

Detroit scoring was led by Bailey Howell with 33.

All other NBA teams were idle. Action resumes tonight with two games in New York. St. Louis meets Syracuse and Cincinnati plays New York.

Governors to Have Say on Fate of East Railroads

NEW YORK (AP)—The financial plight of Eastern railroads appeared today on its way to becoming a testing ground for state governors aspiring to greater influence in national affairs.

If this develops, it could result in important new exposure to a nationwide audience for GOP New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, widely credited with White House ambitions in 1964.

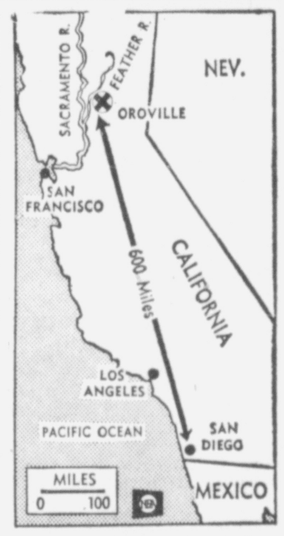
Ten governors who heard railroad men spell out their woes and appeal for help in solving them took no direct action Wednesday. But their spokesman vowed not to let the matter drop.

Instead, Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire,chairman of the National Governors' Conference, said he plans steps to give the 50 state leaders a voice in the fate of any solution recommended by President Kennedy next year.

The President has said he will offer in January a prescription for the ills of the transport industry generally. It is generally conceded that the root of the trouble lies in national policy, or the lack of it, rather than on the state level.

Powell said he will urge the Executive Committee of the Governors' Conference to poll the entire group on the forthcoming administration proposals and to follow up aggressively in terms of whatever the canvass reveals—support or disfavor.

The Executive Committee meets in Chicago next month and again in mid-January shortly after the presidential message to Congress is expected.



BIGGEST DAM—Work has started at Oroville Dam, which will store water from the Feather River for transmission 600 miles to San Diego and southern California. The 735-foot-high dam (20 feet higher than Hoover Dam) will cost about $490 million. When finished in 1968, it will be the highest earth-fill dam in the world and store enough water to meet San Diego County's needs for the next 18 years.

WELLSVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Carl F. Bissell, 32, of Wellsville, was killed today when struck by a 22-caliber bullet while hunting south of this Western New York village, State Police said.

Investigators said the bullet came from a rifle in the hands of Ernest J. Brown, 29, also of Wellsville. They quoted Brown as saying he fired one shot at a squirrel and did not see Bissell crouched in some brush nearby.

TRASH CAN CAUSE A FLOOD?

Tomorrow's devastating flood may start today—from sparks from your backyard trash fire!

Winds can carry sparks across your neighbor's land—to set fire to woods and brushland. And, too often, the grim aftermath of that forest fire is flood. Land burned bare of protective trees, brush and leaves cannot hold rain water. The runoff becomes a flood—spreading destruction, even death. Rich soil is washed away. Seared acres are left to erode into wastelands.

And all this in addition to the primary fire loss in homes, grazing lands and wild life!

So check local regulations before you burn trash—be sure fire can't spread—don't burn on dry or windy days—never leave fire unattended.

Remember—only YOU can prevent forest fires!

If at first you don't succeed you'll get a lot of unwanted advice.

Now and then you find a man is foolish enough to expect to have something to say about his own wedding.

When some after-dinner speakers wind up their speeches it's the audience that should say "I thank you."

OFFICE CAT

Trade Mark Reg.

By Junius

Traffic Officer (sarcastically to the speeding motorist)—Going to a fire?

Motorist—W-well, not exactly. Just trying to prevent one.

Officer—Yes, and how were you going to do that?

Motorist—Well, the boss said that's what he'd do if I were late again, and I was hurrying to get to the office in time.

Economist—Expert who can tell you what to do with your money after you've done something else with it.

A man appeared at a newspaper office to place an ad offering $100 for the return of his wife's pet cat.

Clerk—That's an awfully high price for a cat.

Man—Not for this one, I drowned it.

Policeman (after the collision)—You saw this lady driving toward you. Why didn't you give her the road?

Motorist—I was going to, as soon as I could discover which half she wanted.

Don't knock the weather; nine-tenths of the people couldn't start a conversation if it didn't change once in a while.

Thank heaven this is still a free country, where a man can do as his wife pleases.

* * *

Tom's mother-in-law came to pay the family a short visit and she liked it so well that she stayed a whole year. She talked without letup from morning till night. At first Tom tried to get a word in edgewise, but finally he gave up. After she had gone away little Tommy said to his father:

Little Tommy—Dad, what was it you started to say last spring?

Small Boy—Mayn't I be a preacher when I grow up?

Mother—Of course you may, my pet, if you want to.

Small Boy—Yes I do. I s'pose I've got to go to church all my life, anyway, and it's a good deal harder to sit still than to stand up and holler.

The easiest way for a driver to lose control of a car is to forget to make the payments.

Driver Ditches Trailer, He Says, To Avoid Crash

A tractor trailer was damaged, but the driver escaped injury this morning on Route 28 in Mt. Tremper when he swung into a ditch in an effort to avoid an oncoming car in his lane.

The Sheriff's Department said George M. Schlegel, 45, of Fishkill, told them he was going around a right curve, heading north about 8:35 a. m. when the other vehicle suddenly appeared on the right side of the highway. He swung the big van into the ditch, traveled 40 feet and rammed into two stone posts on a culvert about a quarter mile south of the Mt. Pleasant road. The trailer came to rest across the highway. The other driver didn't stop, according to Deputy Sheriffs Earl Conro, Thomas Mayone and John Seaholm.

The tractor-trailer which received front end and cab damages is owned by Anchor Motor Freight, Inc. of Tarrytown.

10-Week Contract Given Miss Utah For Movie Part

Carolyn Lasater, who came in third in this year's "Miss America" contest as Miss Utah, has won the first prize, a Warner Bros. contract, in the Fairchild Camera Screen Test Contest.

The 19-year-old blue-eyed blonde submitted a film screen test in sound which was made in her hometown with a Fairchild movie camera, an 8mm camera that takes sound and picture at the same time.

Her contract casts her in the picture "Lovers Must Learn," now in production, starring Troy Donahue, Suzanne Pleshette and Rossano Brazzi. She leaves for Hollywood immediately to appear in the film.

Miss Lasater was flown from her home in Salt Lake City to receive her contract at a reception in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City, today.

Bernard R. Goodman, executive vice president of Warner Bros., and Sherman Fairchild, chairman of the Fairchild Camera and Instrument Co., presented her with the 10-week contract which pays $3,000 and has a renewal option.

Carolyn Lasater was selected from among contestants throughout the country who sent their homemade screen tests, which they filmed themselves, for judging by a board of Hollywood talent scouts.

The two runners-up in the Fairchild Camera-Warner Bros. Screen Test Contest were William Allemeier, age 19, of Delphos, Ohio, now in Germany where his father is an officer in the U. S. Armed Forces and 24-year old Lynn Borden of Oakland, Calif., who was Miss Arizona in a recent Miss America contest.

Both runners-up will receive a week's all-expense trip to Hollywood in December and will have a guaranteed appearance in a Warner Bros. movie, TV filmed program, or both.

Glusker Speaks At Greene Event

In his talk, Mayor Glusker told the group he was first attracted to the Democratic party by the fact that "it was only during the Democratic administration that any sort of social legislation was even discussed or passed into law."

85 Areas Served By State Council Migrant Ministry

The New York State Council of Churches' Migrant Ministry served in 85 communities of New York State this past summer, according to the Rev. Charles W. Ackley, director of migrant ministry, in his report to the annual meeting of the migrant commission of the state council yesterday.

The Commission, meeting at the Protestant Center, Syracuse, heard reports of the migrant ministry being done throughout New York State by 26 area committees with a staff of 36 chaplains and five student teams. The Rev. Mr. Ackley noted that 645 volunteers supplemented the work of chaplains and student teams.

Even with this staff and volunteers it was pointed out that only a little over half of the migrants in the state were reached with the council's ministry. Under the direction of chaplains and volunteers Sunday Schools and Vacation Church Schools were held. Worship services were a regular part of the ministry. Other activities were held. Other activities included recreational progress and counseling.

Area Experiments Tried

It was revealed that two significant experiments in the migrant ministry are being carried on. Suffolk County used local ministers on a volunteer basis instead of paid staff. This type of ministry offers closer relations between the local community and churches than ordinarily pertains with paid staff. The experiment is new, says the State Council Director, that it needs further trial before assessing the long run value.

In Wayne County, in addition to the chaplain, an "adoption plan" was initiated. Local churches adopted a camp for the season and provided ministry and program in cooperation with the chaplain. Spokesman for the New York State Council of Churches pointed out that this has the advantage of making possible integration of the migrant into the local church community.

The migrant commission took note of need to expand the churches' ministry to reach a larger number than presently. The call goes out for the organization of local and area committees to help meet the need. The Commission noted the experiments in Suffolk and Wayne Counties with suggestion of similar experments be tried in other areas to supplement the ministry.

Saugerties Man Hurt in Cave-in Of Concrete Wall

A 54-year-old village of Saugerties man was seriously injured Wednesday afternoon when a 16-foot wall of concrete blocks fell, crushing him to the pavement during excavation work at Brink's American Gas station on Malden Avenue and Main Street, Saugerties.

Edward C. Gardner of 11 Bennett Avenue, Saugerties, was reported in serious condition at noon today in Kingston Hospital.

Police Chief Arthur W. Richter said Gardner suffered four fractured ribs and two fractured toes, and was treated at the scene by Dr. Richard Wenger, who ordered him removed to the hospital.
